Extension Strengthens Nebraska by Extending the University’s Research-Based Resources

Land-grant universities work with the people they serve. University of Nebraska–Lincoln teaches, discovers new knowledge through research, and extends this research-based information across the state through extension programs.

UNL Extension in Lancaster County develops and delivers educational programs which strengthen individuals, families, businesses and communities. For example:

- Last year, more than 16,000 youth participated in the Lancaster County 4-H Youth Development Program.
- A survey of participants at “Ten Easy Ways to Save $20 per Acre” workshops in 2006 last year estimated an increased profit of $49.79 per acre as the result of changes they will implement.
- Now in its seventh year, the Nutrition Education Program School Enrichment Kits have increased nutrition education in participating classrooms from 2 hours to 10.5 hours per year. Teachers have noticed students choosing healthier eating habits.
- To date, the Biosolids Land Application Program has saved the City of Lincoln more than $3.6 million in landfill tipping fees and saved farmers an estimated $5.8 million in fertilizer costs.
- Our staff responded to over 25,400 phone calls, walk-ins and e-mails from the public requesting information.
- Our Web site continued to expand exponentially, receiving more than 8.2 million hits this year.

New This Year

Guardianship Trainings
In 2003, a grassroots task force identified a need for improved statewide education of newly-appointed Guardians and Conservators, and asked UNL Extension to coordinate development of trainings. UNL Extension began presenting statewide Guardianship Trainings in January 2006. The trainings fulfill mandated guardian/conservator education requirements set by the Nebraska Supreme Court. Over 200 people attended trainings in Lancaster County this year.

Community Visioning Process for Village of Firth
Three extension educators facilitated a Community Visioning Process for the Village of Firth to help the community shape their future. The process included two town hall meetings, 10 listening sessions with 139 citizens, community research and written input. Information from the efforts will eventually be used by a private consulting firm to develop a new comprehensive plan which will guide future land development.

MyPyramid PowerPoint Presentations Developed
This year, Extension Educator Alice Henneman developed six PowerPoint presentations to help teach people how to use the new MyPyramid to plan a healthy diet. These were used in local programs and also made available to other educators via the Internet. The PowerPoint presentations have been downloaded 12,576 times, greatly expanding the outreach of our office.

4-H Partners with Lincoln After-School Programs
This past year, Lancaster County 4-H began collaborating with Lincoln after-school programs. Currently, 14 after-school programs and six summer sites have actively partnered with 4-H, involving more than 1,600 youth. Many of the sites have incorporated 4-H curriculum into their activities. Seven sites formed 4-H clubs; 4-H also worked with sites to involve after-school youth in the Lancaster County Fair.

Investigating Bed Bug Infestations in Lincoln
In 2005, Extension Educator Barb Ogg started seeing increased numbers of bed bug infestations in Lincoln, which had been rare for decades. Using photographs from infested homes, in 2006, she developed educational materials and has given presentations to pest control and hospitality professionals.

Partners with Nebraska
University of Nebraska–Lincoln Extension helps Nebraskans put knowledge to work. Extension has offices throughout the state providing counties with a readily available resource for information. Because extension staff are locally based, we are able to be responsive to specific community needs and concerns. Extension engages residents by utilizing multiple educational delivery methods. In addition to direct outreach, extension reaches a broader audience by teaching individuals, who in turn, teach others. This includes business professionals, service industry workers, health professionals, teachers, childcare providers, government employees, master gardeners and volunteers.

UNL Extension in Lancaster County collaborates with more than 125 agencies, organizations, businesses and school systems to develop and deliver educational programs. We value our community partnerships as a way to leverage our resources and reach even more people. Through this annual report, we invite you to take an in-depth look at our accomplishments over the past year.
University of Nebraska–Lincoln Extension accomplishes the University’s land-grant mission by extending reliable, research-based information to the public for use in everyday life. Extension utilizes multiple delivery methods to impact people in Lancaster County and beyond, 24 hours a day.

16,000 Youth Participate in Lancaster County 4-H

The University of Nebraska–Lincoln Extension 4-H youth development program is open to all youth ages 5–19. Emphasis is on teaching practical skills and developing life skills through learning-by-doing. In the past year, 4-H reached more than 16,000 youth in Lancaster County.

Lancaster County 4-H consists of several components:

• Organized Clubs — Lancaster County has more than 130 4-H clubs which range from 5 to 70 members. Each club is led (or co-led) by adults. Youth choose officers to run meetings. Clubs usually participate in one or more projects together.

• Independent Members — With increasingly busy schedules, more and more youth are becoming independent 4-H members. Youth work on 4-H projects on their own.

• Projects — Youth can choose from more than 150 projects. Project manuals are written by university experts.

• School Enrichment — 4-H programs for classrooms include: Garbology (2nd grade), Embryology (3rd grade), Ag Awareness Festival (4th grade), Earth Wellness Festival (5th grade) and Nutrition Education Program (K–5th grades).

• After-School Programs — Several Lincoln after-school programs have incorporated 4-H projects into their activities. A few sites have formed 4-H clubs.

• 4-H Embryology Web Site — EG Cameron and other resources at http://lancaster.unl.edu/4h/Embryology.

• Educational Events — 4-H staff organize several educational events each year, such as Clover College, speech workshops and leader trainings.

• Leadership Opportunities — 4-H Teen Council, 4-H Council, Citizenship Washington Focus group and more.

Lancaster County Fair

Many 4-H youth choose to exhibit their finished project(s) at the county and state fairs. A total of 4,473 4-H/FEA exhibits were showcased at the 2006 Lancaster County Fair. New this year was an Archery Range, Cattle Fitting Contest and several new projects (Quilt Quest, Model Vehicles, Fast Foods and Youth in Motion).
