Nebraska Chapter GAMMA SIGMA DELTA Newsletter

Issue #47, Fall 2013

President's Message

Dear Gamma Sigma Delta members,

What a difference a year makes. Also, the diversity in climatic conditions in Nebraska was evident this year. Some areas received ample moisture while others struggled.

Dr. Dennis Brink is on the officer team at International Gamma Sigma Delta, and he and the officer team met in Lincoln this summer. Nebraska will host the GSD Conclave in June of 2014. Plan to participate in the conclave as it will be packed with outstanding learning opportunities.

Our annual meeting and seminar is scheduled for October 10, 2013. Dr. Ken Cassman will be the seminar presenter. We have asked Dr. Cassman to address the topic of feeding nine billion people with less water and land. As you think about this tall task you think about the importance of the development of technology and the re-packaging and transferring this technology to the people that will implement it into management strategies. The world that we interact with today is much different than 10, 20, and 30 years ago. The backbone of our organization is how our members contribute to the understanding and furthering of agriculture and natural resources, human sciences, and biological engineering.

The 2014 Initiation and Awards Banquet date is set for January 26, 2014. Help us identify people that should be initiated into Gamma Sigma Delta. In addition, help identify deserving undergraduate and graduate students that we need to recognize their accomplishments. We also need to identify deserving faculty in the areas of research, teaching, and extension that we need to recognize.

The University of Nebraska and IANR is in the midst of hiring more faculty than I can remember in my tenure. As new faculty become members of your department, ask them if they are members of GSD and if they are, encourage them to be active members of our Nebraska Chapter. If they are not members of GSD, consider nominating them.

Look forward to seeing you this fall and the spring of 2014.

Rick Rasby

GSD Nebraska Chapter President

Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student Award Fund

Your Nebraska Chapter of Gamma Sigma Delta has established a fund at the University of Nebraska Foundation to allow us to expand our recognition of high standards of scholarship to the graduate student ranks. The Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student Award Fund was initiated with a $750 grant from the International Gamma Sigma Delta organization. The fund is an expendable fund at this time; however, our goal is to raise $25,000 to endow it permanently. Your contributions will assist us in reaching this goal.

A Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student Award Selection Committee will organize the application and selection process. Graduate students in Human Sciences, Agriculture and related sciences who have demonstrated outstanding accomplishment in their teaching, research, or extension endeavors, and great promise for future academic contributions in their field of expertise are eligible.

Please send your donations to the University of Nebraska Foundation at 1010 Lincoln Mall, Suite 300, Lincoln, NE 68508 with the pledge form on page 16. Questions? Contact Kevin Meyer at kmeyer@nufoundation.org.

Gamma Sigma Delta Membership Renewal

We are counting on your continuing support of our honorary society. Memberships are calendar based (starting in January). If you have not previously submitted 2013 dues, please use the renewal form on page 17. Retired members and previous Gamma Sigma Delta Award of Merit recipients are exempt from dues. People who have prepaid 2013 dues were listed in the Spring 2013 Newsletter (available at <http://go.unl.edu/5qj>). Note: New members who were inducted in 2013 are prepaid through December 31, 2013.

In Memoriam

Dr. Roy A. Young, 91, UNL chancellor from 1976-80, died April 19, in Corvallis, Oregon.

During his time at UNL, Young oversaw the College of Dentistry's move to the University of Nebraska Medical Center. It was also at Young's recommendation in 1979 that the School of Journalism, now known as the College of Journalism and Mass Communications, become separate from the College of Arts and Sciences. Upon his arrival in Lincoln from Oregon State University, Young was charged with increasing research activity and outside funding, and by 1980 UNL achieved a record $30 million in grants, contracts, and gifts.

Young also was known for setting up a system of Faculty Development Fellowships, similar to sabbaticals that allowed qualified professors to go on leave for a semester or year at half pay. He also initiated UNL's affiliation with the National Merit Scholars program.

"We are saddened to learn of the death of former Chancellor Roy Young," Chancellor Harvey Perlman said. "A lifelong researcher, Chancellor Young presided over a period of change at UNL. He was a dedicated champion of the mission of the university, especially its research efforts and the quality of undergraduate education across UNL.

"His legacy at our university is still evident today."

Young was born the son of John A. Young and Etta J. (Sprinkle) Young on March 1, 1921, in McAlister, New Mexico, where he grew up on the family ranch. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from New Mexico State University and his Master of Science degree in 1942 from Iowa State University.

Young was a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, serving as a deck officer, navigator, antisubmarine warfare officer, and executive officer in the Atlantic and Pacific areas of operation from 1942 to 1946. He served in the Navy Reserve from 1946 to 1954 and was promoted to the rank of lieutenant commander. He returned to Iowa State following the end of World War II, and was awarded his doctoral degree in plant pathology and botany in 1948.

From 1948 to 1976, Young was a professor at Oregon State University, serving as head of the department of botany and plant pathology from 1958 to 1966, dean of research from 1966 to 1969, acting president in 1969 and 1970, and vice president for research from 1970 to 1976. In 1985, Young received Oregon State's highest honor, the Distinguished Service Award.

He led efforts at UNL to increase the quality standards for student admissions and enhancement of the teaching and research programs of the campus. He departed UNL to accept the post of president and managing director of the prestigious Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research in Ithaca, New York, where he served from 1980 to 1986.

Young is survived by his wife of 63 years, Marilyn; and their two children, Janet of Merced, California; and Randall of Portland, his wife, Nancy, and their children, Katherine and Robert.

Private interment was held at River View Cemetery in Portland. The family suggests that in lieu of flowers, those wishing to make memorial contributions give to the charity of their choosing.
