I am pleased to present the fourth annual “Major Sponsored Program and Faculty Awards for Research and Creative Activity” report. This booklet highlights the successes of University of Nebraska–Lincoln faculty during 2005. The funding sources, projects and investigators on major sponsored program awards received during the year are listed, as well as patents issued, published books and scholarship, fellowships and other recognitions. New this year are intellectual property licenses and performances and exhibitions in the fine and performing arts. The list is impressive and continues to grow each year—further evidence the University of Nebraska–Lincoln is on the move!

We work to closely integrate our research priorities with our established programs of excellence. We are dedicated to fostering interdisciplinary research and collaborations with public and private partnerships, expanding our economic development efforts by working with business and industry.

This booklet reports only the largest dollar amounts as reported through our Office of Sponsored Programs. However, the majority of our research and creative activity is conducted by single investigators and scholars who are pioneering new frontiers across all fields. Many faculty obtain funding at levels below the significantly high thresholds set for inclusion in this report. This in no way diminishes their scholarly contributions and we are proud of all our faculty.

Thank you for your interest and support of research at UNL. We are on the move!

Blast Wave Absorbing Structures: an Experimental & Modeling Program

$7,500,000

6/25/04 – 6/24/09

DOD-Army Research Laboratory

David Allen, dean of the College of Engineering and professor of engineering mechanics, with funding from the Army Research Laboratory-Weapons and Materials Research Directorate, directs a collaborative effort focused on development of new materials and technologies relevant to blast mitigation and weapons detection. The program includes 24 UNL faculty from six different departments—civil engineering, structural engineering, Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering, electrical engineering, engineering mechanics and mechanical engineering—working on 15 multidisciplinary projects. The projects have the common objective of providing new materials and technologies for blast mitigation, mine detection and pathogen detection.

Banerjee, Ruma

Biochemistry

Redox Biology Center

$10,190,697

9/30/02 – 8/31/07

DHHS-NIH-NCRR

Ruma Banerjee, George Holmes University Professor of Biochemistry in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, is the director of the Redox Biology Center. The center was established in 2002 with a grant from the National Institutes of Health as a Center of Biomedical Research Excellence. The center's researchers investigate how cells maintain a reduction-oxidation balance, a process called redox homeostasis, and study links between redox homeostasis and diseases such as cancer, cardiovascular disease, Alzheimer's disease and cataracts. The center's research will provide important advances in the understanding of redox regulation, comprising aspects of cellular aging and controlled cell death.

Epstein, Michael

Special Education and Communication Disorders

Center for Behavior and Reading

$4,498,231

10/1/01 – 9/30/06

Dept. of Education

Michael Epstein, William Barkley Professor of special education and communication disorders, and co-investigator Ron Nelson, associate research professor of special education and communication disorders, have established the Center for Behavior and Reading in the Center for At-Risk Children's Services to focus on implementing and evaluating reading and behavior intervention programs for school-aged children. The aim of their research is to assess the overall and intervention-specific effects of various programs on school, staff, child and family levels. The project is funded by the U.S. Department of Education and involves seven participating schools in Lincoln's public school system.

Fromm, Michael

Center for Biotechnology

A Protein Interaction Database for Rice Protein Kinases

$6,057,747

NSF

9/1/02 – 8/31/06

Michael Fromm, director of the Center for Biotechnology and a professor of agronomy and horticulture in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, is the Plant Genome Research Center's principal investigator. The center was established in 2002 with a grant from the National Science Foundation and involves scientists from six universities. Research at the center focuses on protein kinases of plants, in particular those of cereal crops. Protein kinases are enzymes that affect the way plants react to their environments. Manipulating kinases could provide a means of regulating the tolerance of plants to disease and environmental stresses, such as drought and temperature extremes.

$6,407,473

Dept. of Agriculture-RMA-FCIC

Wilhite, Donald

School of Natural Resources

9/1/05 – 8/31/08

Stephen Goddard

Stephen Goddard, associate professor of computer science and director of UNL's Laboratory for Advanced Research Computing, is principal investigator in a $6.4 million joint effort by climatologists and computer scientists to bring cutting-edge computer science technologies to agricultural producers' age-old decision-making processes. The three-year partnership agreements are between the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Risk Management Agency, UNL's Department of Computer Science and Engineering and the UNL-based National Drought Mitigation Center. A separate $1 million cooperative agreement, directed by Donald Wilhite, professor in the School of Natural Resources and director of the National Drought Mitigation Center, will support continued work on a tool that uses satellite technology and climate information to detect vegetation stress on the ground for a much more detailed view of drought's scope and potential impact.

Donald Wilhite

$12,978,160

NSF

Levy, Richard

Geosciences

6/1/05 – 5/31/10

David Harwood, professor of geosciences, leads an international team of scientists drilling beneath the Antarctic ice pack to unearth geological strata that could hold ancient clues to contemporary global warming trends. The National Science Foundation has awarded $12.9 million to a consortium of five U.S. universities headed by UNL and Northern Illinois University. Dubbed ANDRILL, (ANtartic geological DRILLing), the project is administered by the ANDRILL Science Management Office headquartered at UNL. ANDRILL is backed by more than $30 million in funding, including $9.7 million in previous and ongoing national agreements to support operations and nearly $8 million from the other countries to support scientific research. Other members of the U.S. consortium making up the American portion of the ANDRILL program are Florida State University, Ohio State University and the University of Massachusetts Amherst. The project also includes scientists from Germany, Italy and New Zealand.

Teaching, Learning and Teacher Education

Thomas McGowan

Teaching, Learning and Teacher Education

Barbara Jacobson

Lincoln Public Schools

8/01/04 – 7/31/09

Jim Lewis, professor of mathematics; Ruth Heaton, associate professor of teaching, learning and teacher education; Tom McGowan, professor of teaching, learning and teacher education; and Barbara Jacobson, curriculum director for Lincoln Public Schools, are co-leaders of a $5 million project titled the Math in the Middle Institute Partnership. The goal is to create the next set of leaders in middle school mathematics who will mentor peers and offer challenging courses to their students. During the five years of the project, about 120 teachers will participate in three in-residence summer sessions, four non-resident academic semesters and 10 take courses created by math and pedagogy experts. Middle school is a gateway to high school success, and efforts to improve middle school learning, especially in mathematics, show benefits at later stages in students’ academic careers.

Meagher, MichaelChemical and Biomolecular Engineering

Process Research & Development of Antibodies as Countermeasures for C. Botulinum Neurotoxin

$10,627,000

DOD-Army Medical Research

3/1/02 – 2/10/07

Michael Meagher, Donald F. Othmer professor of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering, is the director of the Biological Process Development Facility. The facility provides clients with process research and early manufacturing of new therapeutic molecules for human clinical testing. The facility is also involved in the development of vaccines against biological warfare agents and products that can be used as therapeutic countermeasures to treat people who have been exposed to biological agents. Department of Defense funding has led to the building of new laboratories that give the Biological Process Development Facility new capabilities in mammalian cell culture process research and development.

Fast-Track Production of a Heptavalent Botulinum Vaccine

$6,799,173

DynPort Vaccine Company

9/1/03 – 2/28/08

Meagher is also collaborating with DynPort Vaccine Co., the University of Colorado, and the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Disease to develop a vaccine that protects against botulinum neurotoxin, a lethal agent that could be used for bioterrorism. The goal is to develop vaccines that protect against five subtypes of the toxin within the next one to two years and to develop a vaccine for the other two types within five years. The new vaccines could eliminate the threat of botulism as a weapon of mass destruction.

Sellmyer, DavidCenter for Materials Research

Materials Research Science & Engineering
Center; Nanomagnetic Structures

$5,491,000

NSF

9/1/02 – 8/31/08

David Sellmyer, George Holmes Distinguished professor in the department of physics and astronomy at UNL, leads the Materials Research Science and Engineering Center. The center was established in 2002 with a grant from the National Science Foundation and involves scientists from the departments of physics and astronomy, chemistry and mechanical engineering, and the School of Biological Sciences. MRSEC projects focus on fabricating and studying new magnetic structures and materials at the nanometer scale. The research has applications in advanced computing and data storage, handheld electronic devices, advanced sensors and future medical technologies.

9/26/03 – 9/30/08

Edwards, Carolyn

Psychology

Susan M. Sheridan, Willa Cather professor of educational psychology, and co-investigator Carolyn Edwards, Willa Cather professor of psychology and family and consumer sciences, are leading a team of researchers from UNL and UNMC in a school-readiness project funded by three federal agencies.

The team will launch and evaluate a comprehensive, community-based early education program for children aged 0-5. The goal is to increase children's readiness for school by teaching parents to build an effective relationship with their children at home and to be active participants in their children's learning when they enter school. The program is designed to enhance children's cognitive, behavioral and socioemotional well-being, which together set the stage for school readiness.

Tomkins, AlanPublic Policy Center*Community-Based & Faith-Based Organization Partners in an Integrated System of Behavioral Health Care in Nebraska

$3,504,226

DHHS-Admin for Children & Families

9/30/02 – 3/31/06

Alan Tomkins, director of the Public Policy Center and professor of psychology and law, is leading a project funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The goal is to enhance and expand the capacity of community- and faith-based organizations to provide high-quality services as part of an integrated system of behavioral health care to rural and urban communities. Among the hoped-for outcomes is to address the problem of insufficient resources by tapping into the extensive network of community- and faith-based organizations who offer behavioral health care services. The project will be a model for other states to emulate in coordinating and integrating these groups into an effective delivery system.

Van Cott, Kevin

Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering

9/6/05 – 8/31/10

William Velander, Donald R. Voelte Jr. and Nancy A. Keegan Endowed Chair in Engineering, is principal investigator in a partnership funded by a $9.9 million grant from the National Institutes of Health/ National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute. The goal is to develop an abundant, pure, safe and effective therapy for Hemophilia B using recombinant human coagulation proteins produced in the milk of transgenic pigs. The project builds on innovative bioengineering technologies pioneered by Velander that enable improved intravenous and novel oral delivery of hemophilic factors to patients. Hemophilia B is a congenital bleeding disorder that causes pain, crippling injuries and early death. It can be treated by Factor IX, a blood protein, but the costs are prohibitive and most patients do not receive it. Velander's project isolates Factor IX in the milk of transgenic pigs.

Velander is also leading a project, funded by the Department of Defense, to develop processes to produce recombinant fibrinogen and other blood proteins for bandages and implant devices, and to conduct research and clinical trials on their effectiveness. The fibrinogen bandage is a potentially life-saving technology for patients who lose large amounts of blood. When applied, the bandage immediately begins clotting the wound, stemming blood loss. The technology could be used in battlefield or other applications where patients are hemorrhaging. Fibrinogen technology could also play a role in helping develop implantable devices with increased biological compatibility. Fibrinogen made from human plasma is scarce and expensive; Velander has developed a process for producing it from transgenic cattle bred with a human gene that enables them to produce fibrinogen.

The National Institute of Mental Health is funding a five-year project to identify precursors of mental disorders and to evaluate cultural risks and protective factors among a population of pre-teen Native children in the Upper Midwest area. A second project, funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse, is a five-year project to investigate risk and resilience for early onset substance use and abuse among pre-teen Native children in the same region.

Wood, CharlesBiological Sciences

* Nebraska Center for Virology

$10,354,057

DHHS-NIH-NCRR

9/26/05 - 4/30/10

Charles Wood, Lewis Lehr/3M University Professor of Biological Sciences, is the director of the Nebraska Center for Virology. The center, funded by the National Institutes of Health, combines the expertise and facilities of Nebraska's leading biomedical research institutions: UNL, the University of Nebraska Medical Center, and Creighton University. Center research addresses pathogenic and therapeutic aspects of some of the most devastating viral and neuroimmune disorders facing the global community, including AIDS, HIV-associated cancers, Alzheimer's disease and chronic infections caused by herpes viruses and a new class of infectious agents called prions.

International Sorghum/Millet Collaborative
Research Support Program (INTSORMIL)

$36,990,000

U.S. Agency for International Development

7/1/96 - 6/30/06

John Yohe, associate professor in the department of agronomy and horticulture, directs the International Sorghum/Millet (INTSORMIL) Collaborative Research Support Program. INTSORMIL is a collaborative international organization that supports research focused on improving nutrition and increasing income in developing countries and the United States. Scientists from U.S. land grant universities collaborate with scientists in host countries in the development of technology to improve production and utilization of sorghum and millet and facilitate natural resource management. Their work is done in Africa, Eurasia, Latin America and the United States.

NSF CAREER Grants

National Science Foundation CAREER grants are awarded only to untenured junior faculty. NSF emphasizes that the grants recognize research and education “of the highest quality and in the broadest sense.” CAREER grants are unique in requiring a four- to five-year plan for the scientist’s development as both a researcher and as an educator.

K Awards

National Institutes of Health K Awards provide support for intensive development experiences in one of the biomedical, behavioral or clinical sciences leading to research independence. Candidates for these awards normally must have a research or health-professional doctorate and postdoctoral research experience at the time of application. The proposed career-development experience must be in a research area new to the applicant and/or one in which an additional supervised research experience will substantially add to the applicant's research capabilities. Candidates must provide a plan for achieving independent research support by the end of the award, and must be willing to spend a minimum of .75 FTE conducting research and career development during the award three-, four-, or five-year project period.

Genre, Dialogue, and Community in British Romantic Fiction

$124,822

National Endowment for the Humanities

10/01/2004 – 9/30/2005

Stephen Behrendt, George Holmes Distinguished Professor of English, received a major award from the National Endowment for the Humanities to continue support of a summer seminar for university and college professors whose scholarship focuses on individual writers of the British Romantic Era (c. 1780-1840). The University Libraries has extremely strong primary and secondary holdings, including the Corvey Collection of Romantic era belles lettres. The seminar allows scholars access to the collection and enriches sustained dialogue about inter-genre connections, helps remap the landscape of the British Romantic era and advances future scholarship for applied curricular and pedagogical design.

Cahan, David

History

* A Biography of Hermann von Helmholtz

$80,625

NSF

1/1/2005 – 12/31/2006

David Cahan, Charles Bessey Professor and professor of history, is writing a full-scale, definitive biography of Hermann von Helmholtz (1821-1894), one of the major figures of modern science. The biography will provide a fresh account of Helmholtz's personal life within the context of his family, schooling and friends, and portray and analyze his working life as a scientist—principally as a physiologist and physicist, but also as a leader in other fields (chemistry, mathematics, psychology and meteorology), all within the context of German science. It will show how he represented the aims, results and image of science to the educated but otherwise non-scientific classes of Europe and America. It also will show the implications of contemporary science that he drew for the fine arts, medicine, industry and society at large. The extensive use of correspondence means the work will be the first new modern biography of Helmholtz as well as one of the most detailed biographies of a scientist ever published.

Kooser, TedEnglish American Life in Poetry Project

$50,000

Poetry Foundation

1/1/2005 - 1/31/2006

The Poetry Foundation, in partnership with the Library of Congress, supports the American Life in Poetry project, an initiative of Ted Kooser, the Poet Laureate Consultant in Poetry to the Library of Congress. American Life in Poetry is a free weekly column for newspapers and online publications featuring a poem written by a contemporary American poet, chosen by Kooser, with a brief introduction written by Kooser. The sole mission of this project is to promote poetry. The Poetry Foundation funds the project, with administrative support provided by the UNL English Department, where the project office is located.

Dee Ann Allison

12/1/01 - 11/30/05

Thomas Myers, curator of anthropology and professor of museum studies and anthropology, and Dee Ann Allison, chair of the Automated Systems Office and professor of libraries, are using a grant from the Institute of Museum & Library Services in a collaborative project to locate and catalog artifacts and photographic images of the Omaha tribe that are scattered in museums, libraries and private collections worldwide. The key program is development of a Website to make the resulting database of Omaha artifacts and an on-line gallery of images accessible to tribal members, educators, students and the general public. The Nebraska State Historical Society and members of the Omaha Tribe are partners with the NU State Museum and UNL Libraries in this project.

Price, KennethEnglish Walt Whitman Archive

$500,000

National Endowment for the Humanities

8/1/2005 - 3/31/2009

Ken Price, professor of English and Hillegass Chair of 19th Century American Literature, is principal investigator for a $500,000 We the People Challenge Grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The award is contingent on UNL acquiring a 3-1 match of $1.5 million in the next four years. When fundraising is completed, the $2 million establishes an endowment at the University of Nebraska Foundation, the proceeds of which provide permanent annual operating funding for the Walt Whitman Archive. The Whitman Archive is an electronic research and teaching tool that makes Whitman's huge body of work easily and conveniently accessible. Whitman amassed a huge volume of work during his life. Some 70,000 manuscripts are housed in about 80 locations, although the bulk is known to be in just five libraries. But the logistics of finding these various documents, let alone assessing and comparing their relevance and content, are daunting. The Archive allows scholars to search the entire body of Whitman's writings and scholarship on those works and offers scholarly analysis.

The Walt Whitman Hypertext Archive

$200,000 National Endowment for the Humanities
5/1/03 - 4/30/05

Price is also part of a project to produce The Walt Whitman Hypertext Archive, which will build on, enhance and contextualize the 22-volume Collected Writings of Walt Whitman by publishing a comprehensive on-line Walt Whitman archive Website. The project involves encoding all materials in the Collected Writings and editing, encoding, linking and annotating all remaining materials, including the vast archive of Whitman's poetry manuscripts.

Walter, Katherine

Libraries

 Interoperability of Metadata Standards for Digital Thematic Research Collections

$169,651 Institute of Museum and Library Services
11/1/2005 - 10/31/2007

Price, Kenneth English Libraries
Bolin, Mary Libraries
Barney, Brett Libraries

Katherine Walter, chair of special collections and preservation and professor of libraries, is principal investigator on a team hoping to develop guidelines that will serve as a model for the integration of standards used by scholarly digital projects and could influence future development. Metadata integration is an important but yet unattained goal for digital thematic research collections, which employ standards for transcriptions, digital images, finding aids and administrative records. These standards have been developed by different communities. The Metadata Encoding and Transmission Standard (METS) shows promise as a means of integrating various standards but no testing of METS has been done using digital thematic research as a model, thus ad hoc an idiosyncratic solutions have sprung up, with various unreliable results. UNL will create a METS profile to test its reliability and also submit the package to two digital library systems at Brown University and the University of Virginia.

Benjamin A. Botkin Collection-Preservation/Access

$97,435 National Endowment for the Humanities
7/1/01 - 6/30/06

Walter is also using a National Endowment for the Humanities grant to preserve a vast collection of materials from the Benjamin A. Botkin Collection of Applied American Folklore and microfilming it to improve its accessibility to scholars and the public. Botkin was national folklore editor of the Federal Writers Project and chief of the Library of Congress Archive of American Folk Song. The collection adds to the understanding of this discipline in development and it consists 8,000 books, 447 linear feet of archival materials and 700 recordings. The project preserves 291 linear feet on microfilm and also preserves 200 sound recordings made by Botkin himself.

Virtual Archive of Whitman's Manuscripts

$245,723

Institute of Museum & Library Services

Kenneth Price

English

11/1/01 – 10/31/05

Walter and Kenneth Price, professor of English and Hillegass Chair in 19th Century American Literature, are working with partner institution the University of Virginia to create a Virtual Archive of Walt Whitman's Manuscripts. This project, funded by the Institute of Museum & Library Services, will create a uniform web-based guide to Whitman's manuscripts (estimated at 70,000 items) with special scholarly enhancements of 4,300 poetry manuscripts at more than 60 institutions. The project is developing a technically innovative response to the complex scholarly problem of archival management, building a searchable database specific to the nature of Whitman materials and serving as a model for future scholar-archivist collaborations.

Implementation Grants for Special Projects— Journals of Lewis and Clark Online Edition

$222,177

National Endowment for the Humanities

Dunham, Gary

University Press

9/1/03–8/31/05

Walter and Gary Dunham, University of Nebraska Press director, are using a National Endowment for the Humanities grant to create an on-line edition of the Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, edited by Gary E. Moulton, UNL professor emeritus of History. The interdisciplinary team is drawn from the UNL Libraries, the University of Nebraska Press, and the Center for Great Plains Studies. The site will also feature supplementary texts relating to Euro-American and Native perspectives on the Lewis and Clark expedition, images, and audio files of poet William Kloefkorn reading selected passages. Online searchability will make the website a useful resource for scholars and the general public. The project is timed to coincide with the bicentennial commemoration of Lewis and Clark's expedition.
