Block & Bridle Club Emblem

The Block & Bridle Emblem is significant to club members of every age. It represents the principles on which this club is built. Character, sincerity, and a moral life are depicted in the straight perpendicular of the 'B' and are asked of the members when they join. The distinct curves of the 'B' are symbolic of the social pleasure, mental energy, and determination of members.

The meat block represents the material aspects of our life. The bridle stands for the behavior of Block & Bridle members, the control over ourselves that we try to maintain, the mannerisms and respect we show toward others, and the way in which we treat animals.

Purpose of the Club

On December 2, 1919, student representatives from four animal husbandry clubs met in Chicago, Illinois, and formed the National Block & Bridle Club. The local clubs became chapters in the new organization. Nebraska was a charter along with Iowa, Kansas, and Missouri. During this meeting, the chapters formed a constitution which included a statement of the clubs' objectives.

They are:

* To promote a higher scholastic standard among students of Animal Husbandry
* To promote animal husbandry, especially all phases of student animal husbandry work in colleges and universities
* To bring about a closer relationship among the men and women pursuing some phase of animal husbandry as a profession

Historian’s Welcome

March 26, 1999

Dear Members, Supporters, & Friends of the UNL Block & Bridle Club,

As another year draws to a close, I would like to ask you to take a moment to look back on the year that has passed. Our club saw some changes from previous years but we were still involved in numerous activities and events. Our members demonstrated what hard work, dedication, and teamwork can achieve, and they even managed to have a few laughs in the process. I am in hopes that this annual will successfully portray all of our year’s efforts and accomplishments.

I would also like to thank everyone who sponsored an advertisement in the annual, as well as those members who participated in the selling of ads. All of your help and support is deeply appreciated. Without it, this publication would not have been possible.

I am confident that Block & Bridle will continue to be a strong and successful organization at the University of Nebraska and our members will have quite an impact on the future of the animal agriculture industry.

In closing, I would like to leave you with a little quote. I chose this particular saying because I feel that it applies to everyone, no matter what your aspirations are or where your life leads you.

“It is good to have an end to journey toward, but it is the journey that matters in the end.”

-Unknown

Sincerely,

Renee McFee

Every semester, the Block & Bridle club hosts a kids’ day in the Animal Science arena. Children from the area day cares, preschools, and elementary schools are invited. They are given the opportunity to see a variety of animals that many of them have never been able to see up close.

Throughout the tour, Block & Bridle members take the kids and any accompanying adults around to the numerous stations set up in the arena. At each station, they are able to see a variety of different animals, including horses, cattle, pigs, sheep, dairy cows, chickens, quail, and mice. With the help of posters and other visuals, members give the children a little bit of information on each of the different species and try to answer any of the interesting questions the kids might have.

The 1998 Fall Kids’ Day was held on Wednesday, October 28th. Lindsey Deardorff and Cindy Zimmerman co-chaired the event. Approximately 330 kids and 80 adults attended from 17 day cares and schools.

The 1999 Spring Kids’ Day was held on Thursday, March 11th. Chairpersons for the event were Brent Pohlmann and Cindy Zimmerman. This time around, nearly 600 kids and 100 adults attended from 20 schools and day cares.

The Block & Bridle club would like to give a special thanks to Clyde Naber and all of the members who volunteered their time. Thanks to everyone’s help, hundreds of local kids and adults were able to enjoy two successfully-run kids’ days.
Big Red Beef Pit

An ongoing tradition at the Nebraska State Fair is the “Beef Pit,” organized and run by the Nebraska Cattleman’s Association. It has also become a tradition for the Block & Bridle Club to volunteer to help run the “Beef Pit.” The 1998 State Fair was no exception. On August 29th, several club members donated a few hours of their time to help take orders, serve food, and clean tables. Even though the “Beef Pit” organizers kept the B & B members busy, everyone was still able to have a good time. This year was another successful year for the “Beef Pit” and a big thank you goes out to all of those who’s hard work helped make it possible.

Christmas Luncheon

The final event of the fall semester was the 1998 addition of the annual Block & Bridle Christmas Luncheon. This year, it was held on the second floor of the Animal Science building on Friday, December 11th. All Animal Science faculty, staff, and majors, as well as all Little MAEC participants were invited to attend. The two chairpersons for this event were Brian Helms and Mike Scholz.

At the conclusion of the actual luncheon, the individual and team winners of the Little MAEC Market and Breeding Division were announced. The UNL judging teams were also acknowledged. Coaches and team members talked to the crowd about their upcoming activities.

The Christmas Luncheon chairpersons, as well as the entire Block and Bridle Club would like to thank everyone who attended. They would also like to give a special thanks to those who’s efforts were instrumental in providing the meal and those who helped acknowledge the contest winners.

Little Ak-Sar-Ben is an annual showmanship contest held by the Block & Bridle Club. It is open to any University of Nebraska student interested in competing. Each contestant is randomly assigned an animal a week before the contest. They have this entire week to work with and prepare their animal for the show.

Students can choose to show in beef, horse, swine, and/or sheep classes. Each of these species classes are divided into two divisions. The novice division is designed for those contestants who have no showmanship experience while the expert division is for those students who have had experience in showing with that particular species. The winner of each novice class then competes in the expert division for that species. The winner from the four expert classes compete against one another in a round robin contest in order to determine the overall champion.

The 1998 Little Ak-Sar-Ben contest was held on October 2nd in the Animal Science arena. Approximately 50 students entered in the contest. This year’s judges were Clyde Naber, swine; Dana Hanson, sheep; Becca Ross, horse; and Mark Allen, beef. All of the champions from the novice and expert divisions, the overall reserve champion, and the overall champion all received plaques. The plaques were donated by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben.

The committee chairs for the event were Brent Pohlmann and Travis Farran. They, along with all of the Block & Bridle members would like to thank each of the judges, the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, all of the contestants, and all of those who dedicated their time and energy towards making the show a success.
Little MAEC Contest:
Market & Breeding Division

This year's Little MAEC Market & Breeding Division was held on December 1st in the Animal Science Building. The event consisted of the evaluating of market and breeding cattle, hogs, and sheep. Any UNL student was invited to participate. The contest had two divisions - junior and senior. 115 students competed in the junior division and Patrick Fisher was the overall champion. The senior division had nine contestants with David Wilke as the overall champion.

The two chairpersons for the event were Doug Setlik and Bob Lantis. The event was judged by Keith Gilster, Dan Moser, and Wade Franklin. The Block & Bridle club would like to thank the judges, the contestants, and everyone whose time and effort helped make the contest a success. They would also like to thank everyone who attended the Block & Bridle Christmas Luncheon where all of the awards were presented to the overall and species champions for each division.

Little MAEC Contest: Meats Division

The meats division of Block & Bridle's annual Little MAEC contest was held on March 30th. The contest was held in conjunction with the Animal Science Department and was open to all UNL undergraduates. Contestants from both the junior and senior divisions had to place beef, pork, and lamb carcasses; hams; and retail beef ribeyes. They also had two classes where they tabulated the yield and quality grades for beef carcasses. After the classes, the participants answered questions on all of the placing classes except the ribeye class.

This year, 79 students competed in the junior division and Julie Peppie was the overall individual champion. The senior division had 13 participants and Megan Patent was the overall champion. The junior overall high-point team consisted of Kyle Eisenhauer, Tim Hoops, Nathan Panko, and Brandon Pohlmann.

The chairperson of the event was Renee McFee and the 2 officials were Ryan Baumert and Karen Killinger. The Little MAEC chairperson would like to thank everyone who participated in the contest and all of the Block & Bridle members who helped with the event. A special acknowledgment goes out to Ryan Baumert and Dennis Burson. They were instrumental in making this contest possible.

Block & Bridle Club
National Convention

The 79th annual Block & Bridle National Convention was held in Fort Worth, Texas by both Tarleton State and Texas A & M Universities. Four Block & Bridle members, Valerie Brauner, Allison Ernst, Hilary Esch, and Renee McFee, as well as advisor, Daniel Pomp, left for Texas at 5:00 a.m. on Thursday, January 28th and arrived eight and a half hours later in Fort Worth.

We had only an hour or so before the evening's opening reception, so the four Nebraska B&B members decided to briefly visit the hotel pool and take a tour of the back staircase. Following the reception, we braved the downpour and headed to Billy Bob's Texas. Between dances, we were able to meet several other B&B members from other colleges, including some Colorado State guys with gorgeous smiles.

The next morning, we boarded the charter buses at 5:00 a.m. and departed for the day's tours. Our first stop was at the R.A. Brown Ranch. On this 75,000 acre, family operation, we were able to see some of their registered breeding cattle and Quarter Horses. The next ranch we visited, the Pitchfork Ranch, did not use as much technology, but they provided a delicious meal for everyone on the tour.

When we arrived back in Fort Worth, they took us to the Will Rogers Memorial Center where we were able to attend the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo. Despite the attempts of "Crazy Walter", our bus driver, we arrived safely back at the hotel at 11:00 p.m. that night.

On Saturday, Hilary and Valerie attended the Leadership Breakfast and speakers from different segments of the animal agriculture industry. The remainder of our group spent the day at the Fort Worth Stockyards and also returned to the Stock Show.

That evening, the awards banquet was held. The UNL B&B Club received 3 awards from the 5 different categories. Lindsey Deardorff was the 4th place Junior Scholarship winner and Jared Valahoski, last year's president, was the 2nd place Senior Scholarship winner. Also, the 1997-98 annual received 4th place overall. A dance was held at the conclusion of the banquet.

All in all, everyone had a great time at the National Convention and several new friends were made. A special thanks goes out to Allison's dad for providing our transportation to and from Texas.
On Sunday, March 28, Block & Bridle held its 26th annual Big Red Beef Show at Madison County Fairgrounds in Madison, Nebraska. Sixty-eight exhibitors competed in the 1999 show.

Wade Franklin, a University of Nebraska graduate student and livestock judging coach, evaluated and placed the market, breeding, and showmanship classes. The show consisted of 46 market animals, 52 breeding heifers, and eight different breeds.

The champion market steer was exhibited by Jamie Prinz of West Point. The reserve champion steer was shown by Mary Snell of Genoa. The champion and reserve champion market heifers were exhibited by Chelsea Palmer of Norfolk and Julia French of Lincoln, respectively. The overall supreme breeding heifer, which was also the champion commercial heifer, was shown by Mitch Daake from Kearney. Emily Pohlman of Norfolk exhibited the reserve supreme breeding heifer, which was also the champion angus heifer.

The champion and reserve champion showmen were as follows: Junior division -- Jara Settles, Hoskins (champion) and Tucker Tejki, Leigh (reserve) -- Intermediate division -- Casey Snell, Genoa (champion) and Dawn Koepke, Hoskins (reserve) -- Senior division -- Pat Wiese, Lindsay (champion) and Steph Cronin, Omaha (reserve).

The beef show was chaired by Doug Setlik, Josh Gossman, and Allison Ernst. They would like to thank all of the sponsors and exhibitors for making this year's show such a big success. They would also like to thank all of the Block & Bridle members who helped with the show.
The annual Wahoo Saddle Club and Block & Bridle AQHA horse show was held April 1 and 2 in Columbus. The event began on Friday at 1:00 p.m. with the speed events, barrel racing, and pole bending. The evening was brought to a close with trail riding. Saturday morning started off at 7:00 a.m. with calf roping and team roping. Saturday afternoon and evening consisted of additional AQHA show events and classes. Chairperson for the horse show was Alison Ernst. Alison, along with other Block and Bridle members put in several hours of work at the show. They helped work the cattle and were ring stewards for the judges. All in all, the event was a great success and everyone seemed to have a good time. There was even an Easter egg hunt for the kids.

State Agricultural Education Contest

The annual State Agricultural Education Contest was held on April 8 and 9 in the Animal Science building. The livestock management portion of the contest was held on Thursday the 9th. FFA members were tested on their knowledge of either beef, dairy, horse, poultry, sheep, or swine management. Block and Bridle members helped with checking the teams in, leading the different species groups to their assigned areas, and assisted faculty members with the scoring of the tests.

The livestock selection portion of the contest was held on Friday the 10th. This portion of the contest was divided into a senior and a junior division. The contest consisted of three beef, two swine, and two sheep classes. The contestants had to place, evaluate, or indicate cull/keep for each of the different classes. Club members were responsible for checking in the teams, leading groups to each class, and tabulations. It took nearly 15 hours from the time check-in began to when the results were finally tabulated.

The chairman for the management contest was Brent Pohlmann while the chairmen for the selection contest were Bryan Helms and Brian Wray. The director for both portions of the contest was Rosemary Nold. The contest chairmen and the Block and Bridle club would like to thank everyone who helped with the contest. With the efforts of Rosemary, animal science faculty members, and B&B club members, FFA was able to have another successful state ag ed contest.
1998 Honoree:
Robert Volk

Family:
Wife: Jeanette
Children: Clark and his wife, Lezlie
Jay and his wife, Kim
Granddaughters: Claire and Madeline

Background:

Robert (Bob) Volk was born on April 21, 1938. He was raised in Battle Creek, Nebraska, and went on to attend the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. During his college career, Bob was an active Block & Bridle member. He held numerous offices in the club and was elected the Block & Bridle President in 1958. After graduation, he served as a 1st Lieutenant in the United States Army Reserves.

In 1961, he began his professional career with the Colorado Extension Service and then went on to work for the Drovers Journal and the American Hereford Journal as a Livestock Fieldman. In 1967, he accepted the position of Director of Agricultural Activities of Ak-Sar-Ben and in 1974 was offered the position of General Manager, a position which he held until 1990. In Bob’s 23 years at Ak-Sar-Ben, he made major contributions to the youth and livestock industry of Nebraska. He was the head of nearly 800 full- and part-time employees and was responsible for the allocations of Ak-Sar-Ben funds which have been used to build 4-H facilities in every county in Nebraska. Through his many positions and accomplishments, Mr. Volk has helped to develop and maintain the world’s largest 4-H Livestock Exposition and Rodeo.

In addition to his commitments to youth and livestock activities at Ak-Sar-Ben, Bob was also extensively involved with Ak-Sar-Ben’s horse racing. Bob established the Nebraska inter-track racing simulcast system and expanded this system to the five race tracks in Nebraska in 1989.

In 1990, Bob was chosen as the Manager for the Nebraska Cattlemen’s Classic. Since the first annual event in 1991, the Classic has become the premier showcase for cattle breeders in the Midwest. It draws international attention on a yearly basis. Bob has also been actively involved in the Junior Livestock Show that is held during the Classic. This event has grown each year to a total of over 400 competitors this past year. His present position is Originator and Consultant of the Nebraska Cattlemen’s Classic at Kearney, Nebraska.

Bob and his wife, Jeanette, currently reside at the site of their family cattle operation 2-1/2 miles east of Arlington, Nebraska. Together with their sons, they maintain a 120-head cow herd known as J&C Simmentals. Using a breeding program which involves extensive use of artificial insemination and embryo transfer, J&C Simmentals has produced several nationally known sires in the Simmental breed. They have been awarded the Premier Breeder Award at the Nebraska State Fair for the past two years, as well as the Premier Exhibitor Award for 1996 and 1997. J&C Simmentals has sold cattle in 21 states as well as Canada and hold an annual production sale that was ranked among the top ten sales in the nation in 1996.

In addition, Mr. Volk is a member of the University of Nebraska Citizens Council and is an active member of several breed associations. He is also a member of St. Paul’s Lutheran Church in Arlington.
