OVERVIEW

Cherry County covers approximately 6000 sq. miles (population: 6000) and is geographically positioned near the top of the world’s largest underground water supply of the Ogallala Aquifer. The topography is gently rolling Sandhills, subirrigated meadows, lakes, wild rivers, and some center pivot irrigation systems. Water is almost always abundant in this ranch country, except in drought years. Local water issues of concern are water sales, waste disposal and water quality protection.

RESOURCES IDENTIFICATION

In January 1988, the Cherry County Extension Service sponsored an interagency meeting to establish a baseline of concerns and efforts being made towards quality water. Representation at the meeting included the local N.R.D., A.S.C.S., S.C.S., rural school superintendent, area ranchers and the Cooperative Extension Service agents. Each agency identified concerns and current water projects status. The various agencies or representatives took claims to areas of water quality responsibilities.

NETWORKING OUTGROWTH

The Natural Resource District would be conducting a county wide irrigation well sampling and assisting the A.S.C.S. in providing financial assistance in stock well replacement costs.

The A.S.C.S. volunteered newsletter space for water education or meeting notices.

The Soil Conservation Service is targeting safe well abandonment procedures when counseling for fertilizer and pesticide applications.

The State of Nebraska -Department of Health conducted a random sampling across Cherry County to map nitrate, bacteria, radiation, and 13 pesticides. Chemical usage and well construction interviews were also conducted by the Dept. The five year state wide study data will be added to the baseline information on the Cherry County map to be maintained by the Cherry County Extension Service.

Village and Municipal water technicians explained their current testing procedures and concerns. It was noted that due to their extensive testing, Valentine and other residents on village water supplies would not need to have individual tests run.

Local canoe outfitters were concerned for the river pollution/litter during recreational activities.
Cherry County Cooperative Extension Service was identified as the primary educational agency. Lynda Radant served as Coordinator and presenter for the following activities:

1. Efforts to understand, protect and maintain our water supplies from the Ogallala Aquifer were made available by water quality agency networking and radio-newspaper media outlets. (Appendix A)

2. Radio coverage lead to the request of residential/stock well water sampling. An Audio-Visual Learning Center was established in the office when Cherry County citizens could learn more about correct sampling procedures. (Appendix B) (Office personnel were trained to show audio-visual presentation.)

3. Water sampling bottles were made available at the Cherry County Extension Office through the Hall County Health Department.

4. Learn-at-Home packets of Neb-Guides, Fact Sheets and resource listings were presented to each family unit requesting sample bottles after viewing the slide set in the Audio-Visual Center. The information included procedures for sampling, interpreting the results, and alternative treatments were included.

5. Leader Training lesson (see appendix - yellow and blue) was developed and written and provided to 200+ families in Cherry County Home Extension Clubs as well as other interested citizens. One in every 25 Cherry County residents were exposed to a formal training on water quality, maintenance and protection. (March '88) (Appendix C)

   In September '88, the training was provided to Extension Clubs in the 4 counties of Central Sandhills. (Appendix D)

   Training note: Senator Howard Lamb attended the leader training lesson Water Quality in Halsey, Nebraska. Two points were noted: (1) the Senator's home county has had yearly well sampling of all rural wells. This is not conducted in Cherry, Thomas, Hooker, Grant, or Blaine counties. (2) The Senator commented on low attendance at the Water Quality training session. These leaders will train their neighbors and friends to continue the educational outreach efforts of the University of Nebraska - Extension Service.

6. Reinforcement to the water quality emphasis was provided by Extension Agent - Agriculture and Master Gardeners in public meetings, radio programs, news columns and pesticide training programs. (Appendix E)

7. Water-nitrate levels were reported back to the Cherry County Extension Service for mapping on a mounted plat map. (Appendix E)

   Mapping also includes river and stream nitrate readings from the N.R.D. sampling. (Future mapping will include results from irrigation wells, and Department of Health (Appendix F) and rural school readings.)

8. 120 area 4-H's received water quality education at State 4-H Camp at Halsey by the Long Pine Water Program coordinator.
Evaluation

As of October 1, 1988, the following results can be identified:

1. Approximately one person of every 25 in Cherry County has attended a public meeting, lesson, networking session or educational learnshop on water quality and health implications. Outreach now includes training to 4 Central Sandhills counties as well.

2. Well sampling has increased 9 times more frequently as a direct result of media coverage and informational programs. (Previous year average 20 samplings. Within nine months time, 180 water samplings have been conducted in Cherry County alone.)

3. Approximately 25% of those requesting sampling bottles have reported baseline data back to the Cherry County Extension Office and is on the increase.

4. Approximately 8000 square miles of Sandhill landowners/residents (and approximately 8000 people) are becoming more aware of water quality/maintenance/preservation/conservation.

5. Consumers now recognize alternative water treatments and processes for safer water.

Future emphasis on Water Quality in Cherry County

The Cherry County Extension Service will continue efforts in the following areas:

1. Continue to provide water sample bottles, Learn-At-Home packets and mapping of results.

2. Educate youth using "Nebraska Water Riches" 4-H School Enrichment materials in city-rural schools in Cherry County through teacher inservices and special programs. Provide more learning opportunities through resources from Elva Farrell - IPA Intern - U.S.D.A. and other research by the University of Nebraska.

5. Increase resource base and public information through agent inservices and research and sharings, public news releases, broadcasts and educational displays and maps.

6. Utilize local agency and state resource people for interagency network-sharing.

7. Continue communications on Water Quality to State Senators.
Meeting is scheduled on quality of water

What is the quality of water in Cherry County? Who does what about it if it isn't good?

The Cherry County Agent, Lynne Redman, and Tom Dill, are sponsoring a Water Quality Meeting for Cherry County and surrounding counties.

This meeting will help everyone learn who is doing water samplings, testing, problem sites within the county, educational thrusts being attempted to educate the public on nitrate, bacterious/colliform, and other water chemicals, and hopefully align forces to improve water quality. In other words: A networking meeting.

All agencies within the county with a concern for water quality, well drillers, city and village water superintendents are asked to attend or send a knowledgeable representative.

The meeting will be held Friday, January 8, 2:00 p.m. at the Cherly County Courthouse meeting room. The snow date will be January 11 at 2:00 p.m. at the same location.

TYPES OF HOME WATER TREATMENT SYSTEMS

Water quality in the home can be improved through water conditioning equipment.

According to ___________________ "Extension Agent - Home Economics, four common types of water treatment systems for household use are: filters, reverse osmosis units, distillers, and softeners.

The factors to consider before buying any of these systems are:

1) type and amount of water contaminants;

Water Quality Center will aid in learning to sample.

An audio-visual center at the Cooperative Extension Service in Valentine is assisting area residents in learning how to sample water for purity and nitrate levels. The ten minute audio-visual presentation instructs rural residents in proper procedures for accurate testing. The specially treated water sampling bottles are available at the Cherry County Extension Office.

Those having received water analysis back are asked to contact the Extension Service with the results. These results will then be recorded onto a large county map. If any samples register higher than a normal level, retesting and notification of surrounding ranches or areas will be made.

It is hoped that within one year's time, a county wide baseline of Cherry County's water will be established and the overall quality of water improved. Informational packets are available with sampling bottles. Cherry County Extension Clubs will be receiving training in quality water in April and May.

Know your water quality

The Cherry County Cooperative Extension Service is holding a leader training lesson and informational meeting to learn about the quality of water in Cherry County. The training will focus on how and why water becomes contaminated, where and how to have the water tested, how to interpret water test results and how to choose alternatives if unsafe water is detected.

The training will be held in Valentine on two dates on Thursday, March 24 at 1:30 and Thursday, March 31 at 7:30, both at the Courthouse meeting rooms. The training will also be given at Merriman on Friday, March 25 at 1:30 MT at the Methodist Church.

The meeting is open to the public and any interested people are invited to attend. There is no charge for the meeting information.

Water quality leader training scheduled

Several private wells in the Valentine and Cody-North area have been tested and are showing signs of high nitrate levels, and other contamination, according to Lynda Radant, Extension Home Economist for Cherry County Extension Service. County wide mapping of the results is helping identify problem areas.

If you are concerned about the quality of water you drink and have any problems with the water you have, Cherry County residents can learn more about the water quality in Cherry County at some special training.

The special training will help you select the proper water tests needed, the procedure for testing, and how to interpret the results from the State Health labs. The training will also help you select alternatives for water treatment.

The training sessions are open to the public and all Extension Club leaders. The training will be given at three locations:

- March 24 at 1:30 p.m. CT at the Courthouse in Valentine.
- March 25 at 1:30 p.m. MT at the Methodist Church in Merriman.
- March 31 at 7:30 p.m. CT at the Courthouse in Valentine.

Water Quality Training is scheduled Thursday

The Cherry County Extension Service will offer Water Quality Training for Cherry County residents Thursday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. CT at the Courthouse meeting room in Valentine.

"Attendance at the two daytime trainings in Valentine and Merriman were received very well," reports Lynda Radant, Extension Home Economist for the Cherry County Extension Service. We are emphasizing the health effects upon humans and animals, the interpretations of results when water samples are taken and consumer knowledge of water treatment systems if results indicate a need for a home treatment.

The training is free of charge and open to the public. A limited supply of water test bottles will be available at the meeting.

The Cherry County Cooperative Extension Service is working on a water quality mapping for data baseline with other state and local agencies in Cherry County. The map will be available for viewing at the training.

Extension Service Maps Water Quality Readings

The Cherry County Cooperative Extension Service has been mapping residential well readings of nitrate and coliform levels in a survey of the county's water quality.

Results are coming in from various ranches all across Cherry County, reports Lynda Radant, Extension Agent for Cherry County. We do need more reports from the west end of the county, around the Merriman, Pawne Lake, and southwestern corner of the County for more complete screening.

"The results of the water samplings are turning out very low, as we have hoped," Radant adds. We are doing this screening for two primary reasons, to encourage people to check the safety of their water supply and to gather the baseline information on the quality of water that sits on top of Ogallala Aquifer.

Three problem areas have shown up, and retesting is being done. Those areas are north of Crookston into South Dakota, a housing subdivision southwest of Valentine, and one isolated area in the Goose Creek area in southeast Cherry County. Ranchers are encouraged to have their water sampled every two years. This will help them know the quality of water, note any contamination or increases in undesirable chemicals and to protect their valuable resource.

The Cherry County Extension Service in Valentine has an audio-visual learning center where the public may view water sampling procedures and protection efforts in just a few minutes. Information packets dealing with water contaminants, remedies and home treatment systems are available, along with water sampling bottles, from the Cherry County Extension Service in Valentine. Those people who have had their water sampled are asked to report the results to the Extension Office, for the mapping, by calling 402/376-1850.

Hot weather lawn care
when and how to water

The best time to water your lawn is early morning from 4 a.m. to 8 a.m. The least demand for water is placed on the water system at this time, wind and evaporative losses are low, application efficiency is high, and distribution is best. Midday watering is not hazardous but is inefficient and wind makes it difficult to apply water uniformly.

A form of midday watering, called syringing, is beneficial for lawns to minimize high temperature stress. This light application of water evaporates from leaf blades surfaces rapidly. The evaporation process cools the turf and reduces heat stress.

Avoid watering in the early evening or late at night. Evening and night watering increase disease problems. Night watering may be necessary in some cases but it should be used only when early morning watering cannot be practiced.

Water lawns thoroughly, infrequently and uniformly to develop a deep, extensive root system. Infrequent (i.e. 5 to 7 days), but thorough watering encourages the plants to develop a deep root system. Plants with a shallow root system are prone to heat and drought stress and damage from disease and insects.

Remember most of our lawn grasses in this area are cool season grasses. They tend to go dormant in July and part of August. Don't let your lawn get so dry that it crackles when you walk on it and expect not so perfect a lawn in the very hot season.

I hope these few facts on lawn care will be helpful to you. Remember to mow your grass 2½” to 3” tall. This is important with a regular schedule of watering to maintain your lawn. In the last part of August start lowering the height gradually to 1½” to 2” for fall and spring maintenance. If you have any further questions, please call me at the Extension Office, phone 376-1850, or better yet drop in and visit.

Health Department to collect water samples in County

The State Health Department will soon be collecting water samples from rural areas in Cherry County as part of a study on the presence of contaminants in rural water supplies. Sampling will take place in seventeen other counties across Nebraska during the summer. Approximately 400 owners of private water supplies have been selected at random and will be asked to take part.

Owners of private water supplies who are asked to participate will be interviewed by Health Department staff about the construction of their wells and about pesticide and nitrate usage in the area. Samples of water will be tested by the State Health Laboratory in Lincoln for bacteria, nitrates, radiation, and 13 pesticides. Testing will be performed at no cost to participants. Each participant will receive a copy of the test results when testing is completed.

The five-year study is beginning its fourth year of testing water samples from counties throughout Nebraska. The results from previous years show that atrazine is the pesticide most commonly found in rural water supplies. Nitrates have been detected in about 15 percent of the samples, according to Health Department data. The study is co-sponsored by the federal Centers for Disease Control and the State Health Department.

Water supply owners who have not been selected to participate in the study but who wish to have their water tested can do so for a fee. Nitrate and coliform tests are $18.07 together, radiation is $33.60, and a scan for 13 pesticides is $99.08. For more information contact your local extension agent or Candace Jacobs, D.V.M. at the State Department of Health, P.O. Box 95007, Lincoln, NE 68509 or call 402-471-2541.

Cherry County's First Master Gardener

WANTED: Master Gardener for Cherry County. Must have the heart of Mr. Valentine, the public appeal of Santa Claus, broadcast talents of Paul Harvey, and super-powers of Superman. Some gardening interests will be trained by University of Nebraska Horticulturalist.

JACKPOT! Cherry County was honored to have Tommy Combs apply, and he fits the bill perfectly, too! Tommy's other alias was as Mr. Cupid for Valentine for many years on February 14th and the garden club ladies especially love him. He also knows Santa Claus very intimately as he helps all generations talk to Santa at the local radio station KVSJ before Christmas.

Tommy and a former County Agent used to have seasonal contests for the biggest, ripest, first-of-season tomato, and tried all varieties of vegetables in Cherry County to proved local consumer recommendations. He even came equipped with greenhouse background. Is it any wonder the local radio station played Superman's theme music for the Cherry County's Master Gardener radio program?

Tom braved hundreds of miles of icy-snowy roads to receive his University training for the Master Gardener program, field days and tree trimming programs. His heart-warming attitude thawed the garden plots in Cherry and Thomas County, Nebraska, and Todd and Tripp Counties of South Dakota radio broadcast area. Tom assisted area gardeners in all types of consumer decisions from seed to weed and bugs. He grabbed the new Cherry County Ag Agent by the steering wheel and together they assisted locals with drought stricken trees and overworked lawn problems.

Despite retirement (?) and his health concerns, Tom is ever loyal to his Tuesday-Thursday office hours from 2 to 5 and weekly Wednesday radio program and newspaper columns. He ever so modestly reports he has handled numerous telephone calls, countless "office walk-in" calls and equal amounts of "walk-alongs" as he walks down the street!

Cherry County's Master Gardener spent other hours with local grocers promoting a giant squash contest for the Year of the Squash and encouraging flower and garden entries for the Cherry County Fair.

Tommy is a true Extension Team member and now that gardens are put to bed for the winter and houseplants brought indoors, Toms always helping promote the latest circulars, video conferences, 4-H program support and provide office assistance. He has made hours of envelope stuffing and collating fly-by with his ever cheery attitude and thoughtfulness.

So what's the Master Gardener up to now, you ask? Well, Veteran's Day needs a special program, there's a youth gardening grant to look into, he's assisting the Extension Home Economist with safe turkey preparation promotion, and the holiday poinsettas and amaryllis need care and Santa Claus IS coming to Valentine...

Cooperative Extension Service Volunteer Staff Member

Master Gardener Joins Extension Service

What will you be when you grow up? is an age old question everyone has asked. One Valentine resident probably always replies, "a gardener." And now that Senior citizen Tommy Combs has grown up. He can add to his successful line of occupations "Master Gardener," with pride.

This past week Mr. Combs has become the County Extension Service's first volunteer staff member to assist local citizens with lawn and garden problems. Combs has attended extensive training sessions in North Platte in February and March with the University of Nebraska Horticulture Specialist.

Tommy will be available to answer questions for Cherry County residents Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, from 2:00 to 5:00, at the Cherry County Extension Service.

"Tommy Combs will be a valuable asset to the Cherry County Extension Service this summer. He's highly respected in the community for his gardening and horticultural abilities. His office hours on Tuesday and Thursday will be greatly appreciated," according to Lynda Radant, Extension Home Economist.

Combs on the Job

Tommy Combs, Valentine, has completed the "Master Gardener" training program conducted by the University of Nebraska.

Tommy will help answer calls and questions about lawns and gardens on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2-5 p.m. at the Cherry County Extension Office, 376-1850.

Valentine Newpaper
April 6, 1988
At the close of the 1987 4-H year, members of the Cherry County 4-H Council met to identify the needs and goals of the 4-H program. Five major areas were identified:

1. Increase effectiveness of the 4-H Council by the use of committees.
2. Educate and publicize the benefits of the 4-H program.
3. Provide assistance to 4-H leaders with educational and organizational sharings and appropriate recognition.
4. Develop a curriculum flow for 4-H projects.
5. Increase teen enrollment and recruitment.

During the last twelve months, extensive efforts have been made to meet the Council goals. Despite the shortage of a 4-H Assistant for over a year, and the absence of an agriculture agent for five months, the 4-H Council has been assisted by the Extension Agent - Home Economics and Extension office - Office Assistant in helping coordinate, and maintain committee activities that have strengthened the Cherry County 4-H program.

Accomplishments have been noted in the following observations:

1. Council effectiveness was increased by redefining thirteen council committees; providing clear-cut job descriptions, developing a printed calendar with pertinent dates, goals and Council resource people. Job descriptions of 4-H agents, assistants and committee chairs were defined in a committee worksheet identifying goals, activities, job assignments; awards, incentives and recognition and needed budget expenses. 4-H files in the Extension Office underwent extensive reorganization, cleaning, and reduction for more efficiency.

2. The benefits of 4-H programming were widely publicized through 4-H newspaper and radio coverage by efforts of a newly formed Public Relations committee. "Chris Clover" became a regular weekly feature publicizing 4-H activities and events as well as public information. Special features were written by Extension Agent on the 4-H Horse program, clothing, and textile education, fashion shows and Skill Day activities and 4-H Fair.

Gifted education resource people were provided information on the scope and curriculum structure of 4-H projects through the Educational Service Unit and Gifted Education Council.

3. Two leaders in Cherry County received registration stipends to the North Central Leaders Forum in Fargo, N.D. The training opportunities provided ideas, "recharge" and recognition to the volunteer core. Two junior leader age 4-H'ers received paid registration to 4-H State Conference and camp counselor scholarships were offered.
4-H Achievement Night emphasized awards and incentives available to 4-H leaders and clubs as well as 4-H members in project areas through display of medals, plaques, trophies and certificates that were explained in the County printed booklet entitled 4-H Awards and Incentives.

More ideas for recognition and incentive are being explored. (See Awards and Incentive booklet.)

4. Curriculum flow for 4-H projects was publicized in two major project areas via the 4-H Cherry P.I.T. newsletter, "What's New" flyer sheets for 4-H families and the pilot of a Horse Packet that included show dates, advancement levels, state and district show information, county guidelines and 4-H Advancement level information.

A dramatic increase in participation of 4-H Horse and Clothing activities resulted. (See story on Enrollment Drops - Participation Increases Seven-Fold.) As a result, Livestock and Food areas have been recommended for expansion in 1989 through the curriculum flow emphasis and "information packet" methods.

5. Although teen enrollment did not actually increase, the teen participation remained constant with increased enthusiasm. This can be attributed to efforts made to include teens in leadership assisting methods, involvement in activities as assistants, more activity participation at Skill Day activities and State activities awareness, and emphasis on incentives and award programming.

Teen recruitment and enrollment retention could be assisted by more professional staff assistance (when we have them!) and emphasis on growth through curriculum flow.

Enrollment Drops - Participation Increases Seven-Fold

While the depressing statistics showed a drastic decline in 4-H numbers in Cherry County this year, activities normally poorly attended, such as Help Day, skyrocketed with big numbers.

EXPLANATION OF ENROLLMENT
Cherry County enrollment started a swing upward in 1984-5 due to the promotion of 4-H projects in the rural schools. These were primarily the responsibility of the 4-H Assistant. In 1986 the drastic increase is reflected by the 4-H Assistant doing primary leadership to embryology in Schools; the Ag Agent lending expertise in the school enrichment Plant-A-Tree project and the Home Economics Agent handling a nutritional analysis project entitled "Dietcheck".

1987's decline was due in fact to the vacancies of the 4-H position as well as 1988 when only one agent worked full-time.

EXPLANATION OF ACTIVITY INCREASE
What caused the drastic upswing in 4-H Help Day attendance in 1988? Volunteer management!

In the winter months of 87-88, the 4-H Council committees were scrutinized by the Ag and Home Economics agents due to the 4-H Assistant vacancy.

The thirteen committees on the council were divided between the two agents to share the vacancy responsibility but two months later, only one agent remained! 4-H Council members and committees were printed onto 4-H family calendars.

Committee sheets were designed to help clarify the specific goals and committee responsibilities, dates, promotions, assignments, award and incentives criteria, needed budgets and time lines. A simple fact remained, one agent couldn't handle all the programming done in the past. Volunteers were needed!
Armed with specific job descriptions and expectations, the volunteers pulled off one of the greatest years ever! Activity attendances exceeded previous years.

A prime example holds evident with 4-H "Help Day". This one day event formerly was designed to provide help in all areas of home economics and ag related projects with some "fun things" thrown in on the side. The idea was greater appeal to more interest areas and the topics have always been excellent but poorly attended.

This year, the concept of specializing or developing 4-H'ers skills indepth were emphasized. The 4-H Council committee volunteers could then provide help in their area of "expertise". Where as the last few "Help Day" agenda included judging cattle, fitting livestock for show, microwaving, sewing fads, B-B-Q cooking or practice modeling... attendance was 23, 28, 47, 9 and 18 from 1983 to 1987.

- 18 - Horse Skill Day
- 40 - Horse Grooming Clinic
- 40 - Home Economics Skill Day - clothing, modeling, and makeover emphasis
- 43 - Livestock Practice Judging Day

141 total in 1988

What does this indicate? Here are some possibilities:

- 4-H'ers want to concentrate on their special interest areas
- A smattering of appealing events may not appeal to everyone enough to take their time
- Reinforcing background and experiences may lead to greater project satisfaction (example: Horse Skill events were proportional to the drastic increase in Horse Levels Advancement)
- Committees of "experts" plan wonderful things
- 4-H'ers, leader, families (and Agent!) all had a super time!

Empowering 4-H volunteers does "make a difference".

4-H Council Promoting Horse Curriculum

Eighteen 4-H Horse Project Members in Cherry County have made special efforts this year to advance their horsemanship skills. The Cherry County 4-H Council is promoting the sequential development that 4-H projects have to increase the interest, skills and knowledge gained from 4-H projects. This year, a new rule passed by the 4-H Council in Cherry County made the Horsemanship Advancement Level I mandatory for participation in the 4-H Horse Show at the Cherry County Fair.

Horsemanship Level I includes basic handling and riding demonstrations to a 4-H level examiner. Knowledge on feeding and equipment are also part of the exam. 4-H'ers must then provide a presentation or talk to their 4-H club on any subject of horsemanship.

Horsemanship Level II is mandatory for competition of 4-H events at a District or State Horse Show. 4-H'ers must demonstrate their riding abilities, horse handling skills, equipment knowledge, and learn to judge horses. In addition, written reports on feeding and major breeds must be submitted before acquiring a level two advancement level.

4-H'ers work on the advancement levels at club meetings, clinics, and practice shows such as the Niobrara Horse Shows in order to pass examinations. Members are not judged against one another in the levels, but reaches their own level of competency.

To date, 16 members have achieved Horsemanship Level I this year. They are Tadd Buechle, Jeff Chenoweth, Anna Ebert, Janet Ebert, Misti Jo Elliott, Matt Elliott, Jill Fleming, Heidi Heermann, Jack Liddy, Jim Liddy, Sean Mulligan, Erin Radant, Ryan Radant, Lois Sokol; John Wharton and Dustin Wheeler.

Completing Level II is Kristina Weber, Ryan Radant, Dustin Wheeler, Lois Sokol, Adam Nielsen, Janet Ebert, Aimee Dusenberry and Jeff Chenoweth.

Cherry County 4-H Horse Project Decline - Quality Improved

In an effort to add more learnings to a fun project, the Cherry County 4-H Council backed efforts to improve the quality in horsemanship among 4-H members.

By mid-August County Fair, thirty-seven advancements levels had been achieved although project enrollment had declined in Cherry County.

In order to improve the educational efforts and benefits of the 4-H Horse curriculum, 4-H Horse packets were assembled by Agent Radant, a first for the Cherry County program.

A Horse Skill Day was held to help 4-Hers prepare for advancement level testing. As a result of the increase in horse study, a Horse Grooming clinic was held prior to the County Fair Open and 4-H Horse Shows. Forty 4-H members and family attended.

Agent Radant reported a definite increase in the degree of competition during the summer horse show circuits. "Even though parents grumbled along, and kids worked harder than ever, the grins of accomplishment were of genuine pride," reported Extension Agent Radant.

(See Appendix 2)
Horse Skill Day set
Wednesday, May 25

The Cherry County 4-H Council Horse Committee is sponsoring a Horse Skill Day for 4-H youth involved in the 4-H Horse Project. 4-H members and leaders will meet at the Cherry County Fairgrounds on Wednesday, May 25, at 1:00 p.m. CT.

The Skill Day is designed to encourage 4-H members to improve horsemanship skills by observing, improving and passing their horsemanship Advancement levels testing. The four advancement levels are progressive learnings designed to allow 4-H’ers to increase their knowledge as well as skill in Horse equipment, handling, training, nutrition, health care and showmanship.

Levels testing will be conducted by volunteer Horse Project Leaders and committee approved levels testers. Those 4-H’ers wishing to complete Levels 3 & 4 on Horse Skill Day are to be reminded to make special arrangements with advance notice to the Cherry County Extension Office.

A Very Special Display

Strengthening Individuals, Families AND 4-H
Through the Fifth H - Handicapped

As an outgrowth of efforts to help educate 4-H leaders and 4-H member and feel more comfortable including a handicapped potentially 4-H member, a special interest display was constructed at the Nebraska State Fair. The colorful display was strategically located in the area of the 4-H lunchstand where many volunteers and visitors take a few minutes to relax and regenerate.

The handout flyers available were one of the newest recruitment tools for members, leaders and families. Flyers were provided by the State 4-H Office. More information is contained in Appendix following.

Two Cherry County 4-H'ers are inspecting the "Special" flyers at the 1988 Nebraska State Fair booth constructed by County Agent - Lynda Radant. The booth was located next to the popular 4-H foodstand area.

"Project Outreach"

My newest challenge is how to seek continued support and monies to carry out the ideas that always need some funds for paper, publicity, postage or supplies. Grant writing seems to be one possible solution. Hopefully, another project I am starting and presently using with current resources will be able to expand with additional funds.

"Project Outreach" started when I was employed as a remedial reading teacher in a high school. 1986 has brought national attention to reading literacy programs and educational opportunities for all people of all backgrounds. My personal interest has been reinforced by requests for materials in nutrition and child care for "low functioning" clientele from Social Service offices. Research during my Master's degree and an informal survey of leaders and County Extension Agents have shown a lack of resources for Nebraska 4-H leaders and County agents working with handicapped youth and adults.

The "ground" has just been barely scratched on my current project to "reach out to others" not currently using the services of the Cooperative Extension Service. My efforts at applying for grants is just beginning for "seed money". Hopefully, using the "tools" already available to me I'll be able to cooperatively garden with others and the fruits of this crop, well...just wait and see! I'm already gathering "bushel baskets" for other to share the benefits!

"SPECIAL KIDS IN 4-H" Inservice Presentation

When you really believe in a cause, you'll do anything to promote the effort. Including the fact of saying "yes" to providing an inservice session on Handicapped and Special Kids in 4-H. That's what we did last fall, but when the moment came closer, the other two volunteer agents and I began to panic. How could we be most effective? How could we convince 4-H volunteers to help include "special" 4-H'ers? Would we be able to hold the attention of the (hopefully) twenty people who might attend? Oh wow! Worry!

Our noon luncheon time arrived -- and so did the sixty-eight agents, assistants and specialists that ventured into our presentation! We captured their attention by imposing a handicap of blindness, learning disabilities, hearing or limb restriction with a collection of bandages, crutches, wheelchairs and mittens. The self-serve buffet luncheon became a REAL challenge. The opening of the luncheon began in sign language. Activities and lectures challenged the Extension personnel to use 4-H projects to capture special talents in 4-H'ers and allow them to work to their potential. Special tips and guidelines were provided and a table of resources were open for viewing.

At the end of the luncheon, participants shed their handicaps to be more aware of others handicaps and to learn a motto in sign language...

A Sew-Sew Project Seams Great!

Five years ago, there seemed to be little hope that 4-H Clothing would ever become the most popular 4-H project in Cherry County. Clothing leaders were exasperated and frustrated with the beginning clothing project. Wrap skirts were too difficult for beginners; sundresses always hung uneven and the little seamstresses were bewildered. Nerves wrangled and kids shed tears. Two leaders even had a knock-down-drag-out over the 4-H Style Revue!

In waltzes the new Home Economics Agent! Naive and flabbergasted, it was enough to make a grown woman cower behind the first available bookbag!

After sizing up the whole situation, a committee of skilled mothers and a brave agent threw the beginning 4-H Sewing project out the window! Determined to teach sewing skills by developmental levels, the sewing skills were divided into three categories of progression. Short, easy skills developed into positive experiences of Cherry County's own Clothing project. The project was a forerunner to the state's new Sewing Is Fun project. Soon little seamstresses were smiling again - so were leader and parents.

Project numbers in the clothing units have increased by one third and so have styling participants. This year's clothing members had a special skill day of beauty makeovers, a zany style show with dress up and narrations and hard work modeling sessions. "What's New in Clothing" is a subject matter sheet that keeps 4-H'ers updated on the latest clothing developments.

A highlight of summer was the 1988 Cherry County Fashion Revue that featured top-notch 4-H fashions with a fall fashion show from area businesses. The blend was perfect and spectator numbers were doubled! People remarked that "you couldn't tell the kids homemades from ready-mades"...the ultimate music for any 4-H style show!

Some children and older youth have special interests and talents. Sometimes finding information on a subject or topic is the hardest part of allowing young people to develop their skills, but not when connected with the world's largest global youth project. 4-H now serves two hundred youth in Cherry County alone.

Projects and interest areas can range from the study of bugs to space craft, food or fashions to commodity marketing. Over 125 projects in 4-H have printed education manuals for youth as well as adults who like to learn with youth.

Cherry County has 4-H'ers who have been extremely busy within the clothing and textiles area the last few weeks. The 4-H'ers have been busy: learning the fundamentals of clothing construction along with the ability to read and follow directions, hand and eye coordination; design principles and elements and poise at interviewing with a judge and modeling fashions they are extremely proud of.

The University of Nebraska Clothing Specialist for the Cooperative Extension Service and a team of specialized agents wrote new manuals and guidelines to help 4-H'ers learn to apply their skills to futures in fashion design or merchandising, textile sciences, good consumer practices and hobby skills for creative expression. Each developmental phase of sewing skills is a series of progressive learnings. The new projects require a mastery level of skills before advancing to a more challenging learning experience. Many adults use the program to teach themselves to sew.

4-H'ers in Nebraska can learn the basics by learning to use the first project entitled "Sewing for Fun." After achieving basic mastery, 4-H'ers then can sew for the home, their horse, or create fashions for themselves. The projects emphasize the 4-H experience to learn while doing.

The Cherry County Cooperative Extension Service is a subdivision of the University of Nebraska that extends research and teaching out to the public. County services are provided by University staff with specialized Master's degrees unique to the local area. The Cooperative Extension Service offers educational programs to all people. Call the Cherry County Extension Service at 376-1850 in Valentine for more information on all programs and services.

Beauty make-overs were popular at the Skill Day. Beautician Clarine Balliet is demonstrating on Renee Poe, center with Brook Brown and other 4-H'ers looking on. Photo courtesy of Cooperative Extension Service in Cherry County.

Home Economics Skill Day has over forty participants

Beauty make-overs, a zany style show, and crazy demonstrations were a part of the 4-H Home Economics Skill Day. Thirty-four 4-H members and friends and a dozen parents and leaders participated in a planned for hilarity style show with mock-Paris fashion creations.

All youth participated in extemporaneous speaking on items found in brown bags. Topics ranged from peeling potatoes to making simple toys. Composure, confidence, speaking skills and fun were gained from the experience.

Skin care and the latest in summer hair styles and hair care were featured in "make-overs." The activities left both boys and girls with good grooming skills and new ideas for fashionable summer hairstyles.

The 1987 Home Economics Judging Team for the Nebraska State Fair told of their experiences, skills and fun gained through their participation. Becky Nielsen, Keri Young, Brook and Ashley Brown, Gwyn and Leanna Vaughn, members of last year's team then did an example of a team judging situation. 4-H'ers were encouraged to attend the Cherry County Home Economics Contest July 25th for the State Fair Team Tryouts.

Gwyn Vaughn, Cherry County 4-H member that won first place in the 1987 State Fair Home Economics Contest, explained to the skill day participants her recognition by the Nebraska Home Economists Association of a silver tray and upcoming trip to Minneapolis. 4-H'ers were able to practice judge a Home Economics division.

The 4-H program is an educational outreach program of the University of Nebraska and U.S. Department of Agriculture and is available to all youth between the ages of 9 to 19. For more information on the 4-H program, contact the Cherry County Extension Office at 110 West Fourth Street or 376-1850.

Dear Clothing Leaders:

Spring IS around the corner...some days that's easier to believe than others! But Spring does bring ideas of sewing new fashions and getting ready for 4-H Clothing projects.

Enclosed in this newsletter is several items that I hope you will find interesting and of help to your 4-H'ers.

Please show and share this information with your 4-H members. Copies of this material will be available for them if they ask for a copy from the Extension Office.**

S.O.S. (Samples of Sewing) - This collection of tips and highlights will provide answers and guidelines to questions and comments Clothing Judges have made at our interview judging.

Kid Sew Patterns - I am sharing information on the "patterns designed with sewing lessons". These highly fashionable patterns have good "kid appeal"—both sexes! I have NOT tried these yet but will be happy to share a peek at them when mine arrive.

Evaluation of "Sewing for Fun" Projects - Some simple scoresheets for the new projects have been included. Barb Reed, Kathy Boeckenhauer, and I received these tips at the Clothing Training in Ainsworth. Have fun at a club meeting with "Role Playing". Let your 4-H'ers take turns being the interview judge and constructively critique each others projects.

Judges Training - A District 4-H Judges training will be held June 1, 1988. The areas of Clothing and Foods will be emphasized. If you are interested in updating your skills or learning to become a judge let us know and we will put your name on the list.

Skill Day - Dates aren't set yet for Skill Day but do tell your 4-H members we have some exciting things planned for them! Plans are shaping up to have some possible Make-Overs, Styling, Needle Arts/Crafts, and MORE! Watch for late May – early June dates in the Cherry PIT!

Clothing and Style Review Day - July 25, 1988 - V.R.H.S.

Remember - "A stitch in time..." saves last minute sewing for "4-H panic"!

Keeping you in stitches,

Program Title: 4-H Adventures in Sewing

Clientele Objectives: As a result of a new 4-H Beginning Clothing project, 4-H members will participate in a developmentally sequenced series of sewing activities more suitable to interest and ability levels of each child. 4-H members will gain more positive reinforcement through a variety of uni-sex sewing projects.

Support will be garnered through public programs (1985) of "Color Analysis" and the "Busy Woman's Sewing Seminar" and (1986) "Sewing for the Home."

Audience: 4-H members and youths, 4-H leaders and local seamstresses and general public.

Methods Used: A committee of 4-H Clothing project leaders, mothers, Community seamstresses, fabric store owners and a retired Extension agent provided ideas and recommended activities for a Cherry County pilot project - "Adventures in Sewing." Various projects were collected and written into a 'task analysis' format for beginning 4-H seamstresses and leaders/mothers. Leader feedback was crucial to the rewriting and editing of the three developmental level projects written by Lynda Radant.

Support was gained by leader interaction and involvement, and a flyer in the 4-H Newsletter, The 'Cherry Pit' called, "What's New...Clothing and Textiles." Club leader training in Color Analysis and a sewing seminar explaining sewing shortcuts, products, demonstrations and resources were presented.

Results: As a result of the efforts to improve the beginning 4-H sewing projects in Cherry County, participation has grown while surrounding counties have diminished.

Enrollment and clothing statistics for Cherry County show evident growth.

The new directions in the Clothing division is to start all sewing in a basic project such as Cherry County's Adventures in Sewing. After that, members can branch out into different areas that build sewing skills - for clothing and non-clothing items, creative arts skills and shopping skills.

"New Learnings" Cards

At the suggestions of our clothing judges for the past two years, a 4-H clothing entry will be entered with a 3 x 5 index card with project name, brief item description, exhibitor's number and state three new things the 4-H'er learned by making the item or garment. An example follows:

Adventures in Sewing - Unit 3
Yellow Duffle Bag

1. Centered zipper application
2. Sewing a circle and curves on the ends of the bag.
3. Placement and stitching on webbing for straps.

#1000
I'm a professional 4-H'er. I loved the 4-H program in my youth and valued all my experiences so much, I've made it a career and personal goal to help others grow from the 4-H experiences, too. That's why I have the frustration of seeing teenage 4-H'ers get so close to some experiences of a lifetime and drop out.

Last year I made a commitment to review the 4-H Congress in Chicago as an Agent chaperon (selected by my peers in N.C.E.A.). My intent was to interview state and national 4-H delegates and find out what they did to set their programs apart from other 4-H'ers. My suspicions were confirmed: perseverance and uniqueness to their "own ways" of learning.

Another suspicion was confirmed also. We have more than several 4-H'ers in our county that have done the same outstanding things or beyond, yet some 4-H'ers were collecting $1500 scholarships! The secret was in filling out the paperwork.

Like a coach, first you have to get the players interested in even trying to play the game! My enthusiasm for the Chicago trip (a second time - twenty years apart) will always be shared!

Learning the record book system on the District level provided a learning experience for this agent and two volunteer leaders. The process was interesting and our enthusiasm encouraging in sharing experiences and ideas for Cherry County.

Next, you have to understand the mechanics or basics. Some of our own County awards and incentives didn't have clear cut criteria or definitions. 4-H Council committees were asked to define the incentives within their committee areas. These were then added to a listing within a County written Incentives and Awards booklet, covered with pictures of the County medals.

The criteria and directions for application must be defined. Basic directions, suggestions and hints were printed as well as a scoresheet adopted by the Cherry County 4-H Council. A flowchart of record progressions through county, district, state and to national was diagrammed for those liking 'pictures' of progression.

After a listing of all awards and donors, entry sheets and other special application forms were attached. A brief listing of available audio-visuals was provided for parents and leaders. Group or club incentives were also listed.

The game plan was set, the coach was ready, but the players were reluctant. First step was to get the basic project records turned in. The 4-H Council backed our request to have 4-H'ers turn all record books in voluntarily. Awards booklets came in, in a slight increase in numbers, but more importantly, new names for the game plan.

The Cherry County 4-H Council has an excellent recognition system with plenty of opportunity to win plaques, trophies, buckles or other incentives. At the end of a year, instead of one king and queen, ten 4-H'ers are chosen as semi-finalists for the five Top Achiever Awards of satin 4-H Achiever jackets or fifty dollar bonds. The target need is publicity and visibility to the awards program.

Special efforts were made at the Cherry County Fair to display trophy plaques and acknowledge contest winners. A special display of County award medals was mounted on a green velvet-type background and displayed at 4-H Achievement Night.

During the Achievement Night dance, one small nine-year old boy was seen visually devouring the display. When I asked him which one he was going to try to win first, he quickly replied, "first this one, then this one and then this one and..."

...I think we're headed down the right track!

INCENTIVES & AWARDS PROGRAM
Cherry County Incentives Program

Dear 4-H'er, Leader and Parent,

In 1988, the 4-H Council's Awards and Incentives Committee and the Cherry County Extension Agents recognized the need to compile a listing of awards/incentives and recognition. Not everyone is in need of the same form of recognition that may come from filling out record books, or receiving trophies or prizes. Some may only need a few words of praise or a pat on the back. This booklet is designed as an awareness tool of what is or can be made available.

One of the most important aspects of any form of praise or reward is in the THANK YOU's provided back to our many donors, sponsors and volunteers! Without them, the world's largest youth organization would not be what it is today! Don't forget to say THANKS!

This booklet is an attempt to make the Cherry County 4-H Incentives and Awards more visible. In turn, our 4-H youth programs will help develop Cherry County youth.

The 4-H application is an organized presentation of what has been learned and accomplished in 4-H. When accurately and carefully assembled, it is a useful tool for determining progress and personal growth. Careful planning and recording of facts and the selection of only the most important information is essential to preparing a neat, complete and organized application.

This procedure is used for the majority of areas where incentives are available. Exceptions to the district and/or state process are listed on page 13, "Opportunities Requiring Special Handling".

The following materials are required in the district 4-H application, and should be assembled in the order listed. Include all materials in one application book, even if applying for incentives in more than one area. Note the disqualification criteria on page 12.

1. COVER
   Use a standard Acco-type fastener in a stiff 8 1/2 x 11 inch binder. Do not use a loose-leaf ring binder.

2. 4-H ENTRY SHEET: FORM 2-88 -- see appendix
   Indicate program areas included in the District 4-H Application. Be sure to include all application materials for each area marked. Be sure to complete the signature section. Signatures certify eligibility for the area of application.

3. GLOSSARY (optional)
   List explaining various terms, events, abbreviations, etc. May also include the key indicating symbols marking items for the program areas (see explanation in item #4).

4. BUILDING YOUR 4-H RECORD 4-H F-41 or 4-H F-52
   "Building Your 4-H Record" is a composite of all projects/activities participated in throughout the individual's 4-H career. Items referring to the area of application should be clearly marked on the form in pencil in the right-hand margin (where possible) with a symbol (asterisk, plus sign, circle, square, check mark, etc.). If applying in more than one area, different symbols should be used for each area. A key indicating the area and symbol used should be written on the front page or a separate glossary page. By using pencil to indicate the items, the area of application may be easily changed in future years.

"Building Your 4-H Record" does not need to be typed. Additional pages may be added to the form as indicated. Individuals may use computer word processing equipment to facilitate record keeping. Information should be printed in the same format as the various sections in "Building Your 4-H Record". However, the information does not have to be printed unto the actual form. Type size should be no smaller than 12 characters per inch.

5. THE 4-H (project) STORY
The 4-H (project) Story is an essay of 4-H experiences in a specific project area. It should emphasize personal growth and development, leadership and community service experiences in the selected project/activity. The annual 4-H stories written as a part of "Building Your 4-H Record" should be used to help compose the project story. Do not include the annual stories in the district application.
Separate 4-H stories must be included for each program area. Six pages maximum per story. Stories DO NOT have to be six pages in length, but can be no more than six.

Applications for various activities must include an additional story for each activity, such as "My 4-H Junior Leader Story." The story must be related to a specific area or event, not just a general story about 4-H involvement. Exception: If applying in related areas, one project story is sufficient. Example: If applying in Leadership, National Conferences, and/or in the Junior Leadership areas, one 4-H Leadership Story is sufficient.

The 4-H (project) Story may be hand-written or typed (double-spaced) on one side of 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper. There should be a 1 1/2 inch margin at the top and left side, with a 1-inch margin on the right and bottom. If stories are typed, do not use type smaller than twelve (12) spaces per inch. Condensed print (such as 18 or 22 spaces per inch) or photocopy reductions are too hard for the selection committee to read.

Stories should be written in "first person". Gimmicks, such as a pet calf telling the story, or other "cutesy" themes should be avoided. While such a story may catch the attention of a selection committee, it is often difficult to follow--detracting from the content instead of helping. BE SURE to check for spelling, grammar, punctuation and typographical errors.

The following outline may help in developing the story; however, do not identify these parts in your story.

Part 1 Introduction of 4-H'er
Include: age; interests; parents and family, members; place of residence; school; when and why active in 4-H.

Part 2 Project/activity information
Why it was chosen; what was learned that was not known before; how it has increased in scope; what things have been tried and found to be successful or not so successful; how was financing arranged, indicate profits, losses or savings.

Part 3 Highlight other 4-H projects and activities
Participation in other projects and activities; what have been major learning experiences; indicate special interests and unusual situations encountered.

Part 4 Describe 4-H influence on leadership/citizenship
Most important offices held; committee assignments accepted; what has been learned from working with others; how 4-H increased interest and participation in community affairs; what was learned from team efforts.

Part 5 Describe 4-H influence
Self-confidence, school/career goals and use of leisure time, future career/project plans.

OTHER HINTS:

Include facts to make a story newsworthy or different from the "average". Show how knowledge gained has been shared through demonstrations, exhibits, etc., or by helping others such as the elderly, handicapped or as a junior leader.

Key words help describe experiences, such as: responsible, patient, affectionate, determined, thoughtful, friendly, honest, creative, loyal, optimistic, poise, efficient, persistence, empathetic, self-worth, humble, kind, daring, courageous, proud, secure, encourage, considerate, flexible, helpful, imaginative, kindness, mature, polite, realistic, lovable, grateful, patriotic.
6. PROJECT OR ACTIVITY PHOTOGRAPHS
Photographs may be used to illustrate the highlights of the project/activity. Photographs depicting special practices followed, year-to-year progress, or leadership activities provide excellent documentation of growth in a project. The may also include honors and recognition received.

Pictures should be securely mounted on 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper, one side only with a brief caption explaining the picture. Three page maximum per application. (NOT 3 pages per area.)

Exception: Photography applicants may include up to ten additional 8 1/2 x 11 inch pages of selected pictures taken in the 4-H Photography project or activity. Slides are not recommended, since equipment for viewing them is not provided to selection committees. One or two exceptional photographs will be more effective than several pages of slides. (If slides area submitted, plastic pages designed for slide storage may be used.)

DO NOT write on front or back of photo.

VII. Record Books

VIII. General Comments:
Helpful Hints for Awards

When selecting a project area for awards, the judges will consider your total picture of project involvement, not just exhibits in county competition. The scorecard for evaluating your record book looks like this:

Guidelines for Evaluating 4-H Incentives Applications

Experiences in 4-H projects and activities 50%
Size and Scope: Main project (15) Other projects (5)
Learning Experiences: Main project (15) Other projects (5)
Knowledge and Skills: Main project (8) Other projects (2)

Experiences in 4-H Leadership 25%
Volunteer Leadership: Main project (12) Other leadership (8)
Elected/Appointed Leadership (3)
Promotion Leadership (2)

Experiences in 4-H Citizenship and Community Services 25%
Citizenship in Main Project (10)
Other Citizenship Activities (10)
Non-4-H Experience (5)

TOTAL 100%

Score Card for: CITIZENSHIP, LEADERSHIP, NATIONAL CONFERENCES, INVITATIONAL EVENTS

Citizenship

Leadership, National Conferences, Invitational Events

Citizenship Activities (50) Leadership Activities (50)
Leadership Activities (25) Citizenship Activities (25)
Other Project Activities (25) Other Project Activities (25)

At the district/state/national levels, the above score card will be used. It is of great importance that 4-H youth not only learn new skills, but share what was learned. As a youngster grows, so should the involvement experiences in their leadership and citizenship/community service areas grow. Therefore, a 4-H youth who serves as project leader at a club with an average achievement at fairs and shows may be ranked above the 4-H youth who receives all purples at the fairs, but does little or nothing in the leadership and citizenship/community service areas.

Double check: financial records for accuracy and completeness; punctuation and spelling, leadership activities and NEATNESS!

NATIONAL 4-H CONGRESS

National 4-H Congress provides recognition to 4-H youth for their outstanding performances and achievements in 35-40 4-H programs and activities. The December week-long event is conducted by the National 4-H Council and United States Department of Agriculture-Extension Service, with support from national and state donors. State expenses for the event, held in Chicago, Illinois, is $550 per delegate including bus transportation, lodging, meals, registration fees, insurance and other related materials. Total expenses for the week are over $1,700. National donor support for activities involving all delegates minimizes the cost per delegate.

National 4-H Congress is designed to:

1. Provide new and stimulating educational experiences for 4-H youth.
2. Motivate 4-H participants to strive for excellence.
3. Recognize outstanding performances and achievements of 4-H youth.
4. Focus public attention on the values of the 4-H program in developing competent, dedicated youth for service to a democratic society.
5. Provide opportunities for industrial, agricultural and educational leaders to contribute cooperatively to the development of young people.
6. Allow selected Nebraska 4-H youth the opportunity to meet youth from other states and exchange program ideas.

Nebraska may select, based on their 4-H records, one 4-H youth in the following program areas and one former 4-H member in the alumni area to attend National 4-H Congress:

- Achievement: Clothing, Dog Care, Food Conservation, Leadership, Public Speaking
- Ag Achievement: Companion Animal, Electric Energy, Entomology, Forestry, Petroleum Power, Safety
- Beef: Conservation, Enology, Fashion Revue, Garden, Photography, Sheep
- Citizenship: Dairy Foods, Food-Nutrition, Horse, Poultry, Veterinary Sci.

All 4-H participants will be assessed a $100 event fee to defray many of the costs involved. The remainder of the funds will come from national and state contributors to the event. The Nebraska 4-H Development Foundation, as well as the National 4-H Council, recognizes the importance of providing funded trips in all areas and will continue their efforts to obtain funding in order to minimize the expense to youth.

County 4-H Councils and/or other donors may provide these dollars for the delegate from their county, if funds are available and they so desire. However, counties are under no obligation for this trip. Staff may wish to work with the youth in identifying possible "fund raising" activities which they individual and/or their club may utilize to offset this expense.

Nebraska 4-H delegates to National 4-H Congress may be requested to provide some feedback to the Nebraska 4-H program. This may be locally at meetings of the County 4-H Council or County Extension Board, or on the state level at meetings of the 4-H Youth Development Department staff or the Executive Council of the Nebraska 4-H Development Foundation. In addition, they may be asked to assist with county recognition and training meetings for those currently applying for incentives.

The top 10 4-Her's in Cherry County are chosen by the following method. This takes place of the King and Queen we have had previously. The top 4-Her's are honored on Achievement Night which is usually held the first part of Nov.

1. Clubs (Organizational Leaders) are asked to submit names of top achievers in their clubs to the Extension Office.

   a. These are invited, by letter, to have award books in by the deadline. This is a letter of encouragement to perhaps spur-on those who may not have the incentive to get their record books in for awards without it. (Any 4-H'er who is 12 by Jan. 1st may submit his/her Record book even if they don't receive this letter of encouragement.)

2. Must be 12 by Jan.1st to be eligible for the top 10 Achievers in Cherry County.

3. Submit Record books by the deadline.

   Record books will be judged by the following criteria:

   * Experiences in 4-H projects and activities - 50%
   * Experiences in 4-H Leadership - 25%
   * Growth and Development through 4-H Citizenship and Community Involvement - 25%

4. Judges will choose 15 4-Her's based on Award Books to come in on a day appointed for a personal interview by them.

   a. This interview is very important. Dress neatly, have good posture, talk clearly. Sell yourself! (That is—feel good about your achievements and your abilities.)

   b. In the event someone is ill or out-of-the County, the judges may set up a telephone interview with him/her on that day.

5. Interview - 50% and Award books - 50%

   a. From the interview and Award books combined, the judges will then choose the top 10 4-her's in Cherry County. These top 10 receive an olympic-style medal Achievement Night.

   b. From these top 10 Achievers (or the number the judges feel are top achievers) there are 5 Outstanding 4-Her's chosen for that year. These 5 will receive a green-white jacket with 4-H emblem on it.

* Notes:

In the event, a top achiever's Award Book is going to the State level, permission has been granted by the 4-H Council to copy the needed records for the County level awards.

These policies are subject to approval and change by 4-H Council.

Major Programs Conducted '87-88

Home Economics

Cherry County - FY '88
Lynda Radant

Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs - Executive Board - The second year of my appointment as Agent Director - Dist. G & H was spent helping direct the Great Nebraska Family Committee state program and acting as liaison between the NCHEC Board and the Cooperative Extension Association - Agents Section for agent nominees. I attended three state meetings in Lincoln, North Platte, and Scotts Bluff, and one District meeting in Ainsworth. (Expenses paid by N.C.H.E.C.)

Eating Today for a Healthier Tomorrow - A six weeks series of nutritional meetings to encourage healthier eating to prevent cancer, heart disease and lower calories and cholesterol was held in Valentine during October and November. The response was excellent with 10 regular participants and requests to do the program in West - Cherry County. Staff shortage prevented the "re-run" but plans will be made for 1989.

New Waves in Cooking - Leader Training lesson encouraged 24 club leaders and publics to attend ever popular microwave sessions. Lower calorie cooking and the use of meats in microwaves was promoted.

Making Our World a Better Place - This ready-to-go program was delivered to a new audience of the Valentine Garden Club. The lesson helped members focus on a community improvement project and put the plan into action. Very well received.

Taking Time For Yourself - Leader Training was provided for Home Extension Club members and Mailbox Members. The program provided positive, easy-to-use tips for time/self management and how to get "unstuck". Members were very positive in their reports back that they were very pleased someone had given them permission to make time for themselves.

My Home...Today and Tomorrow - Extensive work was done with the (Cherry County) Social Services office and the Ministerial Association in backgrounding for presenting this lesson. Information was then provided to approximately 200 Extension Club members. Reactions to the lesson were mixed from reports saying the lesson didn't apply because we didn't have that type of housing available to our area (which is why the lesson was presented at an awareness level); to responses of sincere appreciation for presenting new concepts in housing. It is hoped a more complete listing of resources/services for the aging can be published locally for area residents.

Water Quality - leader training was presented as an effort to provide a uniform educational base for understanding Cherry County's water quality - emphasis on residential water. A water resource coalition was formed and agencies identified various areas of expertise and management. A water quality learning center was established in the Extension Office when sample bottles and Learn-At-Home Water Quality packets were distributed. Extensive media coverage was provided to encourage water sample data baseline information gathering and mapping.
Turning Ideas and Projects into Profits - leader training lesson was provided by Anita Keys, Central Sandhill Home Economist (in exchange for Water Quality lesson in Central Sandhills). The lesson was deemed successful in providing usually - overlooked - information when establishing a business and gave a total picture of business costs to those thinking of starting arts/crafts ventures.

Coping With Today's Fabrics - provided new information on new fibers and clothing materials consumers are seeing on the market...such as Ramie. Many consumer dollars were saved due to educating proper laundry/care techniques.

Other Community Services

Keya-Paha Cherry Counties Developmental Services - for mentally handicapped citizens were provided educational materials in grooming, nutrition and basic clothing skills from the Cherry County Extension Service. I served as a member of the Behavior Modification committee.

Citizens Education Council for Abused-Neglected Children - Extensive research on books and materials were provided by a committee I served on to purchase educational books and media for distribution in the Cherry County and Brown-Rock County libraries.

Community Development Committee - met early Tuesday mornings for the purpose exploring and expanding economic opportunities and options. I served on the Video marketing committee and also served as liason with Extension programs and Managing Mainstreet.

November 1988

4-H Activities for 1987-88 were subdivided between Ag and Home Economics after the resignation of the Cherry County 4-H Assistant in October. The resignation and vacancy of the Ag Agent position (5 months) and training/orientation of the new Ag Agent forced most of the 4-H programming leadership to the Home Economics agent and 4-H Council Committee chairpersons. Despite the lack of agent expertise and shortage of time to cover all areas of Extension programming, positive leadership and committee responsibilities were strengthened. Program accomplishments include:

Pumpkin Patch Food Stand - Fund Raiser - major fundraising for the 4-H Council expenses and 4-H awards program were provided by a food stand at a Craft Show sponsored by the Sandhill Home Economists. The October 1987 provided the usual $400+ funds while 1988 was considerably down.

Awards Judging of 4-H Record Books - was on a decline for 1987 with only six applying for Top Achiever status. Drastic revision and award clarification was put back to the thirteen 4-H Council committees. Radant then assembled a booklet of all 4-H Awards and Incentives for Cherry County - Awards in October '89 were up and Achievement Night Soup and Pie Supper was deemed a huge success.

National 4-H Congress - was attended by this agent as N.C.E.A. - Agent Sponsor. Extensive interviewing of State and National winners helped background this agent for assisting Cherry County 4-H members assemble awards. Leanna Vaughn was announced as second state winner in the 4-H Forestry program and will attend 1988 Club Congress in Chicago.

4-H Clothing Projects - received emphasis in 1988 with redefinition of awards, S.O.S. packets of sewing hints, curriculum flow and leader assistance at 4-H Leader Training in February. 4-H Home Ec Skill Day emphasized beauty makeovers - modeling and building self-concept skills.

4-H Dog Training - programs by Pastor Doug Fusselman proved popular again this year for both 4-H and Adult audiences. A training fee was charged with proceeds being held for the eventual purchase of dog show equipment.

4-H Speech - Music - Talent - contests were all combined for a record setting attendance of 75 people! The new approach proved popular with 4-H'ers and parents and will be recommended for 1989 again.

Tractor Training - was conducted by Greg Nollette, Vo Ag Instructor - Valentine Rural High School during the absence of an Ag Agent. Fifteen youth were certified in the two day training session at the Cherry County Fairgrounds. Materials and AV's were furnished by the Cherry County Extension Office.

Horse Skill Day - resulted from Horse Leaders training and 4-H council action to require first and second levels of the Horse Advancement levels for County Fair participation. A total of 23 - Level 1's and 14 Level 2's were attained making it the highest proportion per project ever in Cherry County. (See supporting story in Annual Report.)
4-H Interview Judging - was conducted by three hired judges at the Cherry County Fair for a second year. The day progressed smoothly with many favorable comments from parents and leaders.

Handicapped in 4-H - a special display at the Nebraska State Fair helped promote the concept of including handicapped youth in 4-H clubs. (See special display story.)
Here it is! The first 4-H calendar for 4-H families in Cherry County! The calendar includes deadline dates and activity schedules for 1988.

Your 4-H family can use it to record your 4-H feed records, 4-H recipes made or other record keeping activities. Even the events of the 1988 Cherry County Fair are written in for your advanced planning!

We plan to hold fast to the dates and deadlines; especially with all this advance notice, so please read and note some changes that have been made through the 4-H committees.

PUBLIC SPEAKING, MUSIC, & TALENT

Saturday morning, April 9 will be the Public Speaking, Music and Talent Contest. Check last month's Cherry PIT for details.

VOLUNTEER DAY - APRIL 30

The State 4-H Camp at Halsey is planning a day to spruce up our 4-H camp. A free meal will be provided to workers and maybe some time to canoe after the work is done... What a fun club Service project that would be!

Enrollment for Cherry County 4-H Club members and leader has changed this year. The new 4x6 self-carboning cards have been designed for members and project leaders to fill out and sign. The organizational leader will keep the paper copy and send the cardboard copy into the office by May 2.

Note: There is only one project enrollment day, May 2 or before. Projects cannot be changed or dropped after that time.

If 4-H members have more projects than can be listed on one card, use two cards and note "1 of 2 cards".

SHIRT-TALES

Do you have some outgrown white, long sleeve shirts at your house? Would you like to trade with someone else for a larger size or reduce your stock of "too small" shirts?

The closet at the Extension Office has several shirts available. Check it out!

4-H LEADER DATES

North Central 4-H Volunteer Leader Forum
October 20-23, Fargo ND

Black Hills Leadership Conference
September 28-30, Pierre SD
There are some very crucial requirements for Swine projects that will be exhibited at the County Fair. Efforts between local vets, the County Fairboard and 4-H families are being pursued to make the testing work out smoothly.

Read the Livestock ID Guide Lines insert. If you do not have a copy and would like one, please contact the Extension Office.

NEW DISPLAY CASES

Thanks to JoKay and Johnny Sam Harms at the China Shop for providing an opportunity to get a good deal on display cases for 4-H exhibits!

The 4-H Council will be taking donations from clubs and individuals to pay for the cases and wheels for them.

Would you or the club like to contribute?

HORSE CHANGES!

Advancement levels are being considered by the 4-H Council to help riders improve and grow into the project. This is being required in many Nebraska counties and helps level out the competition on District and State competition.

Read the...Livestock ID Guidelines insert.

WHAT'S HAPPENING...?

Northside Ramblers had a fun sweatshirt painting workshop... Trailblazers were the first 4-H'ers to get their enrollment cards in!...Top Gun Shooting Sports Club has 9 graduates from the Hunter Safety course and are now aiming to help with a "Shoot Out" at County Fair. There's a new 4-H Club called the Kilgore Westernaires - WELCOME! A suggestion/ballot box is being "woodworked" by the Sparks Livewires for Extension Office use.

4-H Clubs secretaries should remember to send a copy of the minutes to the Extension Office and include a list of the officers!

Sewing Manuals Correction

Clothing - Level I (4-H 223)
Correct the words labeling each picture on page 8. From top to bottom it should read:
Fiber, Yarn and Fabric

An error has also been discovered on the pattern of Sewing for Fun. On the front page of the pattern where it shows measuring the straight of grain extend the ruler lines of the arrow. You must measure from the grain line arrow to the selvage to determine if the pattern is on straight.

This five day bus tour is set for July 9 - 13 and is open to the FIRST 45 APPLICANTS from the entire state! Estimated cost is $125-175 depending on the number of participants.

Too expensive you say? What about asking your 4-H councils for help? OR better yet, help the councils raise the money!

Trip highlights include: Henry Doorly Zoo in Omaha; Tour of the State Capitol, Elephant Hall and the Planetarium in Lincoln; Ride the Spirit of Brownville Riverboat; Visit Arbor Lodge and John Brown's Cave in Nebraska City; Tour Willa Cathers Home; Tour Fort Kearney; Pioneer Village; Buffalo Bill's Ranch and tour Stuhr Museum in Grand Island.

Call the Extension office for more information.
4-H Accident Insurance

Nebraska is fortunate to have volunteer 4-H Leaders identified as staff covered under the Board of Regents liability policy. This is extremely important to the 4-H volunteer movement. It does not however, negate the responsibility of 4-H Leaders to use common sense in working with youth. The Board of Regents policy is not accident insurance.

Accident insurance for club members is available on a yearly basis for $1.00 per member. Horse clubs and motorcycle clubs are $2.00/member. Contact the office for an application brochure. Numerous companies offer similar plans.

This company currently offers accident coverage for our camps and centers at affordable costs. Today's legalistic society places new responsibilities on anyone entrusted with the lives of others, especially young folk. I encourage your consideration of this insurance. The cost may seem high, but compared to what we're now paying for camp insurance ($0.25 per day per person) the one dollar per member per year is cheap. Consider offering your 4-H club the opportunity to purchase this insurance.

Volunteer at State Fair

Adults and teens are needed to volunteer at State Fair for various activities. Some of you will be attending as a participant or chaperone, so volunteer a few hours at the fair!

Minimum is a four hour block of time to assist with such things as displaying exhibits, assisting judges, registering 4-H or assisting with judging events, style revue or livestock activities.

Give it a thought...and work your State Fair schedule in your plans...call the Extension Office.

Commemorative Stamp

In 1990, 4-H will be celebrating its 75th anniversary. A movement is currently underway to convince the U.S. Postal Service that this event deserves a U.S. Commemorative Stamp. Because of the amount of time required to process requests for new stamps (approximately 18-24 months), it is imperative that the Postal Service hear from the 4-H community as soon as possible.

4-H members, parents, donors, and volunteers who would like to see a 4-H stamp issued should write to the following address indicating that they endorse the proposal for a commemorative 4-H 75th anniversary stamp. It is imperative that the committee hear from us in large numbers if we hope to see this stamp become a reality.

Thank you from Tom Dill

4-H Council & Extension Friends, Well, I'm here and we are pretty well settled in. I am on a study break so thought I better get this off to you. Thank you for the gift certificate, we used it and the steaks were great. I think about Cherry County often and pray that all is going well. I have had second thoughts about leaving, but it was something I had to do.

Good luck and I hope to see you in the future.

Record Books Due

A new change by the Cherry County 4-H Council about record books is asking that every 4-H member turn in all their project record books for all projects.

You do not have to exhibit at county Fair to complete a project...the "project" is about what you've learned! Maybe you learned that next year you have to start earlier!

You can learn from all angles of all projects. That's what 4-H is all about!

Record books should have your leader's signature on them and must be in the office by September 30 (except Stocker Feeder). If you are submitting your records for awards, you need to put your best three year's records for that awards area, in with your "Building Your Records". (Due: September 30, also!)

Will your club reach 100% record book completion?

"Challenge Issue"
Enclosed is the information regarding the Sandhills Stocker Feeder Show and Sale, October 10. This year will be a combined show of Valentine and Bassett. Most of the entry rules are unchanged from last year. We have not been able to get all of the committee members together at one time as of this mailing so a few things could be subject to change. We'll let you know of any changes, when and if they are going to happen.

This is the first year for a combined show and the first Stocker-Feeder Show for the new Ag Agent so your cooperation to help things run smoothly would be greatly appreciated. Additionally FFA members are being invited to participate.

It does very little good to tell someone "this is not the way we've always done it", after you're already in the middle of doing it a new way. If you have suggestions or comment about how things should run please let us know early or in time for next year's show. We challenge you to make this the best Stocker Feeder Show ever!

CONCRETE ENTRY WAY
Livestock exhibitors should have noticed the new concrete between the washbarn and the show barn. Please take time to thank those who were responsible. First to John O'Donnell, Al Kopejtka, Bill Sokol, and Dave Ketelsen for doing the digging, forming, and pouring; to Valentine Redi-Mix for delivering on Sunday. A special thanks to the Fair Board for paying for the concrete and rock. It's sure an improvement over what was there. So let these folks know you appreciate their efforts.

Pseudorabies Testing
This year we were probably more lax on Pseudorabies testing than we should have been. We are going to have to tighten-up our procedures for entering swine at the County Fair. We can not allow this show to jeopardize the herd health of those producers who make a majority of their income from swine production. Yet we still want everyone with 4-H swine to be able to show. We will probably need for all swine to carry a positive ID, which should be a tattoo or ear notch. We'll need to have a Vet on the grounds to check health certificates and ID's when the animals are unloaded. If you have more thoughts on this please talk to one of the livestock committee members; so we can discuss it the next time we meet. Thanks for your cooperation.

Super Special THANKS!
A special thank-you goes out to Louie Lopez and Bob Pilfold for donating equipment to the 4-H Council for a foodstand. The inventory included:
- a refrigerator
- deep freeze
- grill & electric hood fan
- hot dog cooker
- electric bun warmer
- paper products and supplies, and even flyswatters!

Special thanks to two very special Friends of 4-H!
Our County Fair Photography judge, Marilyn Williams of Ainsworth, is also a 4-H Leader. She called me and wants to issue a challenge to all Cherry County 4-H'ers to enter the Country/USA Photo Contest on October 1, 1988. Marilyn thinks Brown County 4-H'ers can beat Cherry County 4-H'ers. (Of course, I said they couldn't! So, help me!)

October 1 is a Saturday so everyone can go out and get some good shots that day. And you may even be able to get some photo work for next year's photo project done early. (WOW! Wouldn't that shock your parents and leaders?)

You do not have to be currently enrolled in 4-H photography now to quality. Read the enclosed green sheet!

State Style Revue Challenge

Ashley Brown and Erin Radant were helpful at the State Style Revue and got to watch Susie Sedivy style in the State Revue for Cherry County.

They want to issue a challenge to 4-H'ers (boys, included!) to enter more clothing projects or at least Teens Shopping Smart so we can hit 100 Clothing Projects and have 2 State Fair Stylists!

$600 Tools, Seeds, & Equipment

For the eighth consecutive year, the National Gardening Association is providing $600 grants to youth groups. Some of the guidelines are:
- youth between ages of 3-18 years
- minimum of 15 youth (band together with another club or school!)
- must focus on food gardening
- min. of 200 sq. ft.
- deadline November 15, 1988
- official application available from Tommy Combs, Master Gardener, Extension Office. - Tuesday and Thursday afternoons -

Banner Challenge

Northside Ramblers 4-H Club (Senior Girls) made a banner of their club to hang at the Cherry County Fair. The Home Extension Clubs did, too, and the exhibit hall really looked "dressed up". Northside Ramblers challenges your club to make a banner and bring it to Achievement Night--November 5, Saturday.

Say THANK YOU!

Have you said thank-you to your trophy donors? How about some special people that helped with some special projects? Or leaders, parents that took time to help in special ways?

Without donor help and volunteer's efforts, our 4-H program would be nowhere! If you can't remember if you wrote thank-yous, write again! Enclosing photos of your project area is a terrific way to keep sponsorship going and growing.

(Have you ever written a thank-you for all the 4-H ribbons and premium monies the Cherry County Fairboard has provided?!) Who can write the most THANK YOU's? When you get your thank-you's written, turn in a numbered listing of everyone you sent a thank you to. A special prize will be given by an anonymous donor on Achievement Night to the 4-H'er with the highest number written! Go for it!

Leader's Day Out

A special opportunity for 4-H Leaders in West Central Nebraska to meet other leaders in the area and improve their personal skills and knowledge of 4-H is the first annual “Leader's Day Out”. This event will be presented in Broken Bow on November 3. Sessions start at 9:00 a.m. CT.

A series of workshops is planned each day including methods for working with kids in public speaking and presentations, ideas for recognizing youth and volunteers in the 4-H program, what effective volunteerism is all about, ways to communicate more effectively, a creative look at traditional club meetings, getting more publicity for the total 4-H program, and the indispensable volunteer.

Registration deadline is October 24 in the Cherry County Extension Office.

North Central Leaders Forum

Kathy and Lauren Boeckenhauer from Wood Lake are making plans to attend the North Central Leaders Forum in Fargo, ND, October 20-23.

Meet the 4-H Challenge!

National 4-H Week, October 2-8

The Public Relations Committee challenges each 4-H club to contact a business and put up a 4-H display during 4-H Week! Use your new club banner (hint-hint!) or display your County and State Fair exhibits or projects!

Let's jet everyone know 4-H is the world's greatest youth organization!

New Baking Project

A new beginning foods baking project will be available in 1989. Baking for Fun will be kicked off with a leaders and parent training day in North Platte. Let's plan for a carload of leaders to go and have fun! Mark your calendars for December 6.

Extension Agent - Agriculture
It had been a long, beautiful autumn in Cherry County.

Then another staff member flew the Extension Office coop.

So the Extension Board met to decide the future staffing situation of the Cherry Co. Extension office.

THEY decided NOT to hire another 4-H assistant until October.

"Things" began to creep up and up on the Extension staff.
Pretty soon they felt very "snowed under".
(And not just outside!)

They decided a plan to SHAPE UP THE OFFICE.

They almost had to camp out at the office!

After many, long nights...

files were cleaned out, reports caught up and "things" put in order again!
Things were beginning to look brighter in Cherry County!

So Lynda went to Chicago to National 4-H Club Congress for seven days.

But 37 top-notch teenagers can really wear an old lady out!

Meanwhile... back at the ranch...

THINGS WERE HOPPING!

Cherry County is the GREATEST Place to be in 1988!
Hi Extension Ladies,

I knew if we just stayed in Nebraska long enough there would be some good weather again. This was the first winter in a long time, we have actually been "snowed in". Thanks to a good neighbor for plowing us out.

As this is my first letter, maybe I'll tell you about myself. My husband Kenneth (everyone calls him Skinner) and I have been married 29 years in June. (One of those teen-age marriages that won't last!).

We have two daughters - Kelli and Robin. Kelli married a Bridgeport, NE, boy, Don Weitzel. Don is an insurance broker with Old Northwest Insurance. Kelli graduated from Chadron State College with a degree in Criminal-Justice. She is now employed in a jewelry store and working on a gemology degree. Guess she will put the two degrees together and catch jewel-thieves! They live in Knoxville, (far-away) Tennessee.

Robin, our youngest daughter, also lives in Knoxville where she is a Cosmotologist. We took her to Tennessee in June with "her" telling us she would stay until August. She loves the weather and doesn't miss the Snow at all.

We really miss them but we have to be happy they are well and out in the world making it on their own.

'Nuff said about "me and mine". Now on to important things.

Spring Tea is on its way! Prairie Flowers and Simeon Sandcherries will host the affair in Valentine at the High School Auditorium on the evening of April 18th.

Plans for the State Convention will be in Norfolk on June 8-10. Wouldn't it be nice for some of us to attend?

Don't forget Club Secretary's -- Club membership dues must be sent to Sandi Ormesher by April 1st.

I am looking forward to seeing you all at the Spring Tea. I'm not too good at getting the names of everyone but I'm sure that by the time my two years are up -- You'll be on a first-name basis. That's just the way we are in Cherry County.

Your friend and neighbor,

Connie Robertson
County Chairperson

"Plant a Living Legacy" - is the theme in Nebraska for celebrating National Extension Homemakers Week on May 1-7, 1988. We hope to develop a Cherry County Council idea for celebrating this event. Here are some ideas you may want to discuss at club or with your neighborhood get-togethers: involve youth in a tree planting/preservation program; do tree maintenance or cemetery clean up, have a nursery or forestry speaker, plant flowers in a park, start an arboretum or check with the fairboard to see if we can't plant some trees at the Cherry County Fairgrounds.

"Pioneer Picnic" - The annual event at the Cherry County Fair for Senior Citizens has been dropped by the Cherry County Ag Society. The drastic decline in attendance and the financial status of the Ag Society were cited as the major reasons. The "Picnic" was originally started by the Cherry County Home Extension Council to provide fellowship and sharing. The Valentine Senior Citizens Center now supplies that need on a daily basis.

Isn't it nice to see some of our projects outgrow themselves?

Cultural Arts Display - The 1988 N.C.H.E.C. categories for cultural arts are (1) Visual Arts: oils and acrylics, water colors, drawings; (2) Handstitchery: needlepoint, crewel, embroidery, counted cross-stitch, candlewicking, other; (3) Creative Writing: poem (limit 30 lines) or short story (limit 3000 words.) The entries will be judged at the Cherry County Home Extension Council Spring Tea - April 18.

4-H Display Cases - 4-H projects will have safer and better visibility at the Cherry County Fair this year! Four cases of various sizes were purchased from the China Shop thanks to the Harms' considerations. The Cherry County 4-H Council will now be taking donations to cover purchase costs and castor wheels for the cases.

Profit from the sale of the "extras" went to plant and maintain a Cherry Tree in Washington, D.C. If you are in Washington, D.C., April 6, please let us know immediately as we will have you represent the Cherry County Home Extension Council at a special recognition service by the National Parks Service. 610 trees were planted as a result of the "Blossoms of Our Future" program.

Your sewing efforts will live on in our Nation's Capital!

Celebrate '88 - Time to get into shape ladies! Valentine and Cherry County can help Nebraska Celebrate '88 - HOMECOMING! June 19-25 Cherry County will celebrate the old Blue Pole Hiway and other historic trails. Margaret Wilbur (Prang's) is searching for more info on all trails. Can you help her out? (Does anyone know more information about a Rosebud-Kilgore trail?) Part of Celebrate '88 is a Triathelon of running, biking and canoeing!

Ladies -- start your engines! (umm...tennis shoes!).

"The County Agent" - In 1948. Norman Rockwell honored 4-H with a painting in the Saturday Evening Post. The painting depicts a County Agent examining a livestock project while an anxious 4-H'er and family look on. Now, the Nebraska 4-H Development Foundation is offering a limited edition set of plates with any proceeds to be used for Nebraska 4-H. A flyer is enclosed for your information. (Personal note: I saw these on display in Chicago in December...they're gorgeous! Former Extension Home Economist, Betty Kime, reports she will be using some of her retirement money you presented to her to purchase a set for their enjoyment.)

Child Care Nebraska" - A national public television outreach campaign entitled CHILD CARE AMERICA is underway to focus attention to the urgent need of affordable, quality child care in our country. The Nebraska ETV network is joining this effort with a localized programming and outreach campaign called "Child Care Nebraska".

Nebraska ETV has scheduled a variety of other special programs on child care to air the week of April 10-16.

The Daycare Disgrace 3 pm, Sunday, April 10
America's Children: Who Cares, Who Should? 9 pm, Monday, April 11
Who Cares for the Children? 7 pm, Wednesday, April 13
Dateline Nebraska (child care issues) 7 pm, Thursday, April 14
Mister Rogers Talks With Parents 7:30 pm, Thursday, April 14

The Daycare Dilemma 6:30 pm, Saturday, April 16

Nebraska ETV is also making available a packet of child care information for parents and child care providers. The material will be available on request in April by writing or calling the Nebraska ETV Information Department, PO Box 83111, Lincoln NE 68501, 402/472-3611.

Sincerely,
Lynda Radant
Extension Agent - Home Economics
In 1948, Norman Rockwell honored 4-H in an illustration. Today, you can honor 4-H with this set of limited edition collector’s plates.

Back in 1948, Norman Rockwell traveled around Jay County, Indiana with Herald K. Rippey, County Agent. The results of his experience became a wonderful painting and a 2-page illustration in the Saturday Evening Post. This is the only painting Mr. Rockwell ever made depicting 4-H. Today, the original art is hanging in the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. Many things may have changed since 1948, but the dedicated tradition of 4-H members remains.

We are offering these plates as they were seen in the Saturday Evening Post, as a two plate set. The first issue, on the left, shows Mr. Rippey examining a livestock entry for the coming county fair while the father of the 4-H member looks on. The second issue, on the right, shows the 4-H members waiting for their entries to be pre-judged. Together, you experience the long tradition of 4-H that has benefited so many young people through the years.

To preserve the color and detail of the original painting, we have chosen an 8 1/8” fine porcelain plate with a rich border of 23K gold as the “canvas”. Great care has been taken in preparing special ceramic transfers to assure the best color balance and detail. These full color transfers are hand applied to the plate and “fired” in a special kiln at very high temperatures, permanently fusing the color to the plate. Each plate will be individually hand numbered on a special backstamp and accompanied by a matching numbered certificate, affirming your plates status as part of this historic limited edition.

“The County Agent” pair of collector’s plates were created exclusively for 4-H. We are offering them as a set or individually for only $29.95 each plus shipping and handling. The proceeds of your purchase will help to support 4-H programs in your area. But don’t delay, the edition is limited and we wouldn’t want you to miss this opportunity.

Homemaker Reflections

Hi Extension Friends,

I am writing this to you with the morning sun streaming through my kitchen window. Aren't we all so thankful that the extreme heat has finally cooled down? It was terribly hard on man and beast...and it wasn't all that good for women!!

Hubby and I have been putting up the hay for the cows to gobble down this winter. I doubt if "Bossy" even cares how much sweat (or should I say perspire) and the many lines of cuss words that go into each bale. Things go so much nicer when our old machinery holds together,...but we love it!!

I got up early June 9th to go to Norfolk to attend the State Convention. (Where were the Cherry County Girls? I hope to make you feel guilty!)

My first stop was the Delegates Luncheon where I found Lynda Radant and Ardith Burton who had already gone down on Tuesday. We had a very nice luncheon at which I won a door prize of a potted watermelon plant. I set it out in my garden and its blooming like mad.

In the afternoon we attended the learnshops. I went to "Using Color and Pattern in Your Home", A cultural Arts Program, Health and Safety - "Alcohol Trivia", all of which were very informative.

Thursday evening we attended the "Melons and Music Banquet" with our own Ardith Burton presiding. She was just as humorous in Norfolk as she is in Cherry County!

The Great Nebraska Family was recognized and honored, which was Les and Betty Kime. The all-around Lady (Betty) had a broken leg which she acquired the week before when her horse fell with her. I don't think she was too "fond" of those crutches!

Friday morning was the County Chairs Breakfast and then on to Donna Hawley, R.N. B.S.N., Image: Sign-Post to the Future". At Noon was the closing luncheon. I wish you ladies could have seen the 3 tiers of food they had prepared.

I have touched on some of the highlights at the Convention. Some of the ladies I talked to haven't forgotten The Convention held in Valentine last year.

Achievement Day will be held in Kilgore on September 28.

See You There!

Cultural Arts Exhibits for 1989

Categories for next year's cultural arts entries will be
* Sculpture - wood, clay and metal
* Fiber Arts - knitting, crocheting, macrame
* Ceramics - pottery, free-form and commercial mold

A new ruling will permit Extension Club members to enter exhibits that have been completed within the three years last time frame - or since the last time this category was available. (Entries made after 1986.)

Great Nebraska Family

Congratulations are extended to the Dave and Kay Sandoz Family. They were honored at the Cherry County Fair as the entry for Cherry County to Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs state competition. They also rode in the Cherry County Parade.

Next year's family will be the Mae and Henry Schneider family of Cody.

Frosting on the Cake!

The Cherry County Fair Exhibit Hall really looked fantastic this year due to every club making a good effort to bring in their club banners. One 4-H Club even hung one in the Exhibit Hall and others were challenged to make one also!

Thanks to the special people making efforts to get the banners to town, and those who braved the ladders to hang them!

BEAUTIFUL 4-H Display Cases

Did you notice the new 4-H display cases at the Cherry County Fair? 4-H members, leaders (and agents!) were tickled to death with the new, secure, dust proof way to exhibit 4-H items. Special THANKS to the China Shop and Table Top Talent, Emanon, Happy Homemakers, Merriman Homemakers, and Cherry Homemakers Extension Clubs for your generous support!

Big Screen TV at Camp

The State 4-H Camp at Halsey now has the distinction of being a University of Nebraska - Satellite Downlink site. Educational programs from various Universities and the University of Nebraska cooperate to extend new information to clients via satellite delivery. These locations also have audio hookups to communicate back to those presenting new information. (This means you can finally talk back or talk to the TV people!)

The camp is trying to purchase a big screen TV so many people will be able to see these conferences easier. Anyone or organization can contribute to the camp TV by contacting the Cherry County Extension Office.
Education via Satellite

Video conferences will be available to Nebraskans this fall. For more information, contact the Extension Office or watch local newspapers for special instructions on tuning into these conferences on your own satellite.

Exchange Program

How would you like to travel to another state or country and stay in the homes of other women who are interested in learning more about other people in the world? Nebraska is considering just such a project. We are researching the pros and cons with other states who have initiated this project. We would need to start building a fund to support this new venture. The possible use of some of the monies from Friendship Coins could be used this way. Special donations would also be welcomed. If you have any suggestions on how to further this exchange, please contact Connie Jacobson.

Bed and Breakfast Business

The North Central publication "Developing a Bed and Breakfast Business Plan" has arrived! The office has a copy or they can be purchased for $1.00.

Commemorative Stamp

In 1990, 4-H will be celebrating its 75th anniversary. A movement is currently underway to convince the U.S. Postal Service that this event deserves a U.S. Commemorative Stamp. Because of the requests for new stamps (approximately 18-24 months), it is imperative that the Postal Service hear from the 4-H community as soon as possible.

4-H members, parents, donors, and volunteers who would like to see a 4-H stamp issued should write to the following address indicating that they endorse the proposal for a commemorative 4-H 75th anniversary stamp. It is imperative that the committee hear from us in large numbers if we hope to see this stamp become a reality.

Health Screening

Approximately 130 people were screened for diabetes at the Cherry County Fair thanks to the Cozy Fireside Club and the Valentine Area Diabetic Chapter! Balloons were provided by the Extension ladies as incentive to have their fingers pricked for the test.

The volunteers were most impressed with the quantity of people that took the responsibility for their own health to have their sugar and cholesterol levels and blood pressure checked! Everybody gained from the volunteer help! Thanks!

Ever wonder about the name?

"Extending" the University of Nebraska to the people of the state is the goal of the Cooperative Extension Service. Where does "Cooperative" fit? It's an educational venture between the United States Department of Agriculture, the land-grant University of Nebraska and the County Extension Board of Cherry County. Within the University, the Cooperative Extension program is directed by the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources but networks into all the colleges and schools within University that include teaching, research and extension!

As the Council had a vacancy in the Secretary's position, Joan Beyea stepped forward and said, "Sure, I'll help you out!".

When Brenda Daum moved, and the Publicity position opened, Mary Ward said "Sure! I can handle that!" And so all the news articles for Home Extension club reports now should be mailed to:

Mary Ward
PO Box 426
Valentine NE 69201

Boy! Isn't it great to have friends and volunteers that will help out like that? That's what makes Extension clubs great!
Nominations needed:

Enclosed is a job description for the 1989 Vice-Chair position and Treasurer. Betty Quick and Sandi Ormesher have provided greatly appreciated service to our organization.

The nomination committee chaired by Patty Colburn is now seeking nominations to the Executive Board. The appointment is for two years (or 8 meetings). The person must have served as a club president. If you are interested but have not served on the Council, volunteer to be the 1989 club president! (And watch everyone faint!)

The Cooperative Extension Service is undergoing lots of changes and entering an exciting new era. Now's the time to step forward and say, "Sure, I can handle that!"

Mark your Calendars

Three very exciting events are coming up so mark your calendars for September 28 and 29 and read the enclosed flyer for September 20 and 21 - Really give the Women in Ag - Building the Future conference consideration for your fall get-away.

Membership Booth at County Fair

Special thanks to Meredith Daly, Delores Colburn, and others (of whose names I don't have) for setting up the Extension Club recruitment booth at County Fair and being there to answer questions!

Footsteps lead everyone right to the Rainbow of Experiences! Thanks, gals!

It's been a long, busy but extremely rewarding summer in the Extension Office. The 4-H'ers and volunteers pulled together to make the 4-H year fantastic!

Our 1987 State Convention in Valentine was wonderful, too, and all of us have had a very relaxed year.

Now the fall routine is back again and I'm excited about new lessons, workshops and endless possibilities for 1988-89. I'm saying I really missed the close working relationships and fun we've had when we were busier! I'm ready! Are you?

On your marks, get set...

Let's Go!

Keynote Speakers

Dr. James Kendrick — A professor and currently Interim Head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL). He has been at UNL since he received his doctorate degree in economics from Ohio State University in 1962.

Kendrick’s areas of expertise include agricultural marketing, agricultural policy, and use of computers for agricultural application. He also is the co-founder of AGNET, the international agricultural computing network.

Dr. Chuck Lofy — Recognizing that how a person responds to change is even more critical than the change itself has enabled Dr. Chuck Lofy to help people successfully adjust to the many transitions they face during a lifetime.

Lofy received his B.A. and M.A. degrees in philosophy from St. Louis University and his doctorate in theology from the Gregorian University in Rome, Italy. He went on to do postdoctoral work in religion and psychiatry at the Menninger Institute in Topeka, Kansas. He co-founded the Wellness Center of Minnesota in Mankato. Dr. Lofy recently started his own consulting firm.

Cheryl Tevis — As senior farm issues editor for Successful Farming, Cheryl has been with the magazine since 1979. Previously she worked with Farm Wife News as an associate editor. She received her bachelor’s degree from Morningside College in Sioux City, IA and her M.A. from the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES

The Field Day at Gudmundsen Sandhills Lab went very well. There were five people from Cherry County that rode with me in the NRD van to the tour. The field day drew over twice as many people as the organizers expected. In all there were about 50 Cherry County residents in attendance. Due to the large crowd plans had to be changed and the tour was not as extensive as we had hoped. Many producers wanted to look at the grazing study, fencing, and solar powered wells set up this year. I have visited with Don Clanton and Jim Nichols about holding a Range Field Day next June to specifically look at the grazing study. Plans have been initiated to hold it towards the end of June and invite producers from Sandhills counties to explain what researchers are looking at in the meadow and grazing studies.

The paper Dennis Bauer and I had planned on presenting to the Nebraska Section Society for Range Management turned out to be my baby. Dennis wrenched his back and was unable to attend. I received several questions and many compliments on the presentation.

Dennis Bauer and I have been out to Lowell Belville's to help renovate some meadow ground using garrison creeping foxtail. We sprayed using two different chemicals, one was Roundup at 1 quart in 8 gallons of water, and the other is 58 ounces of Landmaster in 8 gallons of water. The visual evaluation of the spray treatments determined the Landmaster was a better treatment for lower cost per acre. The meadows were dry and we seeded portions of them on the 29th. Initially we hoped to seed all of the ground, but the water did come up and we will have to wait until freezing to seed the remaining meadow.

A potentially explosive situation has come up, dealing with trees dying in a canyon on Tim Colburn's. The Nebraska Department of Environmental Control has sent their representative from North Platte up to look at the situation. He was here on October 14 and asked if I would go with him to look at Tim's trees and then visit with Bill Joseph. The runoff from Joseph's feedlot is carrying manure and salts into the canyon and killing the pine trees. Some problems occurred when we visited with Bill; however, I went back to visit with him on the 22nd and things have cooled off.

Seven producers have called in with questions regarding beef rations and winter protein supplement. There are still calls about lawn problems dealing with brown patches. These have been diagnosed as fungal disease.

COMMUNITY RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT

The Managing Main Street Business Program began October 15. I was on the comment program to talk about Main Street on the 8th and received two additional businesses' enrollments because of the radio interview. I was unable to attend the first session and Lynda covered that night for me. There were seven businesses represented that night. We ended up with five businesses completing the six-week course. Comments on the first three sessions were very positive and the sixteen people seem very comfortable with the two instructors.
The Old West Regional Range Judging Contest held on October 3 was very successful. There were 189 contestants, 48 sponsors and 52 helpers involved in the contest. The youth and adults that judged were very complimentary about the contest and events. The atmosphere of the Fort Niobrara Refuge made the two day event very special. The plans to have key people on horseback for the contest was well received. The Wyoming sponsors commented that they were going to have a hard time putting together a contest to top or meet the 1987 Contest held here.

I attended the camp planning meeting for 4-H camp next year. The meeting was held at Halsey on the 23rd. Discussion centered around the camp dates and new activities to make the camps more attractive and less repeating of what has happened in past years.

The Stocker-Feeder Show and Sale went very well this year. We had 51 calves shown and sold 49 head. The only problem occurred when a buyer from Indiana did not pick up a calf he had bought. In checking it out the calf did not get listed on his buyer sheet and he was unaware he did not have it loaded until he got home. It all worked out and the seller took the calf back.

MISCELLANEOUS

Fall Conference was held in North Platte on the 20th and 21st. The first day was for agents and discussion was centered around the state of Extension and program development. The second day was a 4-H Seminar and was for all staff and secretaries. New projects and changes in existing projects were presented. We then talked about 4-H programs and shared experiences all Extension Units have had in programming for 4-H.
AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES

I attended the in-service training in North Platte on November 2-4. The sessions I participated in were all on beef production. Topics were directed towards beef production and marketing. The most interesting and useful session was Breeding Cattle for Specification Beef Markets presented by Jim Gosey. Some of the breed information could easily fit into some Cherry County operations. The topic will be used in Cherry County in February when Dr. Gosey is up for a Coffee Shop Session.

The hay probe has been checked out by four people this month. I used it at Dick Ballards and took six samples to be sent in. Plans for the NIR meeting in December have progressed very well. I have twelve samples to be tested for the meeting so far.

The LOTUS 1-2-3 Computer Training scheduled for next month is shaping up nicely. We have four people registered to date and have had many others express an interest.

The Managing Mainstreet program was a very positive step for those attending. Comments on the program were very complimentary. All five of the businesses have told me they will help advertise and encourage others when we run the program again. The businesses all developed a set of goals and have made changes to attain those goals.

4-H AND YOUTH

Achievement Night was a success. There were more people present than in 1986 and a good time was had by all. The accident that occurred that night did put quite a damper on the dance. However, the rest of the program was well received and went as planned. The most positive comments were on the "special awards" Lynda and I put together. There were also a lot of good comments on the recognition of parents along with the 4-H'ers.

I held a Shooting Sports informational meeting and was very surprised. We had 19 youth in attendance and each brought a parent with them. The kids were very excited and the parents felt this was a very worthwhile project and all were very supportive of the way we handle the entire program. The Hunter Safety Course will again be a requirement before the club members begin to shoot and the parents in attendance felt this was an excellent way to begin. A reorganizational meeting will be held in January.
The Near Infrared Reflectance feed testing meeting went very well. There were 11 producers, 1 feed salesman and 6 agency representatives in attendance. Five of the producers will be purchasing less supplemental feed for protein this year because of the results of their feed test. Since the meeting I have had four additional producers check out the probe to get their hay analyzed. The meeting accomplished at least one very good thing - convincing producers to test their forage and then purchase the supplement they need to balance a ration. The potential savings to producers is astronomical. It may not be in the form of reduced supplement costs but in livestock performance or both.

I met with Denny Bauer, Bud Stolzenburg, and Steve Pritchard to set up several meetings this winter. We plan to have different Extension Specialists in the area for Coffee Cup meetings in January, February, and March. Dates were also set up for Pesticide Training, Chemigation Training, an Ag Options Workshop, and Stocker Feeder Circuit meetings.

The Lotus 1-2-3 Training was attended by 12 people from 10 operations. Two were ranch businesses and the rest were various businesses from Valentine and Wood Lake. The comments were very positive and suggestions for several other computer workshops were made.

Lynda and I have made plans to hold an information gathering meeting with other agencies and village representatives about water quality. The increased concern and large number of requests for water testing kits through our office, show a need for education in Cherry County. The meeting will be held January 8 here in Valentine.

The calls I have received have almost all been concerning livestock nutrition and ration balancing. The last two weeks were very quiet when I was in the office. With Christmas and New Year's and the storm in between, not much was going on.

A Stocker Feeder Circuit meeting was held in Valentine to discuss the 1988 Show and Sale. There has been a concern over lower numbers of calves, especially at Bassett. Discussion centered around a combined show. It was decided to send ballots to everyone who participated in the 1987 Show and obtain feedback from the people. If the voting is positive from both Extension Units we will combine the 1988 Show and have it in Valentine. After an evaluation of 1988, future plans would be made. The voting will take place in January.

Meetings with each 4-H Council Standing Committee have been scheduled. Most of the meetings will occur in January. A planning sheet has been developed and will be used to map out plans for the 4-H year. The committees will need to take a more active role in planning and carrying out plans due to the staffing shortage. The people on the committees and the Council are very willing to help out in this way. Things are looking up and I feel the 4-H program in Cherry County will build and become very strong again.
January was a very interesting month. Three meetings were postponed due to the weather. The water quality meeting with village water managers, agencies, and concerned citizens went very well. We had only three water managers in attendance; however, the information they contributed was very helpful. The ASCS office agreed to provide space in their newsletter, the SCS agreed to disseminate information to producers, the NRD is planning to start a sampling network, the village water managers agreed to provide test results. All people involved have been very willing to cooperate. Extension will provide a map and mark water quality as test results are collected.

The meadow soils school co-sponsored by Central Sandhills and Cherry County Extension Units was educational to all who attended. There were four agency people, seven producers that attended. Gary Hergert, Extension Soils Specialist, did an excellent job presenting the information and handling questions that came up. Between the seven producers, an estimated 1250 acres of meadow ground was covered.

Four additional producers submitted hay for sampling. These were sent to the NIR testing lab in Lincoln. Several calls were taken on winter beef nutrition. Producers were concerned about hay supply and interested in means to stretch their supply.

4-H AND YOUTH

The Valentine Shooting Sports Club has re-organized and will again go through the Hunter Safety Program before beginning to shoot. There are 19 boys and girls registered for the club this year.

The Dog Training Classes have been scheduled and we met for the first time on the 17th. The remainder of the meetings will be held every Sunday through March. A mock trial will be held Sunday, April 17.

The 4-H Council met on the 27th to discuss plans for the coming year. We were planning to set up the calendar and present committee reports; however, several committee's were unable to meet due to weather so this item was tabled.

MISCELLANEOUS

I have received word from Oregon State on my acceptance into a PhD program and have decided to accept the position. I have enjoyed my work here in Cherry County and have expanded my knowledge considerably. I thank all of you for your support and hope to keep the many friendships I have made. I plan to work until March 18 and then move to Corvallis.
February has been a hectic catch-up month. All the meetings we could not get to or hold in January just got moved in with the regular February month. The Private Pesticide Applicator Training was held on the 9th. There were 10 producers certified at the meeting and three others certified by home study.

I met with Justin Brickner, ASCS, and Jan Joseph, SCS, to set up a series of informational meetings to help get information to producers dealing with Highly Erodible Land. They are scheduled for March 9, 10, and 11.

The Coffee Shop Sessions went very well this month. Jim Gosey talked about breeding programs and we had six producers in Merriman and only one in Valentine. Jim and I spent the morning of the 19th with Todd Rothleutner evaluating their breeding program and suggested some minor changes that I believe will help Wes and Todd improve their operation. The meeting with Don Hudson and Terry Mader on calving management and mineral nutrition was well attended. We had seven producers in Merriman and two in Valentine. We spent the morning of the 24th with Jerry Adamson looking at his livestock program. Between these two meetings we only had 15 producers, but they represented approximately 6500 cattle. When added to the two individual calls we made, producers management and ideas could affect 7500 to 8000 head of cattle in Cherry County. The Prairie Dog, Pocket Gopher, and Deer Damage meeting held in Valentine by the RC&D drew 34 people. There were no new procedures presented and many of the producers in attendance told me they were a little disappointed.

Gene Deutscher was up and we spent 1/2 a day with Dick Ballard on the IRM program. Through our suggestions and program ideas Dick has increased his percent calves weaned per cows exposed from 73% in 1986 to 79% in 1987. He has also increased his conception rate from 79% in 1985 to 90% in 1987. Another increase was made in his calf weaning weights from 464 to 492 (actual) comparing 1986 to 1987 respectively. The 205 adjusted weaning weights increased by 70 pounds. The one thing that did decrease was his winter supplement bill. This was very well accepted by him.

This month was again filled with calls on feeding beef cows in cold weather. More concern over nutrition just prior to calving was expressed by many producers. Especially because they were beginning to run out of their higher quality hay. The Nebraska Forage and Grassland Council area meeting in Ainsworth was attended by 30 producers. Six producers from Cherry County attended. There was quite a bit of interest on the topic I presented. Most producers in attendance agreed that they could afford to hay some meadow or upland earlier, thereby obtaining better quality hay and reducing their winter supplement bill.

I was invited to speak to the Garden Club on the 9th. There were 24 women in attendance. The meeting was very interesting and my topic of Nebraska Wildflowers for Landscaping was very well received.

4-H AND YOUTH

The 4-H Leader Training went very well on the 4th. Evaluation of the program was very positive from those in attendance. I attended the District 4-H Council meeting with Pat Young and Tom Higgins. All three of us brought back information and ideas that I hope will be implemented in Cherry County.
The Valentine Shooting Sports Club has been meeting and I am taking the youth through the Hunter Safety Program. The group in Cody has also started to go through the Hunter Safety program. I was able to meet with all of the 4-H Committees and we have developed work-sheets for each area of responsibility.

The Sandhills Stocker-Feeder Circuit met again. It was decided to hold only one show this year. After counting ballots from 1987 participants, the response was overwhelming to combine the two shows into a one day show and sale. The event will be held here in Valentine with responsibilities shared between Cherry and BKR Extension. An evaluation after the 1988 event will be made to determine which direction to go. The 1988 Show and Sale will be held on October 10.

The Niobrara Horse Committee met and set up dates for the three shows. They are June 4, 11 and 25. District Horse Show is in Gordon on June 27.
AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES

Well it is finally here! A break in the weather. Spring comes this month and my days on the job are getting fewer.

Jack Campbell was up for two Coffee Cup Sessions and drew five producers in Merriman and six here in Valentine. His topic of ear tags for fly control and the use of Ivomec was a hot topic. His recommendations were the same as last year's, dust bag, oilers, and possibly the Terminator tag. The tag ran out after two months last summer and the company is doubling the insecticide level for this year. The University will test the tags along with several others in 1988.

The Ag Options Workshop held on the 8th was not well attended. However, I wondered why I drove to Ainsworth (1 1/2 hour drive) that morning. I have had one producer come in and request a notebook from the University. The Highly Erodible Land meetings were set up for Merriman on the 9th, Valentine and Goose Creek School on the 19th, and District 180 on the 11th. I attended the Merriman and Valentine meetings. The Goose Creek School meeting was attended by two and the District 180 meeting was canceled due to weather.

I attended the Range Symposium in Lincoln on the 11th in conjunction with exit interviews with Administration. The Symposium centered on Conservation Reserve Program: What will it be like in 10 years? It was very informative. I also attended Spring Conference in North Platte on the 1st.

MISCELLANEOUS

Well this is it. There isn't much in this narrative because most of my time has been spent tying up things I am leaving. I believe and hope things are put together enough to carry through the interim between my leaving and a new agent coming.

I am having a hard time leaving because of the support and friendships I have developed and received over the past year and a half. I truely am thankful to all of you. Well my boxes are packed and in them I will carry a piece of everyone I have met in Cherry County. I hope to renew friendships in the future with you all. Adios.
