"MISSION FOR THE 21st CENTURY: FROM INCLUSION TO INFLUENCE, FROM DIVERSITY TO DECISION-MAKING POWER"

JOSEPH L. WHITE, PH.D.

Professor Emeritus, Psychology and Psychiatry, University of California, Irvine

For the past 38 years, Joseph L. White has enjoyed a distinguished career in the field of psychology and mental health as a teacher, mentor, administrator, clinical supervisor, writer, consultant, and practicing psychologist. He is currently Professor Emeritus of Psychology and Psychiatry at the University of California, Irvine, where he has spent most of his career as a teacher, supervising psychologist, mentor, and Director of Ethnic Studies and Cross-Cultural Programs.

Dr. White received his Ph.D. in clinical psychology from Michigan State University in 1961. Dr. White is the author of several papers and three books: "The Psychology of Blacks: An African American Perspective" (1990; 1984); "The Troubled Adolescent" (1989); "Black Man Emerging: Facing the Past and Seizing a Future in America" (1998). He was a pioneer in the field of Black psychology and is affectionately referred to as one of the "fathers of Black psychology" by his students, mentees, and younger colleagues. His seminal article in Ebony magazine in 1970, "Toward a Black Psychology" was instrumental in beginning the modern era of African-American and ethnic psychology.

In addition to his teaching and research, Dr. White has been a practicing psychologist and consultant. He has served as a supervising psychologist and staff affiliate psychologist to five hospitals and three clinical practices in Southern California. He has worked as a consultant with school districts, universities, private organizations, drug prevention programs, and government agencies. Dr. White was appointed to the California State Licensing Board by Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr. and served as chair for three years. He is currently a member of the Board of Trustees of the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kansas.
