Dear POD Conference Participants:

By now I hope that you have completed your travel arrangements for the POD Conference at Jekyll Island, Georgia. For those of you who will be flying into the Jacksonville and Brunswick Airports, a representative of the Golden Isles Touring Company will assist you upon arrival. At the Jacksonville Airport the representative will be stationed at the top of the escalators leading down to the baggage claim area. At the Brunswick Airport the representative will be stationed in the baggage claim area near the Courtesy Car Counter. Upon arrival, please check with your Golden Isle Touring Company representative concerning the time for the next shuttle service to the Villas by the Sea. (Note: An updated Sunday departure schedule will be provided at the conference.)

After Monday, October 2, if you encounter a transportation problem, first call the Golden Isle Touring Company (912) 638-8092. If they are not available, or cannot assist you, then call Villas by the Sea (912) 635-2521 and ask for Kathy Garland or Sheila Duncan. They will forward the request or problem to me if they are unable to resolve the situation.

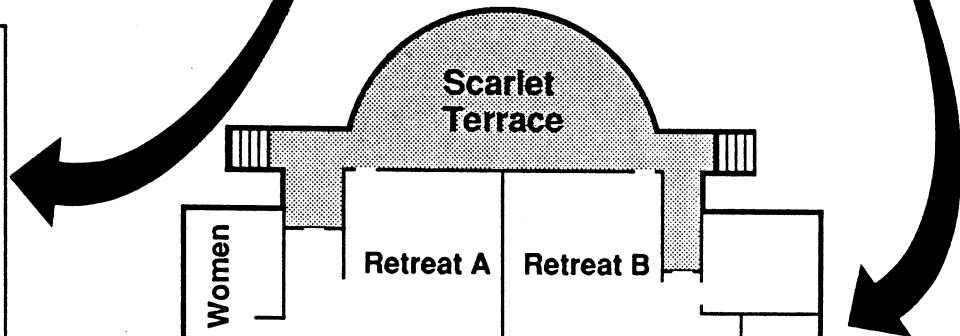

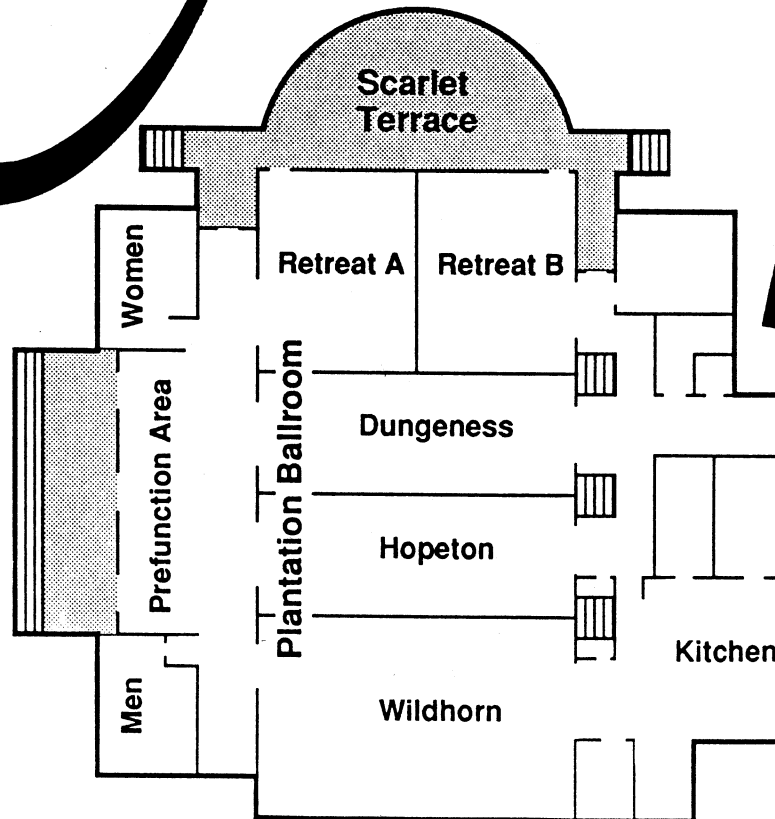

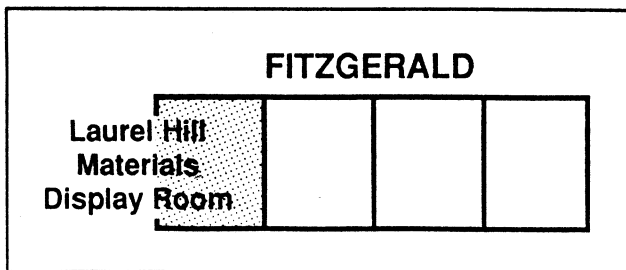

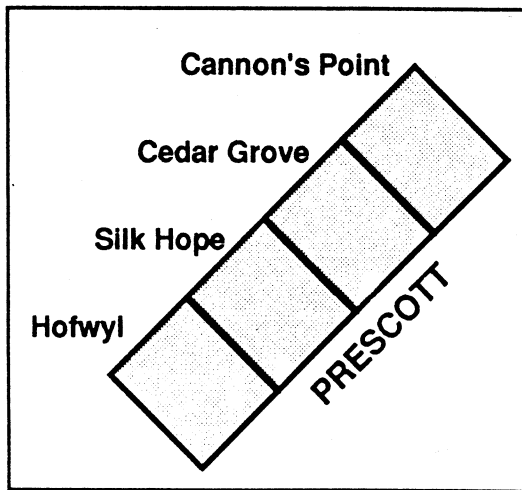

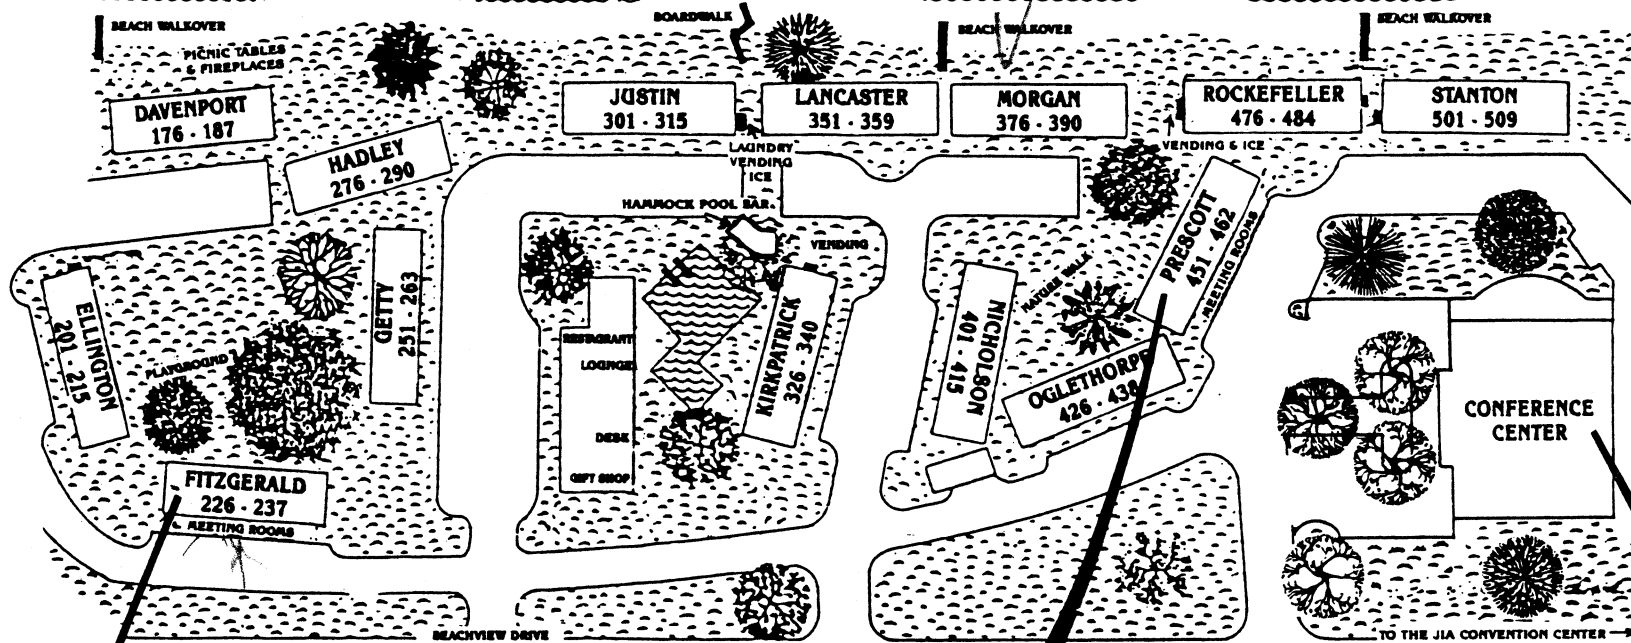

For those of you who will be providing your own transportation, two maps are enclosed to help you find your way. For those of you concerned about the effects of Hurricane Hugo on the Island, there were none. All of us on the conference planning team are looking forward to hosting a memorable and productive conference. If you should have any questions, please do not hesitate to call either Ed or myself. See you in Jekyll.

Sincerely,

Art Crawley, Conference
Site Coordinator
