Social Work Collection Development Policy Note
University Libraries, University of Nebraska-Lincoln
David C. Tyler, Sociology Liaison Librarian, December, 2009
Approved: CDC, December 16, 2009

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln does not have a social work department or program and so does not have a specific policy for the field. While materials from the field of social work (LC subclass HV) may be of interest to the teaching, research and service activities of the entire university community, their primary audiences at UNL are the faculty, staff, and students of the Department of Child, Youth and Family Studies in the College of Education and Human Sciences; the School of Criminology and Criminal Justice (Lincoln Program) in the College of Public Affairs and Community Service; the Department of Sociology in the College of Arts and Sciences; the Department of Special Education and Communication Disorders in the College of Education and Human Sciences; and the Women's and Gender Studies Program. Questions concerning collection foci and collection strengths in the HV subclass should be directed to the policies of the appropriate departments and/or programs.
