I am so interested in the peer review project at UNL. Such an academic development opportunity will be the best assistance I can get to meet the challenge from being the only professor in the Arabic program, responsible for both developing the program and teaching the three different levels of Arabic at UNL. I strongly believe in continuous learning as a tool to improve our educational techniques and teaching philosophies, not only because teaching is my main focus and academic responsibility as a professor of practice, but also because teaching has always been my main passion and most rewarding personal interest.

The Arabic program at UNL is an interestingly growing program. We have started only the last fall by two classes to develop in less than one academic year to adding a third year Arabic and introducing Minor in Arabic studies. Students’ enrolment in the three levels of Arabic I teach are promising. For the coming fall 2014 we had even to move the meeting room for my ARAB 101 class to a new room with a larger capacity (46 students) because of the increasing number of enrolment.

Although I will be teaching three levels of Arabic for spring 2015, I am choosing ARAB 102 (First year Arabic) for the project, since the number of students in this class is more manageable and comes in the middle between first year and third year Arabic. I am anticipating that 15 to 17 students will be enrolled in this class.

I look forward to all the exceptional training and developing opportunities the peer review program at UNL provides and I truly look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Memo 1: Course goals and objectives

The course I will be teaching for spring 2015 and considering for the Peer review project is First year Arabic /ARAB 102 (see syllabus in Appendix). The Arabic program offered at UNL provides 3 years of Arabic teaching. This class comes as the second semester in the students’ way to get their minor in Arabic studies – if interested- or to reach the highest levels of language proficiency provided at UNL. Now, the fact that the majority of Arabic programs nationwide provide 4 to 5 years of Arabic and we provide only 3 years makes us modify our goals, so we strive to reach advanced levels in an accelerated way. In addition, the fact that Arabic is not taught in Nebraska high schools, unlike other languages also offered at UNL, adds to the challenging nature of teaching Arabic. Students enroll in Arab 101 start from the novice level to end with high Novice by the end of the first year. Second year starts with law intermediate and we get to high intermediate by the end of the year; therefore, Arab 102 (the class I am considering for the peer review project) is a class designed to reach high novice to low intermediate levels. However, despite the acknowledgment of these challenges, the national guidance of assessing different language proficiency levels as adopted by ACTFL and STARTALK are highly implemented and considered as a pedagogic guidance.

Goals of the class are derived from goals nationally recognized and agreed upon for low intermediate Arabic learners’. This systematic consistency with the nationally recognized standards -albeit can be more challenging- insures students’ ability to pursue national major programs in Arabic or their ability to compete for national grants, scholarships and study abroad programs. The standers adopted by ACTFL and STARTALK equally consider the linguistic as well as the cultural content of teaching Arabic. These standers known as the five C’s are:
Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Community. In my ARAB 102 Syllabus these standards are structured in two different ways: in a general summative way, that typically comes under the course description and in a step by step detailed way that takes care of highlighting the specific standard that each class will be focusing more on. As you can see in the attached syllabus every class prepares students to what they expect to learn by including in the class syllabus a chart with the different categories, namely:

1- Class topic
2- Class required reading
3- Type, goal of activities and applied standard (Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Community).

However, this clarification doesn’t entail the complete isolation or separation between different standards or variable linguistic skills, since they must be all equally practiced and equally taken care of because of their intertwined nature. Nevertheless, the schedule is highly useful, in terms of bringing more attention to the main focus of the class, without indicating the irrelevancy of the rest of standards or mods of standards.

As mentioned before, the cultural content of learning Arabic is part of the international and global student adventure. Therefore, students will be exploring different local cultural notions and concepts, different ways of understanding and evaluating global social practices, and they will have a better chance to be better prepared as global citizens. This acquired global awareness is of continuous increasing value, especially if we take into consideration the increasing international tensions, global conflicts, and struggles based on local ideological agendas. With no doubt, students more involved into academic programs with global context will have way better chances for future professional success, and will be more prepared for more effective political as well as widely recognized academic, political and diplomatic participation.

Writing a class portfolio and participating in the peer review project is a great useful tool I need for documenting my teaching strategy, student learning outcomes and for highlighting all the effort I invest in my career as a teacher, particularly speaking, as a professor of practice; because as a professor of practice, my main concern and my main duty is quality teaching. I have 0% research responsibility and I am mainly evaluated as a teacher.

My portfolio will cover almost all different aspects intrinsic to my course: assessment, different levels of assessment, student engagement, activities and strategies for insuring student in-class engagement, effective technology implementation, outside activities, etc. Different ways will be used to assess student learning outcomes. Meeting the class objectives for ARAB 102 means meeting the following goals:

- Students will learn about Arabic countries, they should be able to identify these countries on the map and they should be able to say their names in Arabic. Students also should be able to name different nationalities in Arabic and they will practice holding short conversations about different nationalities.
- Students will learn how to count in Arabic
- Students will practice short conversations related to market
- Students will learn the plural in Arabic
- Students will learn colors in Arabic
- Students will learn tenses in Arabic and some useful verbs
- Students will learn how to name the days of the week in Arabic
- Students will learn how to tell time in Arabic
- Students will learn how to name different types of food and drinks, how to order in a restaurant and will be introduced to the Arabic cuisine
- Students will learn how to make negation in Arabic
- Students will learn about comparatives and superlatives in Arabic.
- Students will learn about Arabic culture, Arabic traditional singing and dancing, Arabic social life and Arabic calligraphy.

By the end of the semester students should be able to express themselves in short sentences and hold simple conversations. They should be able to read short paragraphs and write simple sentences.
Memo 2: Teaching methods and Course different assessment tools

Course assessment and student achievement evaluation is done via using two different assessing methods: formal and informal.

 Formal course assessment:

Formal course assessment includes:

1-Weekly assignments: every week we make sure to work on a specific theme, for example, counting Arabic countries, food, etc. By the end of the week, I post a weekly assignment that includes all the learned skills. Weekly assignments are out of 20 points.

2-Weekly Quizzes: Every Monday students take a quiz.

3-Med term Exam

4-Final Exam

5-Final oral Exam

 Informal Student assessment:

1-In-class interactive games (to be played collectively)

2-In-class group activities

3- In-class computer games
Examples:

Some Examples of the used Activities divided according to the syllabus themes:

Arabic countries

Activity 1: Students will be given cards with names of countries written in Arabic. Students who set in an open box style will practice asking about nationalities by picking one from the class and then holding a simple conversation with him or her:

Student 1: مرحبا
Student 2: اهلا وسحلا
Student 1: من اين أنت؟ أنت؟
Student 2: أنا من مصر. أنا مصرية

Activity 2:

Students will listen to short traditional Arabic songs along with some videos taken from different Arabic countries; after they listen. They will have to guess what different Arabic countries or cities we picked those videos from.

Counting

Activity 1: Students will play an interactive in-class game to practice numbers from 1 to 10. Students stand in a circle holding each other’s hands. They count from 1 to 10. The student who counts 10 should hit his/her friends hand quickly to stay in the game. The circle will keep getting smaller until one student wins the competition.

Activity 2: After learning counting students will act buying from a traditional Arabic market with paper money to count.

In the market

After learning the names of items usually found in Traditional Arabic markets, students will practice their new vocab by playing a memory game. Students will be divided into 5 groups and they will be given lists of items usually found in Arabic markets. They will see power point photos taken from authentic Arabic markets. Each picture will be shown only for 1 minute. Students will have then to work in groups to decide what they were able to identify and they will have to check the items on their lists. Answers form the five teams will be checked and compared.
Colors

This class depends on integrating technology into the classroom activities. Students will practice colors with online coloring pages (click on image to go to the site).
Tenses:

Students will practice the four tenses in Arabic by being divided into four groups; each group will represent a tense. Then a printed text will be given to the four groups. The text is designed to include the four tenses of verbs already known by students. Students will take turns in reading the text and finding the tense they represent; they will have to tell the other groups how they figured out their tenses. For example, all tenses in present for “he” would sound like وَجَدَ المَطْعَمَ مُفْتَوَحًا and ends by the ضممة vowel.

خَالِد يَحُبُّ مَطْعَمٍ. خَالِد يَذْهَبُ الْيَوْمَ.

عندَما يَذْهَبُ خَالِد الْيَوْمَ وَجَدَ المَطْعَمَ مُفْتَوَحًا.

فَمَنْ خَالِدُ الْبَابَ وَجَلَّسَ عَلَى الْطَّاولَةَ. شَرَبَ خَالِدُ شَايِ

وَقَهْوَةَ وَأَكْلَ سَمْكَ. غَداً سَيَذْهَبُ خَالِد الْيَوْمَ أَيْضاً وَ

سَيَأْكُلُ بِيْتَزا وَسَيَشْرِبُ كُوْلَا.

اَسْمَعُ هَلْ يَرِيدُ زِيَادُ الْذَهَابَ الْيَوْمَ بِمَطْعَمَ معَ خَالِد صَباحٍ غَدً؟

اَكْتَبْ لِيِّ الْجِوَابِ فِي اِيْمِیْلِ لِوِ سَمَحَتْ.
Days of the week:

After learning how to name days of the week, students will practice writing a weekly schedule of some Arabic celebrities. They will work in groups of two to try to guess what is the celebrity is most likely to be doing.

Time:

Students will practice how to say the time by using a design of a clock. Each student will change the time and another student to tell him/ her the time. Questions and answers will be in Arabic.

Verb conjugation:

This activity includes practicing days of the week, telling time, verb conjugation, tenses and verbs. The class will be divided into 4 to 5 groups. Each group will get the timetable for a different character. Groups will have to work together to convert what they see into words. This activity includes practicing telling the time, days of the week, verb conjugation, and tenses.

Cooking:

Students will play a computer game for cooking. Each game requires two students: a cook and his assistant. The game requires the assistant to give instructions in Arabic to the cook, the cook can’t do anything unless he or she hears the instruction given correctly. Instruction will be like

أضف طحين

The team who finishes the task in less time gives one point to his team.

Arabic calligraphy:

Students will be provided by colorful paper and markers and follow a step by step video to create their first masterpiece in Arabic calligraphy!
Memo 3: Analysis of student learning outcomes

1- Different learning style survey
2- Two step Survey (I can do survey)
3- More/less questionnaire
4- Course evaluation

1- Different learning style survey

Students’ different learning styles can affect their learning outcomes and should be considered for any effective class planning. Students were asked to take a simple survey to determine their learning styles. To be able to provide me by more accurate results, I printed a simple sheet to explain what it means to be a visual learner, an auditory learner or a kinesthetic learner. Also students were provided by a link for more information. As I got the results, the balance between lecturing, games, audio and visual tools was made according to my data analysis (see below)
Three Different Learning Styles

Visual Learners:

- take numerous detailed notes
- tend to sit in the front
- are usually neat and clean
- often close their eyes to visualize or remember something
- find something to watch if they are bored
- like to see what they are learning
- benefit from illustrations and presentations that use color
- are attracted to written or spoken language rich in imagery
- prefer stimuli to be isolated from auditory and kinesthetic distraction
- find passive surroundings ideal

Auditory Learners:

- sit where they can hear but needn't pay attention to what is happening in front
- may not coordinate colors or clothes, but can explain why they are wearing what they are wearing and why
- hum or talk to themselves or others when bored
- acquire knowledge by reading aloud
- Remember by verbalizing lessons to themselves (if they don't they have difficulty reading maps or diagrams or handling conceptual assignments like mathematics).

Kinesthetic Learners:

- need to be active and take frequent breaks
- speak with their hands and with gestures
- remember what was done, but have difficulty recalling what was said or seen
- find reasons to tinker or move when bored
- rely on what they can directly experience or perform
- activities such as cooking, construction, engineering and art help them perceive and learn
- enjoy field trips and tasks that involve manipulating materials
- sit near the door or someplace else where they can easily get up and move around
- are uncomfortable in classrooms where they lack opportunities for hands-on experience
- Communicate by touching and appreciate physically expressed encouragement, such as a pat on the back.¹

The outcome of Different learning styles analysis for ARAB 102 (Spring 2015):

Chart 1

- Visual learners
- Kinesthetic learners
- Auditory learners
- Visual- Auditory learners
- Visual- Kinesthetic learners
- Undecided (referred to themselves as a mixer of the three styles)

As we can see, half the class classified themselves as visual learners and quarter the class classified themselves as: Visual- Kinesthetic learners. These facts were taken into consideration as the syllabus was slightly modified in favor of a visual and hands on teaching methods.

2- Two step Survey

Students will be asked to answer (I co do sentences) that can show to what degree they have met the goals of the class. The used can do sentences are concluded from the syllabus itself and very connected to the semester’s plan. Students will be asked to answer questions related to their linguistic abilities by using numerical values to accurately determine their level. These numerical values are the following:

1: strongly agree

2: agree

3: disagree

4: strongly disagree

5: Not applicable

For the second step, students will be asked to answer the same set of questions they answered for the pre-class survey, except that they will have to demonstrate their knowledge, by answering questions related to the content of the questions they answer positively.

Example:

I can identify some Arabic countries on the map………..
A student who provides 1 or 2 to this question will have to support his positive answer by completing a related simple task like the following:

Where is مصر and السعودية on the map?

Analysis of can do survey:

Students had to answer 520 can do statements that were created according to my course goals. Out of the 520 questions students answered 329 questions, choosing numerical values for their answers according to the following scale

1: strongly agree

2: agree

3: disagree

4: strongly disagree

5: Not applicable
Week 1 can do statement analysis:

- 1  strongly agree
- 2  agree
- 3  disagree
- 4  strongly disagree
- 5  not applicable to me
Last week can do statement analysis:

- 1 strongly agree
- 2 agree
- 3 disagree
- 4 strongly disagree
- 5 not applicable to me
Conclusions:

Students took the end of class can do statement survey. The goal from taking it was to see if the course was able to meet the course objectives previously mentioned. To make it a general linguistic ability quiz, students had to take the survey with no previous preparation. End of class can do survey was provided by questions to demonstrate the actual ability of mastering the task.

From comparing the pre-class survey and the end of class survey it was shown that:

- The number of answers holding value 1 increased from 13% to 38%
- The number of answers holding value 2 increased from 16% to 20%
- The number of answers holding value 3 dropped from 22% to 20%
- The number of answers holding value 4 dropped from 15% to 6%
- The number of answers holding value 5 dropped from 34% to 16%
2- Analysis of More/less questionnaire:

In this survey, students were asked about what they like to see more or less in class.

Analysis of more/less questionnaire (week 1):

Things to be seen more:

- More culture classes
- More grammar classes
- More time to practice
- More games and interactive activities
- More conversation practice
- More repetition
- More vocab review
- Longer sentence practice
Things to be seen less:

- Less games
- Less usage of the book
- Less challenging quizzes and assignments
Analysis of more/less questionnaire (last week):

Things to be seen more:

- Culture classes
- Grammar
- Time to practice
- Games
- Repetition
- Assignments
- The book
- Videos
Things to be seen less (last week):

- Less games
- Less assignments
Conclusions:

First week and last week comparison:

a- Things to be seen less

- Less games
- Less usage of the book
- Less challenging quizzes and assignments
b- Things to be seen more

- Culture classes
- Grammar
- Time to practice
- Games
- Repetition
- Assignments
- The book
- Videos

From comparing the results from week one and the last week I can roughly conclude the following:

1- There is a consistency in students’ suspicious attitudes towards games. This can be explained via two facts: First, the difficulty level of the task itself. Students’ using their new acquired linguistic abilities feel the challenge from processing information and they seem to be favoring videos which doesn’t require more than receiving information. Second, this result matches the fact that only 5% of the class referred to themselves as totally kinesthetic learners or hands on learners. The study assures with no doubt that understanding student’s different learning styles and carefully considering the different portions each class can have is a key factor for an effective addressing to students’ individual needs and preferences.

2- There is a consistency in students’ positive attitude towards videos which can be explained by the fact that 50% of the class classified themselves as visual learners, as found in chart 1.
3- The text book used in this course moved from the category of things to be less used to the category of things to be more used. This indicates that the book was considered as a useful educational tool. (this confirmation is important since I switched to the this new text book after one year of teaching another text book)

4- Students switched from asking for fewer assignments to asking for more assignments. Some of them asked for longer assignments.

5- Students’ interest in culture classes continued and increased. Many students found the Arabic culture fascinating and get interested in the language because of their interest in the culture. However, the demand for addressing the culture more, can’t be fulfilled solely in language classes and should be satisfied by specialized “taught in English” classes about the Arabic culture. This confirms the importance of introducing the culture classes to the Arabic Studies program at UNL, which will be the next step starting by fall 2015.
INFORMED STUDENT CONSENT STATEMENT

Course Title:
Teacher Name:
Semester/Year:

Your teacher is conducting an inquiry into his/her teaching. He/she is examining the effectiveness of his/her instructional strategies, comparing, and/or evaluating the effectiveness of instructional techniques, curricula, or classroom management methods. This form requests your consent to allow your classroom performance data (e.g., examination scores, project grades, attendance records) and coursework (e.g., examinations, quizzes, papers, drawings) to be included as part of your teacher's classroom inquiry. Examples of actual student work are often very useful to demonstrate how much and how deeply students are learning. The form also asks you to allow your teacher to use these data for possible publication or presentation.

Your participation in this inquiry is voluntary, and there is no compensation should you choose to participate. The inquiry will be conducted as part of the class practice and activities as defined in your course syllabus. Your participation is not expected to require any added out-of-class time. Unless otherwise specified, your name will be removed from all course work examples and you will not be referred to by name in any published materials or in any presentations. Once the classroom inquiry is complete, all copies of your course work and/or examples that were retained by your teacher will be treated in the same manner as he/she maintains student work and records from other courses.

To indicate your willingness to have your classroom performance data included, please check one of the following two choices:

_____ I allow my classroom performance data to be included in my teacher's classroom inquiry.

_____ I do not allow my classroom performance data to be included in my teacher's classroom inquiry.

To indicate your willingness to have your coursework included, please check one of the following two choices:

_____ I allow copies of my coursework to be included in my teacher's classroom inquiry.

_____ I do not allow copies of my coursework to be included in my teacher's classroom inquiry.

If you are willing to have your coursework included, check one of the following two choices:

_____ I decline to have my name remain on any work that is included
_____ I want my name to remain on any course work that is included.

Please specify any additional restrictions on the use of your classroom work:

By signing below you give your permission for work you produce for this course (and your classroom performance data) to be used with the restrictions and for the purposes indicated above. You understand that your grade is not connected in any way with your participation in this inquiry, and that your anonymity will be maintained unless you designate otherwise. Finally, you understand that you are free to decide not to participate in this study or to withdraw at any time without adversely affecting your relationship with your teacher or the university, and withdrawal will not result in any loss of benefits to which you are otherwise entitled.

Course Description:
In this course, students will improve their proficiency in the four basic skills: reading, writing, listening and speaking. Students will be encouraged to use their Arabic in different ways to express their views and improve their communicative abilities. The curriculum is carefully designed to integrate technology and to address students' different learning styles (to be determined by taking simple tests: visual, auditory, hands-on... etc..) and to meet the 21st century national standards of teaching foreign languages, known as the five Cs: Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Community. Short Arabic YouTube video movies, designed computer games and authentic written materials are to be used. The course also introduces students to the Arabic and Islamic social and cultural life.

Textbooks (required):

Instructional Method: Method of instruction includes engaging students in different fun learning activities and games carefully designed to insure a smooth learning of new vocabulary and grammar. The class depends on teaching Arabic via working in groups, using electronic media and in-class games and activities. Our Discussions introduce you to the Arabic culture and include the most controversial and even the most misunderstood issues related to Arabic and Islamic culture.

Requirements:
20% assignments, 20% quizzes, 20% mid-term Exam, 20%Final Exam, 20%Final Oral Exam.

Optional Extra credit opportunities for participating in certain activities or writing additional assignments as well as competitive extra credit opportunities will be presented in this class; every extra credit opportunity equals adding two points to your final grade.
Grading scale:

Instructor contact:
If you need guidance, additional assistance or if you simply like to have further discussions other than what we do in class, please feel free to come to my office during my office hours or email me to arrange for an appointment if you prefer times other than my office hours.

Attendance policy:
Students are expected to attend every class; being absent needs to be justified by way of contacting the instructor. Missing classes for no legitimate reason will automatically lower your final grade one degree for each absence (your final grade will be reduced from A+ to A, from A to A- and so on).

Disabilities:
Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact me for a confidential discussion of their individual needs for academic accommodation. It is the policy of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln to provide flexible and individualized accommodations to students with documented disabilities that may affect their ability to fully participate in course activities or to meet course requirements. To receive accommodation services, students must be registered with the Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) office, 132 Canfield Administration, 472-3787 voice or TTY.

Academic Integrity Policy:
UNL Policy of academic integrity and academic honesty applies. Please see UNL Student Code of Conduct for more information.

Cell phone and electronic device usage in class:
Using electronic devise for purposes that exceed class needs can be extremely distractive and shows no appreciation to the instructor as well as to other students, therefore it is totally unexpected to use your cell phone or your laptop for other purposes in class. Violations will not be tolerated and every violation will reduce your final grade one degree (from A+ to A, from A to A- and so on).

Important notes:
As you can see the Syllabus refers only to the names of games we will be playing and activities we will be doing. However, a full description of the rules of those games is to be announced on time.

Every weekends with an assignment. Assignments will be given Friday and will be due the following Monday; late assignments will NOT be accepted.

- The class TA will go through the assignments with you every Monday. 20% of your final grade will be given to assignments. We are going to have 10 Assignments through the course, each equals 2 points.
- Every unit ends with a quiz. After you submit the quiz the class TA will check the quiz with you in class.
- Please give your homework and assignments to the TA.

- Make sure to bring your book and your activity book to every class.

- Students are expected to make a journal where they write down every new word I introduce. Students should bring their journals every class. This journal will be used as our 102 dictionary.

- Students are expected to come to class prepared. Despite student participation is not obligatory; it will still be highly encouraged and appreciated.

- There will be extra optional material posted on BB for those interested in learning more and going beyond what we cover during the course time. This extra material provides additional practice opportunities and won’t be required for this course. However, feel free to contact me or the class TA if you had any questions about this material, or if you need some extra help dealing with it.

Class schedule:

*Although all skills are equally practiced and all five standards are equally taken care of because of their intertwined nature the schedule is useful in terms of referring to the main focus of the class without indicating the irrelevancy of the rest of the standards or the mods of standards.

WE SOLICIT YOUR COMMENTS ABOUT THIS CLASS:

Dr. Abla is AWESOME. We are so lucky to have her.

WE SOLICIT YOUR COMMENTS ABOUT THE TEACHER OF THIS CLASS:

This class was good. A lot of information covered in a short time though

WE SOLICIT YOUR COMMENTS ABOUT THIS CLASS:

Arabic is a different language, not a difficult language. This course has been efficiently organized. It's been built to instrument new and old vocab, which sometimes is rare. So languages cover vocab then forget about it. I would recommend oral quizzes every week, I think speaking is more important than writing.

WE SOLICIT YOUR COMMENTS ABOUT THE TEACHER OF THIS CLASS:

Abia is AWESOME!!
