President’s Message

As we get ready for the end of another academic year, we also grow closer to the end of our UNOPA year. Together we have accomplished many things this year and created priceless memories. I hope you have made new, lasting friendships in UNOPA that will benefit you long after this year—such as a smiling face in a department across campus that you can connect with now as a result of your involvement in UNOPA.

Perhaps you found benefit from the speakers at the membership meetings. UNL Softball Head Coach, Rhonda Revelle, challenged us to take pride in what we do each day. Honor and share our talents. Kacey from the Victim’s Advocates Office shared how to take action and intervene as she spoke about “Bystander Intervention: Sexual Assault and Relationship Violence.” Meg Laueran, UNL Communications Director, urged each of us to be part of the 4Rs—Recruit, Retain, Research and Reputation—as we enter the Big Ten. Dr. Paul Read showed us the importance of UNL Research in February as he discussed Nebraska’s developing grape and wine industry.

Or maybe it was the new skills, techniques, or information from the brown bags and workshops that you could take back to your office that was a key highlight in your year. Ranelle Maltsas, from UNL’s Information Services, showed us how to use the latest technology tools to work better, smarter, and faster. Our New Year’s resolutions were helped by Kimberly Barrett’s ‘Healthy Lifestyles’ brown bag in January. MaryAnn Hollingsworth, CEOE, NAEOP South Central Director, urged us to figure out the “onions in our lives” at our spring workshop.

In our spare time we have worked side by side at the Ways and Means parking lot fundraisers and attended state and national workshops and conferences. Several of our members represent UNOPA on campus-wide committees throughout the year. We honored the Floyd S. Oldt Boss of the Year, Outstanding Staff, and Silver Pen award recipients in November. The annual Rose Frolik Award was presented in April honoring a UNOPA member. In addition we recognized the invaluable service of our past Presidents in April.

If you are one of the many new members who joined UNOPA this year, I again welcome you. My hope is that you will find great benefits in UNOPA for your own personal and professional growth. Take advantage of everything that is offered. It will be the best use of your time.

We can look forward to continuing our path of personal and professional growth at UNL with Linda Luedtke as our next President. I know you will give Linda and her Board the support they need to lead you in the coming year. Please join us at the May membership meeting as we install Linda and her Board.

It has truly been an honor to serve this year as your President. Thank you to those of you who served on the Board and as Committee Directors and Committee members. Your time and energy has been greatly appreciated. Thank you to all of you for the lasting memories I will take with me from this year.

—Cathy Robertson, CEOE, UNOPA President 2011–2012

MAY 22 Brown Bag Lunch Workshop

Dr. Dawn O. Braithwaite, Willa Cather Professor and Chair of the Department of Communication Studies at UNL, will present a workshop titled “Communicating Credibility for Professionals,” from noon to 1:00 p.m. on May 22 in the East Campus Union (Room will be posted).

Dr. Braithwaite said, “Credibility is the extent to which others see us as competent, trustworthy, honest, and strong. Credibility does not happen by accident, but comes from how we communicate and behave strategically to create the impression we wish for others to have. In this hands-on workshop, we will explore how to understand, plan, communicate, and maintain our own credibility in the workplace and beyond.”

Dr. Braithwaite has worked as a consultant and speaker for many public and private organizations. She has a research and teaching speciality in interpersonal and family communications, and communication in groups and teams.

Please RSVP to Jane Schneider, Mentoring Director, nschneider2@unl.edu.

Spring Workshop

UNOPA Spring Workshop Wrap Up

I hope those who attend the workshop “Do You Have Onions in Your Life?” enjoyed it. NAEOP South Central Area Director MaryAnn Hollingsworth, CEOE, was a fun presenter. She described people as different types of onions. My main takeaway was that everyone has positive traits, and I should focus on those instead of the negatives that annoy me. We had a good turnout with 21 UNOPA members and 8 LP SAOP members in attendance.

I want to thank the Employee Concerns Committee for the Pampered Gardener Basket, the UNOPA Board for the Gardening Basket, and the Career Development Committee for the Onions Basket. The baskets were such fun! The proceeds from the basket raffle and workshop will go to the Bradley Munn Professional Growth Fund. This fund provides opportunities for UNOPA members to be reimbursed for professional development activities. If you missed the chance to support this fund through the basket raffle, please consider purchasing NOOK Color raffle tickets from Mari Greer.

Dear UNOPA Members,

As your newly-elected President, I am encouraging our UNOPA members to serve on the 2012–13 UNOPA Board as Standing/Ad Hoc Committee Directors.

Serving on the UNOPA Board does not require a huge time commitment and is one of the best ways to network and make friends across campus. It’s fun, gets you involved, and allows you to grow and develop your talents and strengths. Being a Committee Director is an excellent opportunity to develop your leadership skills while being a supportive UNOPA member. Like any other organization, the more involved someone is within UNOPA, the more rewarding membership will be.

I recently sent out a list of the duties for each Committee Director and the person currently holding the position. I’m sure any of them will be more than happy to answer any questions about their duties. Please Note: Questions regarding the Awards Committee should be directed to Barbara Homer. The Outreach and Mentoring Committees have been combined for the coming year and either Jane Schneider or Mary Klucas will answer questions relevant to those areas.

Since the installation of the new board is May 8th, please let me know as soon as possible which Committee Director position interests you.

I look forward to hearing from you about the committees and seeing all of you at the May 8 installation!
