<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The newspapers, pamphlets, and books gathered by the Reverend Charles Burney (1757-1817) represent the largest and most comprehensive collection of early English news media. The present digital collection, that helps chart the development of the concept of 'news' and 'newspapers' and the &quot;free press&quot;, totals almost 1 million pages and contains approximately 1,270 titles. Many of the Burney newspapers are well known, but many pamphlets and broadsides also included have remained largely hidden. These treasures can now be searched, browsed and discovered again within Gale Digital Collections.</td>

<td>British Library Newspapers is a digital archive of more than 160 national and regional British newspapers published between the mid-eighteenth and mid-twentieth centuries. The newspapers reflect regional attitudes, cultures, and political events, and provide an alternative view to the London-centric press of the time. The collection includes high-quality digital images of the titles featured as well as searchable text. The University Libraries provides access to Parts I-IV of the collection; Part V is not available.</td>
