FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK

Annual Progress Reports (AD 421): You may wonder, after the effort you put into preparing these reports, if anyone reads them! As a matter of fact, Dr. Kleis and I reviewed each of them as they came in. I would like to say that we were pleased with them. We think they show improvement over reports of other years. Of course, they vary in form and substance; a few could stand some more effort in preparation. But most were well done, interesting, and informative.

These reports are important; in the first place, they represent a synopsis of the findings of the research program of the Station during the past year. They are our best means of getting up-to-date on what you are learning from your efforts. We use them repeatedly in responding to inquiries about the Station program. Second, these reports go into the Current Research Information System operated by ARS, CSRS, and the Stations. Thus, they are available to all scientists in the USDA - Experiment Station system who wish to rapidly inventory current research results in areas of their interest.

Visitation: Bob Kleis and I are starting another round of visitation of departments and district stations. In these visits we routinely wish to visit with Station staff members. This year we are also particularly reviewing research equipment.

GENERAL NOTES

1. Please be reminded that all books purchased on either library or project funds are to be secured through the CYT Library. Those purchased on project funds for continuing usage in the department may be assigned there, after they have been cataloged. This applies equally to references purchased with grant or contract type project funds.
2. Congratulations to Chuck Koopmann for his well earned performance recognition in receiving this year's Carl A. Donaldson Award "For Excellence in Management". We are at the same time sorry to note that Chuck will be leaving us in June for a fine position with the American Soybean Association.
3. Sahs sez - As you arrange for special student help for the summer, it is important to observe the established wage schedule which relates to stage of academic program, previous experience in your program, etc. In cases where an employee will be assigned to another location (e.g. District Station) or administrative unit, please coordinate the wage determination with the administrator of that unit. Discrepancies, real or apparent, have caused serious personnel problems.
4. Dr. Bob Bohannon (Kansas State) has written to express his appreciation for the fine hospitality and cooperation extended him during his recent sabbatical leave with us. Many of you worked with him and we relay his "thank you".
5. Schnieder on Safety - As we approach the season of increased activity in usage of pesticides and fertilizers, all staff should practice and/or promote safety precautions: The use of gloves, goggles and respirators as called for by the labels. Gloves and goggles should always be worn when handling anhydrous ammonia.
6. Gumperson's Law: The probability of an event occurring is inversely proportional to its desirability.

R. W. Kleis
