Alison M. Pearn is based in Cambridge, UK, and is the Senior Research Associate and Managing Editor of the Darwin Correspondence Project. She has a BA and MA in history from the University of Oxford and a PhD from the University of Cambridge. She has been with the Project since 1996.

Duncan M. Porter is Professor of Botany at Virginia Tech and Director of the Darwin Correspondence Project. He received his BA and MA at Stanford and his PhD at Harvard, all in Biological Sciences. Before arriving at Virginia Tech in 1975, he taught at the University of San Francisco, and he was Curator at the Missouri Botanical Garden, Editor at the Smithsonian Institution, and Program Officer at the National Science Foundation. A Postdoc at Stanford working on the flora of the Galapagos Islands led to a lifelong interest in Charles Darwin.

Tilman Sauer, a historian of science working on the history of general relativity and unified field theory, holds a PhD in Theoretical Physics from the Free University Berlin. He is Senior Scientific Editor of the Collected Papers of Albert Einstein and Senior Research Fellow in History in the Division of Humanities and Social Sciences at the California Institute of Technology.

Dorothy Twohig served for ten years as an editor on the Papers of Alexander Hamilton at Columbia University and as associate editor, co-editor, and editor-in-chief of the Papers of George Washington at the University of Virginia until her retirement in 1998.
