NOTES AND NEWS

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Smith College and the Willa Cather Foundation will host the 13th International Cather Seminar on June 20–25, 2011, at Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts. The theme of the 2011 conference is “Willa Cather and the Nineteenth Century.” The seminar will examine the legacy of nineteenth century culture in Cather’s life and work and explore through her writing the transition from a Victorian to a modernist America. The Seminar encourages papers that address a wide range of intersections and connections between the full range of Cather’s work and this pivotal cultural moment, including: Willa Cather and Nineteenth-Century Writers and Cultural Figures; Willa Cather and Histories of race, of sexuality, of class identity; Willa Cather and intellectual ferment; Willa Cather, the Slave Narrative, and the Antebellum South; and International Approaches to Teaching Cather. Diverse critical and theoretical perspectives are encouraged, as are proposals for sessions focused on exchange rather than formal presentation. Interested contributors should submit abstracts of 500 words with a cover letter and brief résumé by March 1, 2011. Papers should be 10–12 double-spaced pages for a 20-minute presentation time. Seminar Co-Directors: Richard Millington, Smith College, rmilling@smith.edu; Anne Kaufman, Milton Academy, anne.l.kaufman@gmail.com. Additional information may be found at: <http://www.willacather.org/conferences/call-for-papers>.

MISSOURI VALLEY HISTORY CONFERENCE

The 54th Missouri Valley History Conference will be held March 3–5, 2011 at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Omaha, Nebraska. Papers or panels are welcome in all areas of history, including world history, American history, ancient history, women's history, political history, social and cultural history, military history, religious history, or any other area. A prize of $200 will be awarded to the best graduate student paper presented at the conference. The Society for Military History will also host several panels at the conference. For more information, please contact Prof. Charles King, MVHC Program Chair, Department of History, University of Nebraska at Omaha, Omaha, NE 68182-0213, or by e-mail: <cwking@mail.unomaha.edu>.

37TH INTERDISCIPLINARY SYMPOSIUM SPONSORED BY THE CENTER FOR GREAT PLAINS STUDIES

The March 4, 2011, symposium, “Diverse Faces, Shared Histories: Immigrants on the Great Plains,” will be held at the Great Plains Art Museum, 1155 Q St., Lincoln, NE. This one-day symposium is free and open to the public and is designed to broaden our perspectives about immigration on the Great Plains. For more information, see the ad on page 286 or go to the website: <www.unl.edu/plains>.

29TH ANNUAL NEIHARDT SPRING CONFERENCE

The 2011 conference, “Biography: A Life as Written,” will be held April 30, 2011, at the John G. Neihardt State Historical Site, Bancroft, Nebraska. The program will feature Tim Anderson’s work on the Neihardt biography and Roger Welsch’s new book “Confessions of a Wannabe.” Participating in the program will be historical novelist, Dan O’Brien. Also confirmed are Native American biographer, Dr. R. David Edmunds of University of Texas, and Marla Matkin, with a Chautauqua-style first person biography. For more information, please contact the Neihardt State Historic Site at (402) 648-3388 or (888) 777-4667 or via e-mail: <neihardt@gpcom.net>.
Great Plains Quarterly seeks a readership among scholars and interested laypersons. U.S. subscription rates are $15.00 per year for students, $25.00 per year for individuals or $48.00 for two years, $50.00 per year for institutions or $90.00 for two years. Single copies of current issues may be obtained for $8.00, plus postage and handling. Nebraska residents, please add state and city sales tax. Canadian subscription rates are $34.00 per year for individuals and $60.00 per year for institutions. Other foreign subscription rates are $38.00 per year for individuals and $75.00 per year for institutions. E-mail: cgps@unl.edu.

The Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts and essays that are both solidly researched and engagingly written. In all cases contributions must be free of specialized jargon so that they can be read, understood, and appreciated by persons in other academic fields and by interested laypersons. Blind review procedures are followed for all contributions to the Quarterly. The decision to publish an article rests with the editor in consultation with associate editors.

We do not accept articles previously published or currently under consideration by other journals. Authors in doubt about what constitutes prior publication should consult the editor.

Total length of manuscripts, including notes and illustrations, should not exceed 14,000 words or 30 pages, but shorter contributions will be preferred. All copy, including notes and captions, should be double spaced. References in the notes should conform to the mode specified in The Chicago Manual of Style (15th ed. rev., 2003) or the “Quarterly Style Sheet” or “Images Style Sheet” on the Web site.

Electronic submissions via email are encouraged. Manuscripts submitted by mail should be accompanied by a CD-R disc. The CD should be formatted for IBM PC and the article in MS Word, or rtf file format. All correspondence on editorial matters should be addressed to: Editor, Great Plains Quarterly, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, 1155 Q Street, Hewit Place, P.O. Box 880245, Lincoln, NE 68588-0245; E-mail: gpq@unl.edu; Web site: www.unl.edu/plains

FREDERICK C. LUEBKE AWARD

The Frederick C. Luebke Award is offered annually for the best article published in Great Plains Quarterly during a volume year. All articles submitted to the Quarterly are eligible for the award. Judges are drawn from past winners and the Publications Committee of the Board of Governors for the Center for Great Plains Studies. The award is presented at the Center for Great Plains Studies’ annual Fellows meeting and includes a cash stipend of $250.00. Frederick C. Luebke was the founding editor of Great Plains Quarterly.
