DEVELOPMENT OF MATERIALS

In comparison to all your other classes, I am not concerned about plagiarism in this course. As such, I encourage you to use any material that you find – whether that be from a company’s web site, franchise agreement, or Security and Exchange Commission (SEC) filings.

My suggestion is that you find “role-model” public company and look at their SEC filings. You can search for a company’s filings at the following web site:

<http://www.sec.gov/cgi-bin/srch-edgar>

In terms of filings, here are some of the different types of forms (the three in bold are the key ones to review):

S-1 and S-1/A -- initial stock registration statement

10-Q – quarterly report of earnings

10-K – annual report of earnings

DEF 14A -- proxy issue for shareholders to vote on

8-K – notice of material event to company

SC 13G and SC 13G/A – notice of large shareholder buying/selling the company’s stock
