Introduction

College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources

It is our pleasure to provide the Sixteenth Annual Report for the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources (CASNR). We believe in the importance of reflecting on the accomplishments of our faculty, staff and students. The annual report offers the opportunity to review the year, and serves as an archive of accomplishments for our College. This report covers the period August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2009.

We can be very proud of our University. Seventy-three schools competed for recognition as innovators in undergraduate education. Only 16 were selected. UNL is one of the 16 - the only one in our peer group as well as the only one in the Big 12. In fact, UNL is one of only five major research universities to be named 'first tier' for our innovative programs for students. The other universities are Duke University, the University of Michigan, the University of Southern California and the State University of New York at Stony Brook. We are also one of only 16 universities in the nation that are designated both landgrant and AAU. And now, UNL has been named the most popular (yield of applications) public university in the country by U.S. News and World Report in its on-line rankings. We are ranked third among all Universities, private or public. The two private universities ranked ahead of us are Harvard and Brigham Young.

Over the past decade our UNL Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources (IANR) scientists are among the most-cited agricultural scientists in the world. The ISE Essential Science Indicators Report, 1996-2006, indexes nearly 9,000 journals, tracking how often articles are cited by other authors. IANR is 17th in the world, 12th among universities worldwide, and 9th among American universities. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension leads the nation in 4-H participation of age-eligible youth. The College's has exceptional partners in the land-grant mission. In IANR, our faculty and staff so thoroughly integrate teaching, research and extension education that the success of each is the success of all. UNL is a very special place for undergraduate education and CASNR is unique among the colleges of UNL.

- New CASNR Mission Statement: Since the establishment of the University of Nebraska in 1869 and its commitment to the terms of the Land-Grant College Act calling for the instruction in agriculture and applied sciences, the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources (CASNR) has provided opportunities for students to develop intellectually and meet the challenges of their era. CASNR fosters a student-centered learning environment where diverse basic and applied natural, life, earth and social sciences are integrated into the context of a global society and environmental stewardship. Our goal is to prepare students as leaders for a future in which demands on resources and food systems will challenge sustainability. The areas of study are broad and span animal, plant and human health and well-being, earth systems analysis, agricultural production and processing, global climate change, agricultural market structures, water resources, and land-use change. The College also has the responsibility for the coordination of all agricultural sciences and natural resources programs in higher education within the State of Nebraska.
- During the past five years (2004-2008) CASNR undergraduate enrollment [includes UNO/CASNR, excludes CAS (BIOC) and CE (AGEN and BSEN) undergraduate students] has grown 34.4%. During the same period UNL undergraduate enrollment grew 8.1% and if the CASNR data is removed from the data set, UNL (excluding CASNR) grew 6.1%.

- The vast majority of our students have a faculty adviser, some benefit from professional academic advisers complemented by faculty career mentors.
- Our College has the highest retention rate (90% freshman to sophomore) at UNL.
- We have 40 student organizations that enrich the undergraduate experience.
- 130 students participated in the Salute to Graduates ceremony on May 8 which was attended by over 600 parents and friends.
- The Doctor of Plant Health was initiated, becoming the second professional program administered by the College.
- The first UNL/CASNR class in the professional program in veterinary medicine completed its two-year curriculum and will continue at Iowa State University this fall.
- The College launched the on-line degree completion program.
- Fifty percent of CASNR students have college and/or departmental scholarships. During the 2008-09 academic year, the College awarded 943 scholarships to 830 students amounting to $943,173.00.
- CASNR has a global campus with 74 students studying in 15 countries during the 2008-09 academic year and summer 2009.
- Nearly 100 students participated in undergraduate research and another 164 reported that they had a formal internship.
- We are the only College at UNL – and the only College among our peers – that has the “Ensuring Your Future” program which guarantees a job offer within the first six months after graduation for those students fulfilling the requirements.
- Our College has one of the only satellite offices of Career Services dedicated to assisting CASNR students with finding internships and post-graduation employment. About 85% of our students find jobs in their fields or continue with their professional education. We routinely have one of the largest Career Fairs on campus with 517 students visiting with representatives from 67 employing organizations about internships and full time positions last fall.
- We are now on Facebook (www.facebook.com/unlcasnr) and currently have 446 fans.
- CASNR Featured on Profiles Series -The Profiles Series (www.profilesseries.com) is an award winning television series dedicated to showcasing the most important issues of the day. They showcase everything from the latest business and technology stories to the revolutionary medical and health issues. They also profile the new and exciting environmental solutions to current educational breakthroughs. In addition, they profile important CEOs and leading corporations creating tremendous positive impact on the world today. The Profiles Series programs can be found on local, regional and national networks in over 80 million households and is also broadcast on Voice of America News to 200 cities and 127 countries with a daily viewership of over 115 million households.

CASNR was selected for a feature story on the Profiles Series and we welcome you to view the finished product. ## CASNR Standing Committees

FACULTY ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Faculty Advisory Council (FAC) met the second Monday of each month this past year. In addition to discussing and providing input to the CASNR Dean, each meeting centered on current issues facing the College.

The year began with a Planning and Transition Meeting held on August 18, 2008 to prepare for the academic year. Rhae Drijber, 2007-2008 Chair of the FAC, led the group in discussion. Jay Barbuto became Chair for 2008-2009 and Ron Hanson Vice-Chair.

Highlights from the academic year:

- An ad hoc committee to follow-up on the CASNR Image Survey was formed. Volunteers serving were Jay Barbuto, Rick Stowell, Ron Hanson, Steve Jones and Dann Husmann.
- Reviewed interview process of candidates with teaching appointments.
- All departments are to have an instructional improvement plan in place by Fall 2009 and begin the process of mentoring instructors.
- A subcommittee of members from both the Faculty Advisory Council and the Curriculum Committee studied the questions and possible ramifications that might result from reducing the number of credit hours required to graduate from CASNR. Members from FAC were: Jay Barbuto, Ron Hanson, and Jim Partridge. Members from the Curriculum Committee were Rodger Johnson, Jack Schinstock and Mike Zece. The committee's recommendation was 1) all degree programs have the same minimum requirement with no exceptions; and 2) all degree programs have a 125 total credit hour requirement for graduation.
- Discussed the need for an introductory course for transfer students (AGRI 301). The decision was to make it a departmental responsibility.
- Discussed the Professor of Practice positions. IANR has guidelines for promotion in the bylaws.
- Discussed grade requirement for transfer ACE courses. The council moved to approve: "The UNL system as a whole should require grades of C or better for all ACE transfer courses".
- The "Classroom and Teaching Lab Improvement Committee" of Rick Stowell, Chair; Raul Barletta; and David Carter continued to determine what can be done to use facilities more efficiently and effectively.

- Revised the CASNR Student Travel Policy and approved it on May 11, 2009.

Monthly meeting agendas also included reports from the CASNR Dean's Office, Enrollment Management Update Committee, and ad hoc committees.

The committee partnered with CSREES UNL/NCC grant recipients (M. Burbach, G. Matkin, D. Wheeler, S. Fritz and M. Lechner) to bring Dr. Rick Rudd from Virginia Tech to UNL. Dr. Rudd was the keynote speaker at the council-sponsored 2009 CASNR Winter Interim Teaching Workshop. The workshop was held on January 9, 2009, and the focus of the workshop was critical thinking. Dr. Rudd, a nationally recognized expert in critical thinking, spoke on “Developing Critical Thinking in the Classroom.” He presented strategies for teaching for critical thinking and building critical thinking into the class syllabus. He also assisted workshop participants with a “make-over” on a syllabus from one of their own courses. The workshop was one of the best ever attended, with around 120 people participating.

The council also sponsored five teaching seminars during the 2008-2009 academic year. The three fall seminars were co-sponsored by CASNR departments, and were held during the sponsoring department’s regular seminar time. Sponsoring departments included Entomology, Biochemistry, and Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication. Seminar topics included introductions to various classroom technologies, team-based learning, student-centered learning, content mastery in an on-line environment, and meeting the needs of Nebraska’s math and science teachers.

Departmental News and Events

In May, each department was mailed a questionnaire to collect information for the 2008 - 2009 Annual Report. The dates for reporting were August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2009. The information provided by the units for the report is the basis for much of the self-reported data used in the Unit Planning Session. The eARFA reporting environment was used to obtain teaching awards, teaching grants and teaching publications for a unit. The following information is not available in eARFA and was requested:

1. List any teaching symposiums or conferences the teaching faculty have attended.
2. List students who have been recognized by the department for outstanding achievements.
3. List scholarships given by the department (not through the Dean's Office).
4. List new teaching faculty hired by the department in the last year (August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2009).
5. List teaching faculty who have retired in the last year (August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2009)
6. List teaching faculty who have added a teaching appointment in the last year (August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2009).
7. List deceased faculty in the last year (August 1, 2008 to July 31, 2009).
8. Other. List any additional information that has not been requested which identifies significant accomplishments in the unit's academic mission.

The following is a summary of the information submitted. It does include promotions awarded July 1, 2009. Research recognition for faculty and graduate students is listed in the Agricultural Research Division Annual Report. Please contact Agricultural Research Division for a copy.

DEPARTMENTAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

NBIS Moving Forward

The Nebraska Beef Industry Scholars (NBIS) program is growing. Conceived by UNL beef faculty and readily adopted by the industry, NBIS is a certification program that can be completed by students wishing to develop as beef industry leaders while completing any complementary degree program in the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources. The certification program is composed of tailor-made courses designed to introduce students to key industry leaders, current beef industry issues, and leadership development that complement core courses in beef production (cow/calf and feedlot), fresh meats, and commodity marketing. These courses include seminars, national policy, study tours, industry issues, and internships. Students are also responsible for helping develop a Beef Summit held on campus to address industry issues. Emphasis is placed on communication skills and an intimate knowledge of how the Beef Industry in Nebraska impacts the state, country, and world. Students apply for the program during the fall of their freshman year. Currently the program has approximately 35 students. The program benefits from a broad array of students across multiple departments. The instructors of NBIS courses also represent multiple disciplines and departments including faculty from Animal Science, Agricultural Economics, Veterinary & Biomedical Sciences, and Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication. All students in the program are members of Nebraska Cattlemen.

Animal Science Ambassadors

This has been a busy year, filled with mailings, events, tours and school visits for the Animal Science Ambassadors! This group of students serves the Animal Science Department by helping with recruitment efforts. During the 2008-2009 academic year Amanda Pflasterer (junior in the pre-veterinary medicine option from Grand Island, Nebraska) and Jessalyn Schrock (junior in the production and management option from Bennet, Nebraska) were second-year ambassadors. Maria Lewis (junior in the companion animal option from Arko, Idaho) and Emily Arkfeld (sophomore in the meat science option from Dunbar, Nebraska) were first-year ambassadors. Among the group's most ambitious projects were the Animal Science Internship Fair and Overnight and the "Animal Science News." The 27 high school students who attended the 6th Annual Internship Fair and Overnight were able to meet current students and faculty, learn about career areas in animal industries, enjoy a friendly match at Lanes 'N' Games Bowling in the Nebraska East Union, spend the night in the dorms and attend a special session of the Introduction to Animal Science course. These students really got a first-hand glimpse of what they can look forward to as a UNL Animal Science student! The 2009 Animal Science Overnight promises to once again be a great event for prospective students, and will be held during the fall semester. The "Animal Science News" is a publication created by the Animal Science Ambassadors to keep high school students up-to-date on current events in the Animal Science Department. For archives, go to <http://www.animalscience.unl.edu/undergraduate/prospective.html>. Look for new issues to come out this year during the fall and spring semesters!

The Beef Cattle Merchandising class is responsible for all facets of the sale including advertising, preparation of the bulls, putting together the sale catalog and conducting the sale. The class also benefits from multiple invited speakers during the semester representing seedstock producers who share their knowledge and experiences with the students. Dr. Matt Spangler is instructor of the class.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Equestrian Team was regional champion in Zone 7, Region 1 of the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA). In addition, Mindy Leach of Malcolm finished as regional high point rider and Megan Boone of Ashland finished the year as the region's reserve high point rider. As the regional high point rider, Mindy continued on to IHSA National Finals and competed against the top rider from each of the 21 other regions. Through the regular season competition, riders competed individually to earn points to qualify for regional competition, and designated riders earned points towards the team qualifying for regionals. Riders placing in the top two of their class at regionals as well as the regional championship team qualified for Semi-Nationals held at West Texas A & M University in Canyon, Texas. This year, seven team members qualified as individual competitors for Semi-Nationals along with the team qualifying. The team finished a strong fourth place, one spot away from continuing on to Nationals. Teams are comprised of riders of all different experience levels from beginner riders who have never shown horses to open riders who have competed at a national level. Riders do not need their own horses. Teams show at events hosted by member schools where each school provides the horses to be used in the event and the rider draws a horse at random. This tests the riders' ability to adapt to different horses and evaluates their horsemanship skills. Currently, the UNL team competes in only the western riding division, but looks to expand to an English riding team for next season. An informational meeting about joining the team will be held on September 1 in the Nebraska East Union with tryouts in the UNL Animal Science Complex on September 2 and 3. The team is open to any currently enrolled UNL undergraduate student. Student team members practice their riding skills each week, host IHSA shows in both the fall and spring semesters, and are responsible for fundraising to offset the costs of their travel expenses when they attend shows. The 2008-2009 team members include: Natalie Becher, Platte Center; Alix Benoit, Grand Rapids, Michigan; Megan Boone, Ashland; Megan Brincks, Litterdale, Iowa; Samantha Cajka, Lincoln; Maria Cammack, Lincoln; Courtney

Students for the Education of Exotic and Companion Animals (SEECA)

With one full year completed, SEECA has had a successful first year. The organization was put in place to provide an opportunity for students with an interest in companion and exotic animals to become acquainted with one another as well as to improve knowledge and understanding of these animals. They put on a dog training class which prepared nine dog/handler teams to be ready for their Canine Good Citizen test. The club asked dog trainer Jill Morstad to conduct the class while the club members attended all classes and were aids to the trainer in any way that was needed. The students learned the basics of dog training and plan on putting on a dog training class each semester for the public. Along with the dog training class, they also found time to volunteer at the Dog Expo at the Lancaster Event Center. The first year has been a building year and they hope to expand even more next year with more volunteer events and bringing in more speakers at monthly meetings. The 2008-2009 officers for SEECA were:

Kristin Norwood, President, Kearney
Allison Leimer, Vice President, Mead
Laura Murray, Treasurer, LaVista
Amanda Young, Secretary, Holdrege

Allie Knoell, Service Chair, Crete
Becky Zelada, Historian, Lincoln
Lisa Karr-Lilienthal, Faculty Advisor

Undergraduate Student Advisory Council

The newly-created Animal Science Undergraduate Advisory Council will provide a forum by which student representatives of the various class levels and clubs or activities within Animal Science can provide student input to the departmental Undergraduate Teaching & Advising Committee (UTAC), the departmental Recruitment Committee, and the Interim Departmental Head (Sheila Scheideler). Additionally, it provides a forum by which students could bring forth concerns to the attention of faculty and administrative personnel within the Department. Since Lisa Karr-Lilienthal is a member of both departmental committees, she is currently serving as the Faculty Coordinator of the group. Members of the 2008-09 committee were:

Senior Capstone Design Projects

The following Senior Capstone Design Projects for Spring 2009 received awards in the E-Week competition in April 2009 in the College of Engineering. Senior students in Agricultural Engineering (AGEN) and Biological Systems Engineering (BSEN) work with real-world clients to develop engineering design solutions. Some projects have gone into further development leading to patents.

Elliptical Trainer Footplate Redesign

First Place, Biological Systems Engineering, E-Week 2009

Team Members: Evan Curtis, Ryan Roemmich, Nate Stahr

Faculty Adviser: Dr. Gregory Bashford

Client: Dr. Judy Burnfield, Madonna Rehabilitation Hospital

Description: The use of stationary exercising equipment for rehabilitation purposes is a common practice; however, kinematic and electromyography data indicate that many of these machines do not accurately simulate the motion of over-ground walking. For example, elliptical training machines do not correctly simulate the joint angles created in a standard gait cycle. In cooperation with Madonna Rehabilitation Hospital, this project proposed the addition of external pedals to more accurately simulate over-ground walking when using an elliptical trainer. The factors of stride length and ankle angle were the primary foci for modification to the elliptical trainer's original movement.

A Flow Chamber for Imaging and Analyzing Hepatocytes in Real Time

Second Place, Biological Systems Engineering, E-Week 2009

Team Members: Violetta Balayan, D. Mike Bierle, Harrison Hoffman, Donna Lounsbury

Faculty Adviser: Dr. Angela Pannier

Client: Dr. David F. Mercer, University of Nebraska Medical Center

Description: Hepatitis C research has long been hindered by the lack of appropriate biological models in which to grow and culture infected hepatocytes. In order to counteract this problem, our team has developed a parallel plate flow chamber and accompanying circuit in order to create an environment more similar to physiological conditions. The circuit was designed around the use of a peristaltic pump and a custom built parallel plate flow chamber (PPFC). The flow chamber circuit was designed to induce a laminar flow of media across a microscope slide seeded with hepatocytes, while allowing a real-time monitoring of the cell's condition through the use of light and fluorescence microscopy. By controlling the flow, the media, and the temperature of the environment, the flow circuit and chamber will help culture and sustain liver cells for the continuation of our client's research.

Orthman Manufacturing Narrow Transport Toolbar

Third Place, Agricultural Engineering, E-Week 2009

Team Members: Ryan Hillen, Ryan Hulme, Karoline Kastanek, Andrew Schumacher

Faculty Adviser: Dr. Roger Hoy

Client: Orthman Manufacturing Company

Description: Agricultural equipment that is too large for roadways pose a severe risk to road users, while small equipment is inefficient for most farming operations. A new stacking planter toolbar design is required to adhere to state transport regulations and to allow producers to achieve desired ground coverage. A stacking planter toolbar is an agricultural implement that has wing sections, which, when folded for transport, are stacked side-by-side above a center section. The design implements a new linkage design to lift the wings above the center section as well as new rotation points for the wing lift system that have not been used before. The project includes economic analysis and marketing information. The end product is a complete toolbar design that will be built by Orthman Manufacturing, tested, and eventually put into full-scale production.

Partners in Pollution Prevention Program

Student Poster Exhibition

The 5th Annual Biological Systems Engineering E-Day, and the 17th Annual Fall Poster Exhibition were held on December 9, 2008, in the Great Plains Room in the Nebraska East Union. The exhibit, coordinated and directed by Dr. David Jones, included 13 posters from Dr. George Meyer's AGEN/BSEN 460 Instrumentation and Controls class, and 3 posters from Dr. Jones' BSEN 480 Design II in Agricultural and Biological Systems Engineering class. Additional participants in E-Day activities for the fourth year were 18 teams from Dr. Dennis Schulte's BSEN/AGEN 100 - Introduction to Biological Systems Engineering and Agricultural Engineering class for the "Incredible Edible Vehicle" competition. Vehicles have to survive rolling down an incline twice before being consumed by team members. Seventeen companies and alumni participated in the Poster Exhibition and shared career information with the students. The event also supports departmental recruiting, with a half-day visit by interested high school students to the College and the Department.

Biological Systems Engineering Robotics Team

The Biological Systems Engineering Robotics Team placed second in the Robotics Student Design Competition at the ASABE Annual International Meeting in Reno, Nevada on June 23, 2009. This was the first time a team from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln had entered the event. A total of eight teams entered the competition. Team members were Andrew Landgraf, Collin Lutz, and Ahmad Mat Su. Faculty advisors were Drs. Viacheslav Adamchuk and George Meyer.

Quarter Scale Tractor Design Competition

The American Society of Agricultural and Biological Engineers (ASABE) sponsors an International Student Design Competition based on designing a Quarter Scale Tractor. The competition is arranged to be educational and fun. Students work as a team to design, build, test and present a new tractor every year. Judging is based on a written report, a team presentation, individual design judging, and a performance competition. The competition consists of a tractor pull using a progressive sled. Students gain experience in the design of drivetrain systems, tractor performance, manufacturing processes, analysis of tractive forces, weight transfer, and strength of materials. They also develop skills in communication, leadership, teamwork, fund-raising, testing and development.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Quarter Scale Tractor Team participated in the 2009 ASABE International Quarter Scale Tractor Student Design Competition in Peoria, Illinois, May 28-31, 2009. Twenty-three (23) collegiate teams from the United States and Canada participated in the competition. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln team placed 4th in the pulling competition and 13th overall. Dr. Roger Hoy is the adviser of this inter-disciplinary project with team members from Agricultural Engineering, Mechanized Systems Management, and Mechanical Engineering. The tractors have been used by the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, the College of Engineering, and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln for recruiting opportunities.

DEPARTMENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Experience the Power of Bugs

The 2008 University of Nebraska-Lincoln Extension program "Experience the Power of Bugs" provided over 380 students, parents, and teachers the opportunity to learn first-hand about insects. Participant feedback was very positive, and most said that the open house stimulated them to want to learn more about insects. Prospective students and teachers that attended were informed of career and academic opportunities within the Entomology Department. The open house featured a variety of interactive and informative sessions, enabling participants to experience first-hand the incredible diversity that exists among insects and to learn about the impact insects and their related species have on our society. Participants diagnosed insect-borne diseases with Dr. Bug, learned about insect diversity and systematics by examining insect specimens from around the world, interacted with live arthropods, used forensic entomology techniques to solve a crime, and discovered how to track genetic traits using insect DNA. New events this year included Bug Jeopardy – an insect trivia competition, bee swarm demonstrations by apiculture specialists, invasive insect species working their way through the crowds, and research demonstrations in some labs.

North Central Branch of the ESA Linnaean Games Champions

A team of UNL Entomology graduate students, Tim Husen, Erica Lindroth, Mitch Stamm, Ken Miwa, and Abby Stilwell, won 2nd Place in the Linnaean Games at the North Central Branch of the Entomological Society of America (ESA) Meeting in St. Louis, MO, March 15-18, 2009. UNL's team will get the chance to compete at the National ESA Meeting in Indianapolis, IN next December. The Linnaean Games are a college bowl-style competition on entomological facts played between university-sponsored student teams. Toss-up questions cover knowledge about apiculture, biological control, ecology, economic entomology, medical and veterinary entomology, physiology and biochemistry, taxonomy and toxicology. Bonus questions can come from any area of entomology including history and people. Team coaches were Drs. Ken Pruess and Bob Wright.

Costa Rica Study Abroad Trip

Nine entomology students (Rachael Fithian, Keith Lloyd, Matthew Moore, Sara Pritchard, Dori Porter, Crystal Ramm, Ransom Sitz, Becca Striman, Matthew Yans,) and three professors (Drs. Fred Baxendale, Lance Meinke, and Tom Powers) spent their spring break exploring insect, plant, and animal diversity at two biological stations in Costa Rica that are administered by the Organization for Tropical Studies. Their first stop was the La Selva OTS biological station which is located on the Carribbean side of the mountains and is a lowland tropical rain forest site. They spent three days there, exploring the 1600 hectares of rain forest, documenting insect diversity through photographs and video segments and participated in a tour of a banana plantation. After LaSelva, the group drove to Arenal Volcano and hiked in to see and hear the active volcano. Then it was on to the Palo Verde OTS biological station, located in Palo Verde National Park, Guanacaste, Costa Rica. The Palo Verde station is on the Pacific side of the central spine of mountains and contains 19,000 hectares of tropical dry forest and wetlands. The group continued their study of tropical diversity, contrasting fauna and flora found in lowland rain and dry forest. Of note were the species of scorpions present and an impressive army ant invasion that occurred in the forest. A GREAT time was had by all.

LEADERSHIP COUNCIL

Leadership Council is composed of the presidents of each CASNR Club, the advisers, treasurers, representatives from fraternities, sororities and residence halls, the CASNR Advisory Board members and the CASNR Ambassadors. The Leadership Council plays a crucial role in coordinating student organization activities on campus; they serve as the liaison to the IANR Vice Chancellor and support CASNR recruitment. The following are examples of activities for Leadership Council:

Mandatory Training Session

- The first meeting for Leadership Council was a Mandatory Training meeting in the fall. Leadership Council partners with Student Involvement to go over record keeping and forms, rules and regulations and pertinent information necessary for events on campus.

Welcome Back Club Fair

- The Welcome Back Club Fair is held the first Thursday of the fall semester after Adviser Advantage. Each CASNR Club has a table outside of the Nebraska East Union to recruit new members. The Welcome Back Club Fair is similar to Big Red Welcome. Student Involvement, CASNR, Campus Rec and the Nebraska East Union split the cost of food for all students. In 2008, we served over 200 students who did not have a meal plan.

CASNR Week Community Night

- All clubs are notified about Community Night during CASNR Week and are asked for their help. Each club has a table, game and prizes. Clubs love coming to Community Night, playing games with our neighboring school students and then eating Raising Cane's catered meal after we clean up.

ALUMNI PROJECTS

The College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources Alumni Association is a constituent society of the College. It is the only alumni association that provides support to the College.

The fourth Football Reunion since the Association became independent was attended by over 100 alumni. Tickets were made available for the New Mexico State game and an informative lunch and program included a silent auction which generated $5957 for student scholarships. The Henry Beachell Distinguished Alumni Award was presented to Dr. Warren Gabelman of Madison, WI.

The Salute to Graduates ceremony, a tradition established by Vice Chancellor John Owens and developed by CASNR Dean Steve Waller and his staff, continues to receive praise from attendees. Parents, family, friends, faculty, staff and graduates appreciate its personalized focus and individual recognition. Some 2800 family members and friends have experienced this rich campus environment to attend Salute ceremonies each May and December in the Nebraska East Union. An abbreviated version of "Ag College Dreams" is shown during the Salute ceremony. It highlights an interesting 134-year evolution of the College and does a wonderful job of setting the stage for the Salute event. Participating graduates receive the complete 29-minute version as a gift.

The May 2009 'Salute' was by far the largest since the program began in December of 2005. A large graduating cohort of 190 plus the first two-year class of 24 Professional Program in Veterinary Medicine students resulted in 130 students participating. Parents, relatives, friends, faculty and staff brought the total number of people on hand for the ceremony to approximately

750. Closed-circuit TV was provided by Communications, Information and Technology staff so that graduates, departmental representatives and some guests could watch from overflow seating in the Terrace Dining area.

The listserv of members and friends continues to grow and has been expanded to allow better electronic communications. Three issues of The Sower Online were sent to 1325 alumni and friends with e-mail addresses and two print editions of The Sower, the College alumni newsletter, were mailed to 1750 members with copies of the College news magazine Class Acts.

The College alumni association participated in Salute to Graduates, Senior Send Off, the CASNR Career Fair, Nebraskans for Nebraska, CASNR Week Banquet and the UNL Great Plains Region College Rodeo.

The CASNR Board met twice during this period: October 2008 during the Career Fair in Lincoln; and February 2009 in Kearney.

Substitutions and Waivers

The Substitutions and Waiver forms give students the opportunity to request a substitution or waiver of a CASNR core or departmental requirement. The form is initiated by the student, approved by the student's adviser and the department head, and then sent to the Dean's Office for review and final signature. Students must file a request for substitutions and waivers involving courses within the basic four-year curriculum in CASNR before the start of the fall semester for December graduates, before the start of the spring semester for May graduates and prior to the last day of classes spring semester for August graduates. The table below illustrates the number of requests from each degree. Degrees in the "other" category include those degrees with twenty-five or fewer substitution requests. Those degrees consist of Agricultural Journalism, Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication, Biological Systems Engineering, Environmental Restoration Science, Food Technology for Companion Animals, Grassland Ecology and Management, Grazing Livestock Systems, Hospitality, Restaurant and Tourism Management, Natural Resource and Environmental Economics, Plant Biology, Veterinary Technology and Water Science.

RECRUITMENT ACTIVITIES

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources (CASNR) attracts students with a wide range of interests. With 28 degree programs and two pre-professional programs, CASNR offers a variety of interest areas for both rural and urban students. While CASNR has traditionally had a population base that is largely from rural areas, demographic changes in the state have translated to a higher percentage of CASNR students from urban areas. With its mix of degree programs and a steady demand for its graduates, the education and experiences offered through CASNR provide exciting opportunities to all students.

In an effort to recruit students to our College, CASNR partners with UNL Admissions, Nebraska Extension, public and private schools, communities, alumni, stakeholders, business and industry.

CASNR recruitment efforts for the 2008-2009 year include the following:

Experience the Power of Red (October) – Nearly 300 prospective students and parents attended the annual CASNR open house. During the day, attendees had the opportunity to attend sessions to learn more about the degree programs, visit academic program presentations and ask current students questions during lunch. A parent session was also held and highlighted financial aid/scholarships and other programs and services. East Campus tours were also offered.

Contact Campaign - Beginning with invitations (sent in August) for Experience the Power of Red in October, the CASNR Dean's Office contacted more than 1,000 prospective students monthly by email and mail to connect with them, learn about their interests and concerns and answer questions they had regarding coming to UNL and CASNR.

For those students who expressed interests in specific programs, their letters were tailored to their interests.

Seniors interested in CASNR were contacted monthly by the Dean's Office. Academic programs were encouraged to follow up with students with email, mail and phone contacts on an individual basis with students.

Admitted students received a letter of congratulations from the Dean, holiday greetings (if admitted prior to December), admitted student event invitation, and a final mailing. Upon attending New Student Enrollment, students also received a letter inviting them to participate in Dean's Scholars in Experiential Leadership, as well as a mailing informing them on how to get involved on campus. Parents of admitted students received a letter from the Dean highlighting key aspects of CASNR.

In February, all of our admitted students were contacted by ambassadors and other current students who answered questions and gauged their interest in attending UNL.

Admitted Student Event (February) — CASNR hosted a dinner for admitted students and their parents. During the event, students had the opportunity to learn more about our academic programs and departments, meet with faculty and staff, as well as speak to current students.

Partnering with Admissions

Campus Visits – The majority of campus visits start at the UNL Admissions Office with an overview and tour followed by a visit to East Campus, a personal visit with faculty/staff in students' areas of interest and tours, if desired. CASNR hosted nearly 350 campus visits in 2008-2009.

Admissions Office Updates – Each August, UNL college deans visit with UNL Admissions staff regarding college updates and programs.

Red Letter Days — UNL open house days had anywhere from 200-500 students and parents visiting campus and included a browsing session as well as general sessions in the morning. Students with interests in CASNR travel to East Campus to join the CASNR Deans, staff and ambassadors for lunch followed by a CASNR presentation, time to visit with faculty members in their areas of interest and a brief tour.

NU Preview/Junior Days - CASNR faculty presented “mock classes” for students at a special Extension NU Preview in April. In addition, several CASNR faculty presented at the remaining junior days.

Transfer Workshops and Transfer College Visits (September, January, February) – Hosted transfer students visiting UNL and coordinated visits to Nebraska community colleges.

Big Red Road Show– Numerous CASNR Units/Extension areas participated in the Big Red Road Show in Omaha (February). Our area featured a Nebraska snake exhibit, a master gardener to answer questions and a variety of other exhibits. Visitors could also learn about radio telemetry, test their knowledge of agribusiness, learn about DNA and genetics, pass a quiz on agronomy or horticulture, or sink a “hole-in-one” in golf. For each activity in which they participated, visitors were given a CASNR dollar that was exchanged at the CASNR booth for various CASNR prizes.

Business/Extension/Community (Outreach) Partnerships

State Fair (August-September) – Had a booth in Agriculture Hall, Cyber Fair, the 4-H and FFA buildings. In addition, CASNR distributed candy bars to 4-H and FFA exhibitors and their parents during check-in. CASNR faculty, staff and students staffed the booth during key times and the CASNR golf cart participated in the parade on weekends. CASNR also hosted the CASNR Amazing Race for UNL students.

Husker Harvest Days (September) – Set-up a CASNR display and talked with visitors during the three-day trade show.

Ak-Sar-Ben (September) – Distributed candy bars to exhibitors and parents during check-in.

York Careers in Agriculture Day (September) – Students from surrounding schools were hosted by Cornerstone Bank; 150 students attended a career session presented by the CASNR Career Specialist.

Nebraska Farm Bureau Annual Meeting (December) – A CASNR booth was on display at the Nebraska Farm Bureau Annual Meeting.

National Cattlemen’s Beef Association Convention/Trade Show (February) - Worked with faculty to coordinate booth, personnel, materials and activities to represent CASNR at NCBA annual meeting.

Gudmundsen Field Day, Whitman, NE (April) – Over 200 youth attended an all-day event. CASNR presented information on academics in related areas, UNL and career opportunities.

Denver Stock Show (January) – CASNR was represented at this annual event in Denver. Several faculty, staff and students staffed the display.

National Pork Expo (June) - Worked with faculty to coordinate booth, personnel and materials to represent CASNR at the event.

FFA

National FFA Convention – CASNR hosted a display at this event in Indianapolis, IN, which attracts thousands of students from across the U.S.

State FFA Convention – CASNR had a booth on display at the Cornhusker Hotel, hosted East Campus scavenger hunt, and provided ten $500 scholarships to the Career Development Exam (CDE) winners. CASNR also offered East Campus tours and one-on-one visits with professors.

Multicultural Recruitment

UNL Multicultural Senior Visit Day (October) – Visited with students during morning browsing session.

UNL Achievement Banquet (November) – Attended dinner honoring Omaha-area students and visited with students interested in CASNR programs.

UNL Academic Days

(attracts students who may not be aware of possible CASNR degree programs)

Math Day (November) – CASNR set up a display/hosted an activity for high school students on campus for annual math competition.

Other Events

Science Olympiad (April) – East Campus served as the host for more than 500 Nebraska students who attended this annual event. Science competitions were held in various East Campus buildings and opening and closing ceremonies were held in the East Campus Union and Hardin Hall.

Nebraska Farmer Ads— CASNR had ads in Nebraska Farmer that featured the Agricultural Economics, Agronomy and Horticulture, and Animal Science departments.

Nebraska Cattlemen Ads— In this publication, CASNR had ads featuring the Agricultural Economics, Agronomy and Horticulture, and Animal Science departments.

NEBRASKAland Ads — The School of Natural Resources programs of study are featured in ads in this publication.

EAST CAMPUS VISITORS CENTER

The East Campus Visitors Center (ECVC) has become a welcoming place for students and campus visitors alike, as it is both a source of information as well as a starting point for campus visits for prospective students. Approximately 300 campus visits to East Campus have been coordinated through the ECVC, and well over 2,000 visitors have stopped into the Center. The majority of these needed directions to campus departments and attractions.

2008-2009 was a year during which promotion of the East Campus Visitors Center was a highlight. A number of initiatives were started and will continue in future years:

Visitor Guide

The first UNL Visitors Guide was published featuring both City and East Campuses. They are a fast-moving item in the ECVC and are in the process of being revised for next year.

Videos

We continue to work with University Communications and CIT to provide a diverse assortment of videos on the screens. We try to provide a balance of video clips representing UNL as a whole as well as clips specific to East Campus and CASNR.

Collaborations

Several projects were continued this year. The Lincoln Safari program, sponsored by the Lincoln Children's Zoo and other entities, has been very popular. Participants were required to get a rubbing from the Cottonwood tree in the Arboretum and then go to the ECVC to get a prize (a book). Once the books were gone, the Dairy Store provided a free scoop of ice cream to participants. The program did not include a stop here this summer.

The ECVC is the first stop on the Own Time, Any Time self-guided East Campus cell phone tour created by Elizabeth Killinger and Kim Todd in the Department of Agronomy & Horticulture. Brochures are being reprinted.

RETENTION ACTIVITIES

CASNR Cares

The College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources (CASNR) developed the CASNR CARES Program – Caring Attitudes and Respect for Every Student. The CASNR CARES program provides a single contact for parents, students, faculty and staff seeking assistance in navigating the university's student services programs. The primary goal is to ensure that each student becomes acclimated to the campus environment, engages in his/her own education and has every opportunity to be successful. It also provides a significant resource for family and faculty/staff to identify students that may need assistance in enhancing their educational experience. Our college is committed to the welfare and academic success of each of our students.

The CASNR CARES program respects all standards of confidentiality when gathering and sharing information that may affect a student's academic or personal growth. The program works with the student to develop a course of action to help the student meet his or her academic and personal goals, as well as the goals of the University. Sue Voss, Student Development and Events Director for CASNR, is the primary contact for the CASNR CARES program.

Faculty, staff, parents or students can initiate a referral by contacting Sue. She will contact the student, make an appointment to have them come to her office, and then meet with the student to determine if assistance is needed. Without identifying the sources of the concern, the student is encouraged to discuss how things are going, both in and out of the classroom. Students appreciate the attention that is provided to them plus they can learn more about the resources available across campus.

In cases where students must be away from campus due to health or family emergencies, Sue will gather information and can contact the instructors for the student's classes. Letting them know of the student's situations, she will also stay in contact with the student after hearing from the instructors and updating the faculty about the return of the student to classes. Both the student and the faculty members appreciate the information that is provided which helps the student stay current in class. For 2004-2005, Sue had 257 contacts regarding CASNR CARES. For 2005-2006, she had 461 contacts; for 2006-2007 there were 544 contacts; for 2007-2008 there were 422 contacts and for 2008-2009 there were 382.

Dean's Scholars in Experiential Leadership Program for 2008-2009

Fifty-eight freshmen from Nebraska, Indiana, Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming participated in the Dean's Scholars in Experiential Leadership (DSEL) program for 2008-2009. This endeavor was created by CASNR to bring students together in the college with an interest in further developing their leadership skills. The exciting program is a great way for students to become fully engaged in the college. It gives them the capacity and confidence to seek leadership positions now and in their professional careers.

Each week, students attend weekly sessions hosted by Steve Waller, Dean of CASNR. Students took the testing instrument for StrengthsQuest, a program developed by the Gallup Organization to determine student's top five personal strengths. Other topics include career portfolio development, leadership on campus, study abroad and health and wellness. Teaching Assistants, supported by Spader Leadership Excellence Fund Scholarships, were Melinda Rathman, Mary Peetz, Kayce Kobs, Joe Robine and Amanda Leafgren.

We had our Pen Pals with 54 Hartley Elementary second graders, a neighborhood elementary school. We decorated sweatshirts for our Pen Pals; they keep their sweatshirts at their desk in case the second grader doesn't dress appropriately for the weather. We provided hats and mittens during the Holiday Break in December; we made homework kits in February and also sent special invitations to our Pen Pals to attend Community night in April.

Blackboard

Sue Voss and Jill Brown send out weekly emails to all CASNR students using Blackboard. Emails consist of club meeting information, deadlines, events on campus and information vital to students. Jill sends out weekly career updates with companies that are interviewing on campus and job openings. Sue also made groups for New Freshmen students, Out-Of-State Students and Students of Color for MANRRS. Contacting these special interest groups throughout the year was extremely easy and quick to do.

TeamMates

Sue Voss was trained at the Mentor Training Program for TeamMates that was held in July on East Campus. Several meetings were held to find students who were interested in being a mentor for the TeamMates Program. Eleven freshmen were trained by Connie Duncan to be TeamMates and were assigned students from Clinton Elementary School. The mentoring program started in January and ran until school was out in May. It is hoped that our TeamMates mentors will continue to be involved with their mentee until the CASNR students graduate.

CASNR Career Bingo was presented in 55 Nebraska high schools (over 3,500 students) during the 2008-2009 school year.

International Affairs

CASNR is committed to helping its students reap the benefits of international study at UNL through study abroad programs. Such international experiences allow students to explore the global aspects of their respective degree programs and to gain a new perspective of the world in which they live. It allows them to be more competitive in an increasingly global marketplace. This past academic year, 83 CASNR students traveled to 17 countries for individual and group study abroad. CASNR provided $78,840 to students in scholarships that came from study abroad funds or grants.

Short Term Study Abroad Opportunities (less than a semester) included group study in Argentina, Puerto Rico, France, Ireland, Costa Rica, Namibia and Australia. In addition, long-term study abroad (semester or academic year) and internships (supervised work experience) are arranged. Increasingly students are organizing their own unique, long-term or internship experiences. CASNR staff then help them with the details. For the 2010 calendar year, study abroad opportunities led by CASNR faculty include:

Winter Break 2009-10– short-term study in New Zealand;
Spring Semester – short-term study in Puerto Rico, Argentina and Ireland;
Summer – short-term study in France, Mexico and Germany;
Food Science internship in India;
Fall, Spring or Summer – individual semester study in Mexico.

In 2011 we plan short-term group study in Namibia, Brazil, Costa Rica and Australia. We are also working on possible study abroad programs in Croatia, Morocco and Spain.

The Kleis Kiosk is part of the CASNR website with the intention of facilitating communication between students traveling abroad and their parents. It is accessed with passwords utilizing “blackboard” software and was created in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kleis. Dr. Kleis was UNL Dean of International Programs and then Executive Dean for International Affairs.

CASNR students are required to take at least one “internationally focused course.” They may elect to meet this requirement from a long list of courses in languages, geography, political science, economics, anthropology and humanities. CASNR also offers AGRI 282, Introduction to Global Agriculture and Natural Resources. This course helps students learn about global issues and inter-relationships that affect Nebraska.

A CASNR Minor in International Agriculture and Natural Resources allows students to build a concentration of courses in international agriculture. We feel this flexible minor fits well with CASNR degree programs and helps prepare students more broadly for careers in agriculture and natural resources whether they plan for a career in other countries or in Nebraska. Advising for the minor is done by the CASNR Dean’s staff.

Beyond Borders is a new CASNR student organization formed last year. It allows students to mix with students from other countries, learn about study abroad from other students and faculty leaders, and to fund-raise for their own study abroad. For questions or for more information on any of the topics discussed here, contact Arlen Etling, 103 Agriculture Hall, at 472-7018 or aetling1@unl.edu.

Interim Workshop

The 42nd annual CASNR Winter Interim Workshop on January 9, 2009 featured Dr. Rick Rudd, a nationally recognized expert in developing critical thinking in college students. He has conducted extensive research and written many journal articles on the subject. He has also led dozens of workshops across the country on developing critical thinking in students. The workshop highlighted strategies for building student critical thinking skills as well as revising syllabi to integrate critical thinking with the content of courses. Enrollment for the Workshop included 120 faculty from East Campus, City Campus, Nebraska community colleges, and surrounding institutions. The Workshop was organized by Dr. Mark Burbach, from the School of Natural Resources, Dr. Gina Matkin, from the Department of Agricultural Leadership, Education and Communication, and the CASNR Teaching and Learning Improvement Council. For more information about Dr. Rudd and developing student critical thinking skills go to: <http://casnr.unl.edu/winterworkshop>.

Graduate Student Enrollment

Graduate student data represents students enrolled on the sixth-day census (Fall 2008) and non-enrolled students actively pursuing graduate degrees. The graduate program in the Agricultural Research Division (College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources and the College of Education and Human Sciences) increased 6.5% from the Spring Semester 2007 to the Fall Semester 2008. Thirty-three percent of the graduate students in CASNR degree programs are supported by assistantships (state appropriated GTA; fellowships; and international agency or foreign country support). Nineteen percent of the students in the College of Education and Human Sciences are supported. Twenty-nine and one half percent of CASNR students were not enrolled in IANR graduate programs on the sixth day of the semester.
