Dr. Breed Receives National Award

Dr. Roger Breed

On July 12th, Commissioner of Education, Dr. Roger Breed, received the National Educational Administrator of the Year award at the National Association of Educational Office Professional's (NAEOP) annual conference in Costa Mesa, California.

The state NAEOP affiliate, which is comprised of about 200 educational office employees statewide, nominated Breed for the national award after he was recognized by a local Nebraska Department of Education affiliate for his leadership and support of staff. "He takes time with each employee, listens to all concerns, ideas and personal stories. His leadership and listening skills make employees feel the important and vital role each play in the success of the Department."

Breed is only the second Commissioner of Education to receive the prestigious, annual national award since 1973 when it was first established. Nancy Grasmick from Maryland was recognized in 1992.

The Nebraska Department of Education affiliate, NDE BRIDGE, nominated Breed for the state award. "We are pleased that Dr. Breed's leadership and his work on behalf of students and in support of education will be recognized
