Introduction

In this the Centennial Year of the University of Nebraska, it seems appropriate to present a bibliography of the University's Studies series, which was initiated in 1888. Works issued from that date through 1941 comprised the "Old Series"; they were identified by volume and number and by month and year of publication.

Eighteen Studies in Language, Literature and Criticism were printed between 1917 and 1940, four Studies in the Humanities between 1941 and 1945, and two Studies in Science and Technology in 1941 and 1942. The "New Series," which began in 1946, continues to this day on an irregular basis, depending on manuscripts received and accepted for publication.

The University of Nebraska Studies are scholarly monographs covering a wide variety of subjects. Most are out of print; those still in print (marked with an asterisk) are in the custody of the Acquisitions Department of the University of Nebraska Libraries. While the supply of many is very limited, those still in print are available to institutions and to individual scholars on an exchange or gift basis. Requests for copies should be directed to the Acquisitions Librarian at the University of Nebraska.
