

University of Nebraska - Lincoln

DigitalCommons@University of Nebraska - Lincoln

Center for Grassland Studies Newsletters

Grassland Studies, Center for 2009

University of Nebraska-Lincoln Center for Grassland Studies Newsletter Articles Vols. 1 – 15, 1995–2009

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.unl.edu/grassland_newsletters

Part of the Other Plant Sciences Commons

"University of Nebraska-Lincoln Center for Grassland Studies Newsletter Articles Vols. 1 – 15, 1995–2009" (2009). Center for Grassland Studies Newsletters. 55.

https://digitalcommons.unl.edu/grassland_newsletters/55

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Grassland Studies, Center for at DigitalCommons@University of Nebraska - Lincoln. It has been accepted for inclusion in Center for Grassland Studies Newsletters by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@University of Nebraska - Lincoln.

University of Nebraska-Lincoln
Center for Grassland Studies Newsletter Articles
Vols. 1 – 15, 1995–2009

Volume 15, #1 (Winter-Spring 2009)

Estimating Livestock Forage Demand: Defining the Animal Unit (AU)

by T.L. Meyer, Don Adams, Terry Klopfenstein, Jerry Volesky, L. Aaron Stalker, Rick Funston, UNL

Landscape Groundcovers

by Roch Gaussoin and Kim Todd, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Sandhills Ecotourism Project

by Wyatt Fraas, Center for Rural Affairs

Program for 2009 Nebraska Grazing Conference

2009 Nike Golf Camp in Lincoln This July

Volume 14, #4 (Fall 2008)

Managing Grasslands for Structural Heterogeneity

by Alexander Smart, Department of Animal and Range Sciences, South Dakota State University

Yellow Nutsedge: The Scourge of Lawns and Landscapes in Nebraska

by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Targeting Habitat Dollars with Computers: Maximizing the Value of Data for Conservation

by Drew Tyre, School of Natural Resources, UNL, with Naikoa Aguilar-Amustechequi, University of North Carolina-Wilmington and Max Post van der Burg, SNR, UNL

2008 Nebraska Grazing Conference Best Yet!

Volume 14, #3 (Summer 2008)

Are the Sandhills Fragile?

by James Stubbendieck and Susan J. Tunnell, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Forage Triticale (X Triticosecale Wittmack) Genotypes for the Northern Great Plains

by Lekgari Lekgari and P. Stephen Baenziger, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Progress Being Made in Implementing the Nebraska Natural Legacy Plan
Soil and Water Conservation Conference: Farming with Grass
August 1 is Pre-registration Deadline for Nebraska Grazing Conference We've Moved!

Volume 14, #2 (Spring 2008)

Restricted Feeding Can Improve Performance of Growing Steers Prior to Grazing on Burned Native Flint Hills Pasture by Chad Anglin, Dale Blasi, KC Olson, Chris Reinhardt, Marc Epp, Rodney Derstein, and Brian Barnhardt, Department of Animal Sciences and Industry, Kansas State University

UNL Study Reports on the Cost of Growing Switchgrass as Ethanol Feedstock by Brian Williams and Richard Perrin, Department of Agricultural Economics, UNL

Water Is Focus of Prairie Conference

Professional Golf Management Highlights

2008 Nike Golf Camp in Lincoln This July

Program for 2008 Nebraska Grazing Conference

The Nebraska Range Shortcourse

2008 Nebraska Beef Cattle Report Available

Partnership Effort Helps Reach Habitat Milestone in Nebraska

Volume 14, #1 (Winter 2008)

Organic Matter -- Should It Matter? A Golf Course Perspective
by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

UNL-USDA Study: Major Net Energy Gain from Switchgrass-based Ethanol

Using the Corn Stalk Grazing Calculator as a Decision Aid by Aaron Stalker, Department of Animal Science and Matt Stockton, Department of Agricultural Economics, West Central Research and Extension Center, UNL, North Platte

Avian Response to Invasive Tree Removal on Remnant Prairie Pastures in Southeast Nebraska by Elizabeth Forbus and Craig Allen, School of Natural Resources, UNL

Conserving Wildlife and A Way of Life: Conservancy Launches Grass Exchange Program

Volume 13, #4 (Fall 2007)

Turfgrass and Landscape Management Degree Program at UNL
by Robert (Bob) C. Shearman, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

New Farm Bill Should Continue Support for Grassland Management
by Duane Hovorka, National Wildlife Federation

Another Great Nebraska Grazing Conference in 2007!

New Ph.D. Specialization in Applied Ecology at UNL
by Tala Awada, James Brandle and Larkin Powell, School of Natural Resources, UNL

Nebraska Mentoring Program for Graziers
by Roger Chesley, Nebraska Grazing Lands Coalition

2003 National Resources Inventory Information Online

2007 CGS Fall Seminar Series

Volume 13, #3 (Summer 2007)

Managing the Meeting of the Cow and the Grass by Pat Reece, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, Panhandle Research and Extension Center, UNL, Scottsbluff

A Prairie Green Roof
by Richard Sutton, Departments of Landscape Architecture and Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Carbon Sequestration Pilot Project Wraps Up
Steve Chick, USDA - Natural Resources Conservation Service, Lincoln, NE

CGS Council Tours North Central Nebraska

The Nature Conservancy Expands Its Scope

Restored Wetlands Capture Missouri River Water Reducing Flooding

Volume 13, #2 (Spring 2007)

Using Dried Distillers Grains to Substitute for Forage and Nitrogen Fertilizer:
Nitrogen Dynamics and Use Efficiency by Matt Greenquist and Terry Klopfenstein, Department of Animal Science, and Walter Schacht, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Program for 2007 Nebraska Grazing Conference

2007 Nike Golf Camp in Lincoln This July

Did You Know There Is an Environmental Institute for Golf?

Group Studies Great Plains Fire History
by Charles Flowerday, School of Natural Resources, UNL

Summer Fire and Post-Fire Grazing Management by Lance Vermeire, USDA-ARS Fort Keogh Livestock and Range Research Laboratory

Volume 13, #1 (Winter 2007)

Restoration of Salt Cedar Infestations

by Lani Malmberg, Ewe4ic Ecological Services

Patch-burn Grazing: Benefits for Both Wildlife Habitat and Livestock Performance

by Chris Helzer, Director of Science and Stewardship, The Nature Conservancy (Aurora, Nebraska) and Tim Tunnell, Grassland Manager, Platte Habitat Partnership (Wood River, Nebraska)

Soil Physical Characteristics of Aging Golf Greens

by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Jim Gerrish to Speak at 2007 Nebraska Grazing Conference

PGM Students Hit the 100 Mark

Volume 12, #4 (Fall 2006)

Chemical Characteristics of Aging Golf Greens

by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Can Ecophysiological Characteristics Explain the Success of Woody Species in the Sandhills of Nebraska?

by Kathleen Eggemeyer, Tala Awada, F. Edwin Harvey, David Wedin, Xinhua Zhou and Sue Ellen Pegg, School of Natural Resources, UNL

Comparison of a Long Yearling System to Calf-fed Performance and Economics

by Will Griffin and Terry Klopfenstein, Department of Animal Science, UNL

A Tale of Two States

by Jana Beckman, Kansas Center for Sustainable Agriculture and Alternative Crops, K-State Research and Extension

2006 Nebraska Grazing Conference Best Yet!

Volume 12, #3 (Summer 2006)

Summary Analysis of Grazing Yearling Response to Distillers Grains

by Terry Klopfenstein, Department of Animal Science, UNL

Grassland Ecology and Management: A New Name for the Range Major

by Walter Schacht, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Befriending Birds: Why Should Landowners Care about Integrating Wildlife Conservation with Livestock Production? The Reasons Are Plenty!

by Kindra Gordon, Grazing Lands Conservation Initiative

Another Successful Nebraska Youth Range Camp

by Daryl Cisney and Mary Reece, Nebraska Section of the Society for Range Management

Landowner, Foundation, City and Federal Government Preserve Native Prairie for Grazing and Education
by Steve Chick, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service

Volume 12, #2 (Spring 2006)

Evaluation of Two Grasses for Silvopasture Systems in the Great Plains
by Michael E.L. Perry, Tala Awada, Walter Schacht, and Sue Ellen Pegg
Department of Agronomy and Horticulture and School of Natural Resources, UNL

Research for the Birds: Sandhills Is the Target of Grassland Bird and Grazing Investigation by Larkin Powell, School of Natural Resources, UNL

UNL Professional Golf Management Program Scores a First
Program Set for 2006 Nebraska Grazing Conference

The Nebraska Range Shortcourse

Invasive Species Is Theme of Prairie Conference

Third National Conference on Grazing Lands

Volume 12, #1 (Winter 2006)

Nitrogen Sequestration and Groundwater Quality
Charles Shapiro and Bill Kranz, Haskell Agricultural Laboratory, UNL

Maximize pre-emergence success in turf
by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Losing Grasslands and Natural Areas to Development
by Richard Sutton, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

New Prairie Grasses to Fatten Beef Cattle

Nike Golf Camp in Lincoln This July

Volume 11, #4 (Fall 2005)

Using Legumes to Boost Quality of Smooth Bromegrass Pastures by Walter Schacht and Bruce Anderson, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

The Grass is Always Greener: Consumer Preferences for Ornamental Grasses
by Kim Todd, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

PGM Enrollment More Than Doubles in Second Year

5th Annual Nebraska Grazing Conference Covered Diverse Topics

Call for Papers, Third National Conference on Grazing Lands

Planning: An Important Key to Native Planting Success

Volume 11, #3 (Summer 2005)

Why Do We All Work So Hard on Our Lawns? Blame Habit, Snobbery
by Cynthia Crosses

Intensify Extensive Beef Systems?
by Terry Klopfenstein, Jeff Folmer, and Galen Erickson

CGS Citizens Advisory Council and Associates Visit Southwestern Nebraska

Audubon's First Important Bird Areas in Nebraska Announced

XX International Grassland Congress
by Walter Schacht, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Visit the Ecological Site Information System
by George Peacock, Natural Resources Conservation Service, Central National Technology Support Center, Fort Worth, Texas

Opportunity for Holistic Management Training

Volume 11, #2 (Spring 2005)

Can Distillers Grains Replace Forage? by Sarah Morris, Jim MacDonald, Don Adams and Terry Klopfenstein, Department of Animal Science, UNL

Nebraska Wildlife Federation Looking for Tallgrass Prairies
by Penny Perkins and Duane Hovorka, Nebraska Wildlife Federation

Program Set for 2005 Nebraska Grazing Conference

CGS Associate Leaves Legacy of Native Plantings Along Nebraska Highways

Grazing Livestock Systems Update

Urbanized Buffalograss in Demand

Volume 11, #1 (Winter 2005)

Grass Seed Production Research in Nebraska Panhandle
by David Baltensperger, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Can Perennial Grass Pastures be Profitable in the Great Plains by Rob Mitchell, Ken Vogel, and Gary Varvel, USDA-ARS, Lincoln, NE Terry Klopfenstein (Animal Science), Dick Clark (Agricultural Economics), and Bruce Anderson (Agronomy and Horticulture), UNL

Forum – Monitoring Rangeland Health for an Experiment in Public Land Ownership

2005 Nebraska Grazing Conference to be Aug. 8-9

PGM Program Swings into 2nd Semester

Dates for 7th Nebraska Ranch Practicum Set

Changing Natural Landscapes: Ecological and Human Dimensions

Volume 10, #4 (Fall 2004)

Nebraska's Natural Legacy Project

by Kristal Stoner, Nebraska Game and Parks Commission

Earth, Wind, and Fire in the Flint Hills

by David Hartnett, Konza Prairie Biological Station, Kansas State University

Owens Highlights UNL Grazing Activities at Grazing Conference

Professional Golf Management Program Tees Off with 31 Students

CGS Director Massengale Inducted into CSREES Hall of Fame

Volume 10, #3 (Summer 2004)

WILD Nebraska Grasslands

by Bill Vodehnal, Nebraska Game and Parks Commission

High School Students Improve Their Game While Having Fun at UNL Golf Camp

Multiple Dimensions of a Strong Professional Golf Management Program

by Charles Francis, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

CGS Advisory Council Tours Northeast Nebraska

Groundwater Nitrates Being Used to Fertilize Intensive Grazed Pasture

Grazing and Grassland Management Is Theme of Wildlife Society Meeting

Regional Researchers Collaborate to Improve Grazing Systems

UNL Researchers Study Seed Production of Eastern Red Cedar

Range Management Focus of Beef Basics VI

Still Time to See Exhibition – Listening to the Prairie

Walk-in Registrations Accepted for Nebraska Grazing Conference

Vol. 10, #2, (Spring 2004)

CGS Coordinates New Professional Golf Management Program

Alternatives to Grazing Drought-Stricken Pastures

by Ivan Rush, Panhandle Research and Extension Center, UNL

2004 Nebraska Grazing Conference in Kearney August 10-11

Dave and Loretta Hamilton: Grazing and Ranch Management Mentors
by Dana Larsen, Natural Resources Conservation Service, USDA

Loess Hills Conservation Measures Improve Rangeland Conditions and Aid American Burying Beetle in Nebraska

by Thomas Walker, Jr., Nebraska Game and Parks Commission

Jerry Volesky, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Wyatt Hoback, Department of Biology, University of Nebraska at Kearney

XX International Grassland Congress, Ireland, 2005

Allan Savory on Holistic Resource Management at Northeast Nebraska Program

Vol. 10, #1 (Winter 2004)

Matching Beef Cattle Genetics to Feed Resources

by Jim Gosey, Department of Animal Science, UNL

Ecological Monitoring to Assist Producers with Grassland Production Forecasts

by George Green, School of Natural Resources, UNL

Nebraska Ranch Practicum Enters Sixth Year

by Jerry Volesky, Don Adams, Richard Clark, Dillon Feuz, Patrick Reece, Brent Plugge, Bud Stolzenburg and Troy Walz, UNL

Bull Riders for Biodiversity? – And Other Heresies for the Northern Great Plains

by Tyler Sutton, for The Conservation Alliance of the Great Plains

2004 Nebraska Grazing Conference to be Aug. 10-11

The Nebraska Turfgrass Conference: 42 Years of Educating Nebraska Turfgrass Managers

by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Vol. 9, #4 (Fall 2003)

Students: Study Sustainable Animal Systems in Norway!

by Charles Francis, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

High Plains Partnership: Conserving High-priority Species in Cooperation with Private Landowners

Private Individuals Can Now Provide and Receive Conservation Technical Assistance with TechReg

Legumes Boost Quality in Bromegrass Pastures

Nebraska Agriculture Industry Partnership Formed

UNL Scientists Earn $1.8 million NSF Grant to Study Sandhills Ecosystem

Online Forage and Grazinglands Journal Part of Plant Management Network

Vol. 9, #3 (Summer 2003)

Slopes: Maintenance Hassle or Landscape Asset?

by John Fech, Extension Educator, UNL

Potentials and Precautions in Turfgrass Biotechnology

by Charles Francis, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Applications for Grassland Reserve Program Due Sep.30

CGS 2003 Fall Seminar Series

CGS Citizens Advisory Council Tours Southeast Nebraska

Reminder of Nebraska Grazing Conference

Vol. 9, #2 (Spring 2003)

Turfgrass Biotechnology – 2003 Update

by Terrance Riordan, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Ecosystem Consequences of Trees in Grasslands: Insights from Bessey's Forest

by David Wedin, School of Natural Resource Sciences, UNL

UNL Offers New Professional Golf Management Program

Richard Knight to Speak on Biodiversity on Rangelands Oct. 20

2003 Nebraska Grazing Conference in Kearney August 11-12

National Speakers to be Featured at Brush Creek Ranch Conference & Field Day

Iowa Prairie Conference: The Practical Prairie

Vol. 9, #1 (Winter 2003)

Planning for Bison Grazing on Native Rangeland

by Kristin Miller, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service

Pooled Sales Add Value to Cull Cows

by Rebekka Martin and Jana Beckman

The Grass Dance

UNL Offers Online Course in Turf Diseases

Second National Conference on Grazing Lands

Seed Dormancy – the Uncertainty in Native Grass Seeding

Prairie Pines to Benefit UNL Programs

by Steven Ress, Water Center, UNL

Platte River Trust Begins Study of Birds Breeding in Grasslands

by Felipe Chavez-Ramirez, Platte River Whooping Crane Maintenance Trust

Vol. 8, #4 (Fall 2002)

Examining the Roles of Plant Species and Nitrogen in the Structure and Function of Microbial Communities

by Kate Bradley, Rhae Drijber and Johannes Knops, UNL

Carcass and Palatability Characteristics of Calf-fed and Yearling Finished Steers

by Perry Brewer, Rosemary Anderson, Chris Calkins, Terry Klopfenstein, and Rick Rasby Department of Animal Science, UNL

2nd Nebraska Grazing Conference Another Winner

New Grasslands Plan Holds Promise for People, Wildlife, and Public Lands (reprint of Hovorka article)

Tracking Movement of Cattle With Satellites

Integrating Forage and Cattle Resources to Maximize Profitability of Beef Enterprises Conferences

Nebraska Partnership for All-Bird Conservation Formed

Vol. 8, #3 (Summer 2002)

Influence of Topography on Sediment Trapping in Grass Buffers

by Dean Eisenhauer, Michael Dosskey, Matthew Helmers, Jason Brothers, and Thomas Franti, Department of Biological Systems Engineering, UNL

Vivien Allen to be Leu Distinguished Lecturer

Arbor Links Golf Course Opens

CGS Tour Showcased Golfing, Hunting, Ranching, Biology Education and Research

New Grassland Reserve Program in Farm Bill

Landscape Connections September 14

Gudmundsen Ranch Open House August 28

Vol. 8, #2 (Spring 2002)

A Systems Approach to Production from Weaning to Harvest

by Terry Klopfenstein, D. J. Jordon, and Galen Erickson, Department of Animal Science, UNL

Turf in the Landscape

Nebraska Grazing Conference in Kearney August 12-13

CGS 2002 Seminar Series

National Grassland Week in May

Global Virtual Conference on Organic Beef Production

Vol. 8, #1 (Winter 2002)

Study Shows Importance of Biodiversity to Grasslands

Managing Prairies for Biodiversity

by Chris Helzer, The Nature Conservancy

2002-2003 Nebraska Ranch Practicum

2002 Nebraska Range Shortcourse

by Lowell Moser, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Vol. 7, #4 (Fall 2001)

New Hosts of the Buffalograss Chinch Bug, Blissus occiduus

by Thomas Eickhoff and Frederick Baxendale, Department of Entomology, UNL

Grassland Opportunities in the New Farm Bill

by Craig Derickson, Natural Resources Conservation Service, USDA

Nebraska Grazing Conference Huge Success

Grazing Livestock Systems Major Enters Third Year

Great Plains Migrations Symposium

“Promoting Prairie” Conference in June 2002

Vol. 7, #3 (Summer 2001)

The Lesser Prairie-chickens of Kansas’ Sandsage Prairies

by Paul Johnsgard, Regents Professor/Professor Emeritus, School of Biological Sciences, UNL

Revisiting Nebraska's Mammals

by Patricia Freeman, University of Nebraska State Museum

CGS Citizens Advisory Council Tours Southeast Nebraska

Beef and Forage Specialists Tour Nebraska Sand Hills

Don’t Forget the Nebraska Grazing Conference!

Landscape Ecology Symposium in April 2002

Grazing Sudangrass, Pearl Millet, and Sorghum Hybrids

by Bruce Anderson, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

CGS 2001 Seminar Series

Vol. 7, #2 (Spring 2001)

Windrow Grazing and Baled-Hay Feeding Strategies for Wintering Calves
by Jerry Volesky, Don Adams, and Richard Clark, WCREC, UNL

Dull Mower Affects Turf in More Ways than Appearance by Don Steinegger and Bob Shearman, Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, UNL

Nebraska Grazing Conference August 13-14

“Backyard Farmer” Available on Internet

“Arbor Links” -- Dream Becomes Reality

Sampson Fellowship Award

UNL Hosts First Day of Issue Ceremony for Great Plains Prairie Stamp

Vol. 7, #1 (Winter 2001)

Using the Nutritional Balance Analyzer (NUTBAL) Program to Track Crude Protein Values for Rangeland and CRP under Drought Conditions
by Mary Schrader, Natural Resources Conservation Service

UNL Research Towards Biological Control of Turfgrass Diseases - Part II
by Gary Yuen, Department of Plant Pathology, UNL

Nebraska Grazing Conference August 13-14

Natural Landscaping at City Library

2001-2002 Nebraska Ranch Practicum

USDA "PLANTS" Web Site

Volume 6, #4 (Fall 2000)

UNL Research Towards Biological Control of Turfgrass Diseases – Part I
by Gary Yuen, Department of Plant Pathology, UNL

Prairie Restoration Cooperative

by Gerry Steinauer, Nebraska Game and Parks Commission

CGS Seminars Available on Video

Annual Forage Production and Quality Trials

by Burt Weichenthal (Department of Animal Science) and David Baltensperger (Department of Agronomy) at Panhandle Research & Extension Center, and Kenneth Vogel, USDA-ARS and Department of Agronomy, UNL

Vol. 6, #3 (Summer 2000)

Ergot: An Endemic Disease of Grasses in the Great Plains

by John Watkins, Department of Plant Pathology, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Compensatory Growth and Slaughter Breakevens of Yearling Cattle

by D. J. Jordon, Terry Klopfenstein, Todd Milton and Rob Cooper
Department of Animal Science, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Amazing Graze

New Trefoils Give Breeders More Options

CGS Facilitates Regional Collaboration

CGS Citizens Advisory Council Holds 5th Summer Meeting/Tour

Prussic Acid and Nitrate Poisoning

Vol. 6, #2 (Spring 2000)

Use of Prescribed Fire in Grassland Management

by James Stubbendieck and Robert Masters, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Bison and Grasslands: Living in Harmony with Nature

by David Hutchinson, Perfect Ten Bison Ranch, Rose, Nebraska

Plains Bison

Bison bison bison

Act Now to Adjust for Drought

by Bruce Anderson, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Turfgrass Drought Stress

by Robert (Bob) Shearman, Department of Horticulture, UNL

Vol. 6, #1 (Winter 2000)

Genetically Enhanced Turfgrasses Where Are We Going?

by Terrance Riordan, Department of Horticulture, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

NUBEEF Educational Web Site for Beef Producers

by Rick Rasby, Department of Animal Science, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Bison Symposium in Lincoln April 6-8

CGS Welcomes Laurice Matulka

GLCI Lists Benefits of Grazing Lands

Glickman Calls for National Commitment to Preserve Private Land

Nebraska Ranch Practicum Again Offered

2000 Nebraska Range Short Course

by Lowell Moser, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Technology Spurs Alfalfa Genome Mapping

Field Trip Graduate Course Focuses on East Coast Ecology

April 1 Deadline for Abstracts: National Conference on Grazing Lands

Vol. 5, #4 (Fall 1999)

End-of-Season Visual Obstruction after Summer Grazing in the Nebraska Sandhills by Patrick Reece, Jerry Volesky, and Walter Schacht, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Global Change: Implications for Great Plains and Midwest Grasslands by David Wedin, School of Natural Resource Sciences, UNL

On the Green with the Environment [Reprinted from the June/July, 1999 Conservation Voices]

Special Publication on Grasslands at the Millenium

USDA Holds Land Conservation Forums and Summit

Vol. 5, #3 (Summer 1999)

Managing Intensively Used Turfs by Robert (Bob) Shearman, Department of Horticulture, UNL

Management Practices and Plant Diversity on Some Privately-Owned Meadows in the Middle Loup River Valley by Steven Rothenberger, Department of Biology, University of Nebraska at Kearney

Grassland Ecology Is Theme of CGS Seminar Series

Grazing Lands Technical Assistance Available

Rancher's Forum October 6

Regional Grazing Project Approved

Moderate Grazing Promotes Plant Diversity

Looking for a Few Good Forage Publications

Vol. 5, #2 (Spring 1999)

Spring Creek Prairie Near Lincoln Provides Outdoor Classroom Other Preserved Virgin Prairies in Southeast Nebraska

Algae Control in Ponds With Barley Bales: On-site Results in Nebraska by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Horticulture, UNL

CGS Offers New Grazing Livestock Systems Major

Grassland Ecology Theme of Fall 1999 CGS Seminar Series

Fair 2000 Symposium Sets Food Animal Research Priorities

Executive Order on Invasive Species

Vol. 5, #1 (Winter 1999)

Factors Affecting the Biodiversity of Lowland Grasslands Along the Platte River by Julie Savidge and Tammy VerCauteren, School of Natural Resources, UNL

Use of Exotic Plants in Sandhills Wet Meadows: An Ecological Viewpoint
by Gerry Steinauer, Botanist, Nebraska Games and Parks Commission

Role of Grasses In an Integrated approach for Remediating TNT-Contaminated Soil
by Neil Heckman, Department of Horticulture, UNL

New Editor of Great Plains Research Solicits Manuscripts
by Svata Louda, School of Biological Sciences, UNL

Why We Do What We Do
by Dick Gray, Agronomist, Nebraska Department of Roads

Bison Symposium Calls for Papers: "Bison: the Past, Present, and Future of the Great Plains"

Prairie Restoration Seminars Available on Video

Vol. 4, #4 (Fall 1998)

Subirrigated Meadow Management Practices
by Jerry Volesky, West Central Research and Extension Center, UNL

Wildlife Habitat Incentive Program by Craig Derickson and Gerald Jasmer, USDA, Natural Resources Conservation Service

The Effect of Planting Date on Turfgrass Seed Production in the High Plains
by Rebecca Harms, Turfgrass Project Coordinator, UNL

Beef Home Study Courses Begin Fifth Year

Plan Now to Attend SRM/AFGC Joint Meeting

Vol. 4, #3 (Summer 1998)

Nebraska's Wetlands
by Ted LaGrange, Nebraska Game and Parks Commission

Ashfall Fossil Beds: Record of an Ancient Grassland Ecosystem Preserved in Rock
by Michael Voorhies, University of Nebraska State Museum

Wet Meadow Restoration at The Nature Conservancy's Speidell Tract
by Chris Helzer, The Nature Conservancy

CGS Advisory Committee Tours Golf Course, Burned Grasslands, Fossil Beds and Ranch

Vol. 4, #2 (Spring 1998)

Developing Integrated Weed Management Strategies to Improve Leafy Spurge-Infested Grasslands

by Robert Masters, USDA-ARS and Department of Agronomy, UNL

Biological Control of Weedy Exotic Thistles and Its Ecological Side Effects in the Sandhills: Testing and Policy Implications (Part 2)

by Svata Louda, School of Biological Sciences, UNL

Cows in the Stream: A Sustainable Practice?

by Charles Francis, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Prairie Restoration is Theme of CGS Fall Seminar Series

Conference Highlights Nebraska Loess Hills

Vol. 4, #1 (Winter 1998)

Biological Control of Weedy Exotic Thistles and Its Ecological Side Effects in the Sandhills: Observations (Part 1)

by Svata Louda, School of Biological Sciences, UNL

Cutting Edge Technology Used for UNL Football Practice Field

by Roch Gaussoin, Department of Horticulture, UNL

Early-summer Grazing Effects on Defoliation and Tiller Demography of Prairie Sandreed

by Andrew Cullan, Patrick Reece and Walter Schacht, Department of Agronomy, UNL

Bison/Buffalo Information

East Meets West in 1999: SRM/AFGC Joint Meeting

by Heidi Carter, Center for Sustainable Agricultural Systems, UNL

Field Trip Graduate Course on Ecology of Grazing Lands

Vol. 3, #4 (Fall 1997)

The Nebraska Gap Analysis Project: Geographic Information for Land Resource Managers by Marlen Eve and James Merchant, Conservation and Survey Division, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

1998 Nebraska Range Shortcourse

by Lowell Moser, Department of Agronomy, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

The Konza Prairie: Our Tallgrass Neighbors

by Rob Peters, formerly with The Land Institute, Salina, Kansas

Festival of Color Draws 9,000 This Year

Vol. 3, #3 (Summer 1997)

New Conservation Reserve Program Under 1996 Farm Bill
by Craig Derickson, USDA, Natural Resources Conservation Service

Plant Materials Centers Develop Plants to Solve Conservation Problems
by Pam Murray, Coordinator, Center for Grassland Studies

CGS Advisory Council Tours South Central Nebraska

UNL Management Intensive Grazing Program Has $3 Million Impact

TGIF Doesn't Always Mean "Thank Goodness It's Friday"

Stop By Crane Meadows Nature Center On Next Flight Down I-80

Vol. 3, #2 (Spring 1997)

Environmental Quality Incentives Program
by Dayle Williamson, Nebraska Natural Resources Commission

High Quality Seed: Importance for Grasslands
by Roger Hammons, Nebraska Crop Improvement Association

Management Intensive Grazing Basics
by Steven Melvin, Extension Educator, UNL

Rangeland Grasshoppers of Nebraska
by John B. Campbell and Gary Hein
West Central and Panhandle Research & Extension Centers, UNL

Pastured Poultry Organization Formed

Eastern Gamagrass: Forage and A Whole Lot More

Public Input Sought on Grassland and Forest Plans

Vol. 3, #1 (Winter 1997)

New Nutritional Information For Beef Producers in 1997 Nebraska Beef Report by Dennis Brink, Department of Animal Science, UNL

IANR Employees Recognized at Nebraska Turfgrass Conference

New CAST report: Grazing on Public Lands

Pasture Songbirds
by Laura Paine and Dan Undersander, Department of Agronomy, University of Wisconsin

U.S. Forest Service Revising Grassland Management Plans
by Tom Domek, Nebraska National Forest

Sandhills Partnership Receives Grant for Fen Restoration

Vol. 2, #4 (Fall 1996)

Grasslands, Horses, and Tractors
by Ken Vogel

Grazing Evaluation of Cool-season Grasses in the Nebraska Sandhills in Replicated Ranch Trials
by Dennis Bauer, Extension Educator, UNL

Grazingland Words to Know
by Bruce Anderson, Department of Agronomy, UNL
and Terry Gompert, Extension Educator, UNL

Value of Wetlands

CGS Seminars Available on Video

International Grassland Congress

Advisory Council Meets In Lincoln

Golf and the Environment

EPA 1997 Science Research Grants

CGS Display Available

Vol. 2, #3 (Summer 1996)

Matching the Cow with Forage Resources
by Don Adams, Richard Clark, Terry Klopfenstein, and Jerry Volesky

Grassland Biodiversity, Large Grazers and Fire
by Al Steuter, The Nature Conservancy

American Forage and Grassland Council Conference
by Lowell Moser, Department of Agronomy, UNL

CGS Citizens Advisory Council Holds Third Meeting In Western Nebraska

Grazing Lands Conservation Initiative Exploratory Meeting

Vol. 2, #2 (Spring 1996)

Alkaline Wetlands of the North Platte River Valley
by Gerry Steinauer, Ecologist\Botanist, Nebraska Natural Heritage Program

Grazing Times
(reprint of column by Jim Gerrish)

Hopper: Decision Support System for Rangeland Grasshopper Management
by Anthony Joern, School of Biological Sciences, UNL

The 1996 Farm Bill
by Dayle Williamson, Nebraska Natural Resources Commission

Nebraska Range Shortcourse

CGS Fall 1996 Seminar Series
New Museum Director Is Grass Researcher
Controlled Burning in Rangeland Management
Weaver Small Grants Program

Vol. 2, #1 (Winter 1996)

Turfgrasses Benefit People and Their Environment
by Robert (Bob) C. Shearman, Department of Horticulture, UNL and Exec. Director of the National Turfgrass Evaluation Program Conservation Reserve Program Entering an Unknown Phase
by Richard T. Clark, Department of Agricultural Economics, UNL
Golf Growing in Popularity
Advisory Council Identifies Needs
Funding Opportunities

Vol. 1, #1 (Fall 1995)

What Studies of the Past Can Tell Us about Grasslands by Margaret Bolick, Curator of Botany, University of Nebraska State Museum
The Buffalograss Story
by T.P. Riordan, Department of Horticulture, UNL Nebraska Proposes Cooperative CRP
by Scott Hygnstrom, Department of Forestry, Fisheries and Wildlife, UNL International Rangeland Congress Focuses On Future
by James Stubbendieck, Department of Agronomy, UNL
CGS Holds First Advisory Council Meeting
Jim Gerrish to Speak at Fall Seminar Series
International Turfgrass Meeting Held In Nebraska
On the National Scene
NRCS Holds Listening Sessions In Nebraska
Tape of Grazing Lands Management Satellite Videoconference Available