Editors' Note:

There are not many student-run academic journals, and even fewer student-run anthropological journals. We are happy to provide a forum for anthropologists and other students who share a love for understanding people from all walks of life in which they can present their interests and intellectual work for each other. The Nebraska Anthropologist is a small testament to what can be accomplished when a community works together.

This volume would not have been possible without the guidance and assistance from Benjamin Grant Purzycki with a special thanks to Dr. Carleen Sanchez for her help with grant writing. We thank Dr. Mark Awakuni-Swetland for suggesting the logo.

We would also like to thank you for purchasing a copy of this journal. Such a project could not continue without your support.

The Nebraska Anthropologist welcomes submissions from students from any school in any discipline regarding our species' past, present, and future. Send your submission, with the appropriate contact information, on a disk and 2 hardcopies to the following address:

Our logo is based on the traditional honor tattoo that Omaha women traditionally wore. The circle, representing the sun, was placed in the middle of a woman's forehead. The star was placed on the upper chest. According to Fletcher and La Flesche (1992), "The star is emblematic of the night, the great mother force, its four points representing also the life-giving winds into the midst of which the child was sent through the ceremony of Turning the Child" (505).
