Contributors

Charlene Bickford, director of the First Federal Congress Project at the George Washington University, is a former president of the Association for Documentary editing and has served as the chair of its Federal Policy Committee since 1981. She represents the ADE on the boards of the National Coalition for History and the National Humanities Alliance.

Steven K. Gragert, director of the Will Rogers Memorial Museum and the Will Rogers Birthplace Ranch, both in Oklahoma, has served as an editor of seventeen volumes of the writings and letters of Will Rogers and as director of the Will Rogers Research Project at Oklahoma State University. His most recent book, the fifth and final volume of The Papers of Will Rogers, on which he collaborated with Dr. M. Jane Johansson, was published by the University of Oklahoma Press in December 2006.

Robert F. Haggard has been an associate editor for The Papers of Thomas Jefferson: Retirement Series since 2001. Before joining his colleagues at the Thomas Jefferson Foundation, he worked for five years at the University of Virginia's Papers of George Washington, where he served as the project's copy editor, CD-ROM editor, and as an assistant editor.

Kevin J. Hayes, professor of English at the University of Central Oklahoma, is the author of several books, including The Cambridge Introduction to Herman Melville, An American Cycling Odyssey, and The Library of William Byrd, for which he won the Virginia Library History Award. As bibliography editor of Documentary Editing, he founded the "Recent Editions" column in 1993 and maintained it for the next six years, for which he received ADE's Distinguished Service Award. His latest book, The Road to Monticello: the Life and Mind of Thomas Jefferson, will be published in June.

Beth Luey is director emerita of the Scholarly Publishing Program at Arizona State University and a past president of the ADE. She has also served as a past editor of Documentary Editing, for which she received the 2002 Distinguished Service Award, and she is the 2007 recipient of the ADE Lyman H. Butterfield Award for her significant contributions to the ADE in the areas of documentary scholarship, service, and teaching.

Jimmy Wilkinson Meyer, an independent historian and editor, teaches first-year students at the College of Wooster in Ohio. She earned a PhD from Case Western Reserve University, studying the history of women and reproductive policy. Her publications include Any Friend of the Movement: Networking for Birth Control 1920–1940 (Ohio State University Press, 2004) and U.S. Aging Policy Interest Groups (Greenwood, 1993), co-edited with the late David D. Van Tassel. Dr. Meyer is the guest curator for a forthcoming exhibit on the history of contraception at the Dittrick Medical History Center in Cleveland, Ohio.

Beverly Wilson Palmer is editor of the letters of Lucretia Mott and Florence Kelley. She has also edited the Selected Letters of Charles Sumner (Northeastern University Press, 1990), the Selected Papers of Thaddeus Stevens (University of Pittsburgh Press, 1997, 1998), and A Woman's Wit and Whimsy: The 1833 Diary of Anna Cabot Lowell Quincy (Northeastern University Press, 2003).

Jennifer E. Stertzer is an assistant editor of the Papers of George Washington at the University of Virginia, where she oversees the production of the digital edition and serves as webmaster for ADE. Her most recent project was assembling a presentation given at the Society for Textual Scholarship's annual conference exploring digital documentary editing.

Brent Tarter is a senior editor in the Division of Publications and Educational Services of the Library of Virginia and a founding editor of the Dictionary of Virginia Biography. He also serves on the Advisory Committee for The Papers of Thomas Jefferson: Retirement Series.
