Issue #54

Spring 2017

President's Message

It is customary that when we experience major accomplishments or milestones in our lives that we have a celebration. If you know the history of Gamma Sigma Delta at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln you probably know that we will celebrate our 99th birthday on May 25, 2017. J. G. Rankin (Iowa) was the installing officer back on May 25, 1918 and as they often say, the rest is history.

Being the Honor Society of Agriculture, it is fitting that we recognize and congratulate all the award nominees and award recipients from our annual banquet. You will read about the fine women and men of Gamma Sigma Delta in our spring newsletter and I encourage you to reach out and congratulate these individuals on their accomplishments in academics, teaching, research, extension, administration, and leadership. I am particularly impressed by our new members, and the experiences and backgrounds of our award recipients at the undergraduate and graduate level at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. I truly believe that the next 99 years of Gamma Sigma Delta are in excellent hands and we look forward to hearing their advancements and developments in the various fields of agriculture and related sciences.

When we celebrate our 100 year anniversary in 2018, we will take a moment to recognize the exceptional women and men who have provided the leadership and advancements the last 100 years. We will also set the course for Gamma Sigma Delta for the next 100 years at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and look to our existing and new members to again chart the course for agriculture and related sciences to move our world into undiscovered advancements to meet the needs of an ever-changing world.

To experience current research developments at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, I invite each of you to attend our Annual Meeting to be held on Thursday, March 30 in Room B101 in Animal Science. All are invited to attend this exciting seminar to learn about the findings and results of Dr. Moxley's efforts in working to reduce the occurrence and public health risks from STEC in beef.

I hope to see you all on Thursday afternoon on March 30 for a productive annual meeting and a very exciting seminar by Dr. Moxley.

In Memoriam

Franklin Eldridge

Franklin Eldridge died January 27, 2017. Eldridge earned a doctorate at Cornell University and was a faculty member at Kansas State University and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. At Nebraska, he also served as associate dean of the School of Agriculture for several years. Franklin was inducted into Gamma Sigma Delta April 1, 1942 while he was at Kansas State University. Dr. Eldridge served the Nebraska Chapter as an officer 1955-57. He authored and published a textbook "The Cytogenetics of Livestock," which became the definitive text in the field. Eldridge served as the president of the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture during his tenure. Glenn Froning

Glenn Froning died January 29, 2017 in Lincoln, Nebraska. Froning obtained a bachelor degree in poultry science at the University of Missouri in 1953; a master's degree in poultry products at the University of Missouri in 1957; and a doctorate in food science at the University of Minnesota in 1961. Glenn was inducted into Gamma Sigma Delta May 9, 1960 while at Minnesota. He was assistant professor of food service at Rutgers University from 1961-1963; assistant professor of poultry science at the University of Connecticut from 1963-1966; and moved to the University of Nebraska in 1966. During the next 30 years, Froning chaired the poultry science department until it combined with animal science. He made a final move to food science and technology in the early 1980s. He was the recipient of many honors and awards throughout his career, including election as a fellow in the Poultry Science Society. Froning served the Nebraska Chapter Gamma Sigma Delta as an Officer 1983-86 and received the Outstanding Research Award in 1988 and the Award of Merit in 1989. Froning is author/co-author of more than 200 scientific publications and articles on poultry meat and eggs. Following his retirement, Froning continued consulting in his professional field with many years as food science and technology adviser to the American Egg Board. Clinton A. Hoover

Clinton A. Hoover died February 23, 2017. Hoover retired as director of the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education after 15 years. Previous to that, acting director of University Extension Division at UNL, acting head of Department of Conferences/Institutes, head of the Hall of Youth University Extension Division, Extension Agronomist-Soils-Cooperative Extension Service UNL and graduate assistant professor of agronomy. He was inducted into the Nebraska Chapter Gamma Sigma Delta May 2, 1955. Clinton was proud of his work with the Japanese agricultural trainee program where he met many wonderful students who were welcomed in their home and who, in turn, hosted them in Japan in 1973. He served on many University boards and committees. Source: http://journalstar.com/lifestyles/announcements/obituaries/hoover/article_dd304c80-9960-54ce-a742-17a70dc11ba4.html

Thomas “Tom” Wesley Dorn

Thomas Dorn died February 21, 2017 in Lincoln, Nebraska. Dorn worked in the Nebraska Extension office and won multiple awards in his career. Dorn attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and graduated in 1974 with a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture. He received his master's degree in agricultural engineering in 1976. After college, Dorn moved to southwestern Kansas and was one of the first crop consultants for Servi-Tech. In 1980, Dorn and his wife moved back to Nebraska as he started a 33 year career with Nebraska Extension. Dorn took on different positions and specialties in his Nebraska Extension career. He worked and lived near Concord, O'Neill, Geneva and Lincoln. Dorn earned Nebraska Extension's annual award for outstanding service in 2007 and the Holling Family Award for Teaching Excellence in Extension in 2008. He was inducted into the Nebraska Chapter of Gamma Sigma Delta November 14, 2004.

Thomas Joseph "Tom" Helms, Sr.

Thomas Helms, Sr. of Starkville, Mississippi, died October 3, 2016. Helms completed his baccalaureate degree at Arkansas State University in 1962, with majors in biological science and mathematics, and received his Master of Science degree from ASU in the spring of 1963. He completed the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1967 at Iowa State University. He was inducted into Gamma Sigma Delta at Iowa State University April 2, 1964. Tom's primary area of emphasis in his graduate studies, and subsequently in his professional teaching and research career, was in the discipline of entomology. This experience was the springboard to his career as an agricultural research administrator from which he retired in the fall of 2002. During his career, Tom held appointments on the faculties of Iowa State University, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, and Mississippi State University. Tom held the position of product development manager with the Monsanto Agricultural Products Company in St. Louis from 1978-80. In 1988, he was appointed as assistant director, later becoming associate director, of the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station service from 1988 until 1996 when he became executive director of the Southern Association of Agricultural Experiment Station Directors. Clayton Yeutter

Clayton Yeutter died at home in Potomac, Maryland, on March 4, 2017. Yeutter earned a B.S. in Animal Husbandry, a J.D. and a Ph.D. (agricultural economics), all from the University of Nebraska with highest academic honors. Clayton was inducted into Nebraska Chapter Gamma Sigma Delta April 16, 1952. Yeutter's first public service involvement was as Chief of Staff to the Governor of Nebraska from 1967-68. He moved as seamlessly among high level positions in both the public and private sectors as has anyone in the U.S. in the post-World War II period. He did so while maintaining the respect and cooperation of friend and political foe alike. He held a Cabinet post (U.S. Trade Representative) under President Reagan, another (Secretary of Agriculture) under President George H.W. Bush, and then had a short stint (1991) as Chairman of the Republican National Committee, before finishing his tenure in government as Counselor to the President, a Cabinet-level White House post, also under President George H. W. Bush. Earlier in his career he held two sub-Cabinet appointments in the Department of Agriculture and then a sub-Cabinet appointment in the Office of the Special Trade Representative. Straddling these public sector undertakings was a seven year tenure as CEO of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. He served as Director of the Nebraska Mission to Colombia, then the largest agricultural technical assistance program in the world. That led him into the U.S. Department of Agriculture, where his mentor, Dr. Clifford Hardin, had become Secretary. Yeutter made his mark in trade negotiations during the second Reagan term. He led the negotiations of what was then an historic U.S. Canada Free Trade Agreement, which later became NAFTA. In contrast to what some American political figures have been saying recently, most independent analysts would rate NAFTA as one of the most successful trade negotiations ever consummated. Yeutter also played a major role in launching the Uruguay Round of negotiations, which culminated in creation of the World Trade Organization. He and his team negotiated a whole host of bilateral agreements, including historic agreements with Japan on semiconductors, beef and citrus. In addition, he was heavily involved in helping persuade the European Union to begin reforms of the Common Agricultural Policy. As Secretary of Agriculture, Yeutter managed the 1990 Farm Bill process, resulting in the most market oriented policy the U.S. had followed since the 1930s.

Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student Award Fund

Your Nebraska Chapter of Gamma Sigma Delta has established a fund at the University of Nebraska Foundation to allow us to expand our recognition of high standards of scholarship to the graduate student ranks. The Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student Award Fund was initiated with a $750 grant from the international Gamma Sigma Delta organization. The fund is an expendable fund at this time; however, our goal is to raise $25,000 to endow it permanently. Your contributions will assist us in reaching this goal.

A Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student Award Selection Committee will organize the application and selection process. Graduate students in Agriculture, Human Sciences, and related sciences who have demonstrated outstanding accomplishment in their teaching, research, or extension endeavors, and great promise for future academic contributions in their field of expertise are eligible.

Please send your donations to the University of Nebraska Foundation at 1010 Lincoln Mall, Suite 300, Lincoln, NE 68508 with the pledge sheet below.

TO: Gamma Sigma Delta Members

SUBJECT: Renewal of Active Membership / Dues for 2017

If you have not already done so, please renew your membership in Gamma Sigma Delta. Please recall that GSD membership is based on the calendar year and runs from January 1 – December 31. In keeping with tradition, I am sending just this single notification for paying your 2017 dues. We are counting on your continuing support of our honorary society. Please be sure to print off and complete the appropriate form and respond today.

Dues are $20 per year. Please make your check ($20 for 2017, or $20 per year for multiple years) payable to Gamma Sigma Delta (please don't mail cash) and send it, along with your completed membership form, to me at one of the addresses indicated.

If you wish to be placed on the GSD inactive list, do not send dues but check the appropriate box on the form and return it to me. If I do not hear from you by July 1, 2017, I will remove your name from our mailing list. You can always return to active membership just by sending me your annual dues. Also, if you know of GSD members who have moved to Nebraska, please send me their name(s) and address(es) or have them contact me so they can become active here. We wish to welcome all of you who have recently transferred into our Nebraska Chapter.

Those of you who have Retired (refer to list next page) or received the Distinguished Service of Agriculture

The following Gamma Sigma Delta members have paid their dues through the calendar year listed with their names. Those of you who have paid dues in advance please check to see if my extension date is correct for your prepaid dues.
