COVER DESIGN:
THE TOWER OF CHILVERS COTON CHURCH
(‘SHEPPERTON’ CHURCH)
by JENNIFER QUY.

‘Shepperton Church was a very different-looking building five-and-twenty years ago. To be sure, its substantial stone tower looks at you through its intelligent eye, the clock, with the friendly expression of former days;.....’

The first two lines of ‘The Sad Fortunes of the Rev. Amos Barton’, George Eliot’s first published fiction.

The Editors do not necessarily agree with the views expressed by contributors, nor does the George Eliot Fellowship accept responsibility for such views.

No part of the REVIEW may be reproduced without the permission of the Editors.

Contributions are invited for the 1989 issue. They may be on any subject relating to George Eliot’s work, life, family or friends. They should be up to 1500 words in length, and it is preferred that footnotes are used only sparingly, if at all. Contributions must be typed (double spacing), and should reach the Editors not later than 28th. February 1989.
