Cover: The year 2012 marks the U.S. Department of Agriculture's 150th anniversary. Agricultural scientists have been making history and improving the quality of Americans' lives ever since the Department was created on May 15, 1862. Here, in his Peoria, Illinois, laboratory, USDA scientist Andrew Moyer discovered the process for mass producing penicillin. To read about this discovery and many more, see story that begins on page 10. (K9422-1)
