POD People helpful to meet:

(There are many more interesting people, but this is a sampling.)

People who served on the TLC Program Review in 1998.

James (Jim) Groccia, University of Missouri-Columbia

Director, Program for Excellence in Teaching, and Assoc. VCAA for Diversity

Jim has added the diversity role at the Assoc. VCAA level to replace K. C. Morrison who recently left.

Kay Herr Gillespie, She was at Colorado State U. and U. of Georgia, but she and her Husband, Frank Gillespie, (also POD) recently moved back to Ft. Collins, CO And are retired but doing consulting and Kay is editing a sourcebook for POD. I think she still edits for Innovation in Higher Education., and is active as past-President of POD.

Constance (Connie) Cook, Director of Center for Research in Learning and Teaching. Their center has a broader mission as they do contract &/or funded research Projects. They have a huge number of TA s and ITAs, and a relatively large staff.
