Abstract

In his Guide to American Indian Documents in the Congressional Serial Set: 1817-1899, Steven L. Johnson enumerated twenty-seven document collections in the American State Papers: Indian Affairs that were not also published, in whole or in part, in the U.S. Congressional Serial Set between the joint publishing years of 1817 and 1827. An additional nine instrument arrays were not counted in his tally of materials available in both of these references, or that appeared only in the American State Papers. This study examines Serial Set volumes in these and in subsequent years through 1994.
