GREAT PLAINS RESEARCH AWARDS

LESLIE HEWES AWARD (1998)

Great Plains Research is pleased to announce the article by Jane H. and Carl E. Bock entitled "Tallgrass Prairie: Remnants and Relicts" is the winner of the Leslie Hewes Award for the best article published in Great Plains Research during the volume year 1998 (Volume 8:1 and 8:2). The annual award includes a cash stipend of $250.

The award is in honor of Leslie Hewes, a former fellow of the Center for Great Plains Studies and Professor of Geography at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, who provided significant scholarship and advisory editorial assistance to the Center. Dr. Hewes was at the University of Oklahoma from 1932 to 1945 and at UNL from 1945 to 1974. He passed away in the spring of 1999.

GREAT PLAINS RESEARCH SCIENCE AWARD (1999)

Great Plains Research presented a $100 award for distinguished scholastic research on a natural or social sciences topic in the Great Plains to Cortny Riblett of Central City High School at the Nebraska Academy of Sciences' Junior Academy of Sciences meeting on 23 April 1999. Her paper was titled "The Immediate Effectiveness of Riparian Buffers and Sewage Treatment Water." Central City High School received a free one-year subscription to GPR in honor of Ms. Riblett's scholarship.
