

University of Nebraska - Lincoln

DigitalCommons@University of Nebraska - Lincoln

---

Journal of the National Collegiate Honors
Council –Online Archive

National Collegiate Honors Council

---

Spring 2021

JNCHC 22:1–About the authors

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.unl.edu/nchcjourn>

Part of the Curriculum and Instruction Commons, Educational Methods Commons, Higher Education Commons, Higher Education Administration Commons, and the Liberal Studies Commons

---

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the National Collegiate Honors Council at DigitalCommons@University of Nebraska - Lincoln. It has been accepted for inclusion in Journal of the National Collegiate Honors Council –Online Archive by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@University of Nebraska - Lincoln.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

OWEN CANTRELL is Assistant Professor of English at Perimeter College, Georgia State University in Alpharetta, GA. He also serves as coordinator of the Georgia State University Prison Education Project, which offers college courses to incarcerated men and women throughout the state of Georgia. Cantrell is the winner of the Portnoy Prize for Outstanding Honors Faculty, Teaching for Social Justice and Democracy Award, and Outstanding Junior Faculty at Perimeter College.

TIM CHRISTENSEN is Senior Faculty Fellow in the East Carolina University Honors College and Associate Professor of Biology at ECU. He holds a PhD in genetics & development from Cornell and is an MFA candidate at ECU. He serves on NCHC committees, and his research is focused on impacts of curriculum on honors students.

ANDREW J. COGNARD-BLACK is the Pandion Haliaetus Professor of Sociology at St. Mary's College of Maryland, and he currently serves on the National Collegiate Honors Council Board of Directors as well as the NCHC Research Committee and Publications Board. He is the Principal Investigator coordinating the Honors Education Consortium project in conjunction with the National Survey of Student Engagement. His research interests include the sociologies of education, work, and social stratification.

TEAL DARKENWALD is Associate Professor at East Carolina University, where she teaches dance, biomechanics, and dance composition. She is also an Honors Fellow in the ECU Honors College. Her scholarship involves interdisciplinary studies in the areas of motion capture, virtual reality, choreography, biofeedback, and biomechanics in dance.

BHIBHA M. DAS is Associate Professor in the Department of Kinesiology and Faculty Fellow in the East Carolina University Honors College. She received her doctorate in kinesiology and community health from the University of Illinois, and her research focuses on physical activity promotion to improve quality of life.

LINDA FROST is Founding Dean of the Honors College at the University of Tennessee, Chattanooga. Currently Co-Chair of the NCHC Publications Board, Frost has been a member of the NCHC Board of Directors, an editorial board member of JNCHC, and editor, with Lisa W. Kay and Rachael Poe, of the monograph Housing Honors. She is, like everyone, weary of wearing masks.

GALIT GERTSENZON is a classical pianist and music educator teaching a variety of courses in the Ball State University Honors College. She received her DMA in piano performance from the University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music. Her scholarly work focuses on the life and music of musicians murdered in the Holocaust, musical expressions in the twentieth century, music and politics, and piano pedagogy. Beyond her active performance and academic career, Gertsenzon owns a large private piano studio. Her students demonstrate performance excellence in local, state, and national piano competitions. She was the 2018 recipient of the Warren Vander Hill Award for distinguished teaching at Ball State University Honors College.

WAYNE GODWIN is Associate Professor in Art and Design at East Carolina University and Director of the Innovation Design Lab, a technology-based environment that uses design thinking to connect academics and industries for new products, processes, and policies.

JERRY HERRON is Dean Emeritus of the Irvin D. Reid Honors College at Wayne State University, a past president of NCHC, and a member of the Publications Board and the editorial board of JNCHC. He is also an NCHC Fellow.

JASON T. HILTON is Director of the Slippery Rock University Honors College and Associate Professor of Education. His research interests include critical pedagogy, technology, and empowerment practices.

ELIZABETH HODGE is Assistant Dean for Innovation and Strategic Initiatives, Professor, and Faculty Fellow in the East Carolina University Honors College. Hodge also serves as Director of Engaged Research; she develops and directs programs that strengthen community connections in eastern North Carolina and generates extramural funding proposals to support engaged scholarship.

JESSICA JORDAN is Education and Teaching Librarian at Slippery Rock University and Assistant Professor in the Library Department. Her research interests include academic libraries, student retention, and research practices.

MATTHEW CAREY JORDAN is the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Dean and Chair for the Humanities at Cuyahoga Community College, where he oversees the college-wide honors program and the Mandel Scholars Academy. He chairs the NCHC Student Interdisciplinary Research Panel planning committee and serves on the executive committee of the Mid-East Honors Association.

CHRISTOPHER KELLER is Dean of the Honors College and Senior International Officer at East Tennessee State University, where he also holds an appointment as professor in the Department of Literature and Language. His research interests focus on twentieth-century American literature, particularly as it relates to the Cold War, as well as on global learning pedagogies and programs in higher education.

ANDREW MARTINO is Dean of the Glenda Chatham & Robert G. Clarke Honors College at Salisbury University, where he is also Professor of English. He is a member of the NCHC Publications Board and the Place as Text Committee. In addition, he has served as President of the Northeast Regional Honors Council.

LUCY MORRISON is Director of the University Honors Program and Professor of English at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. She specializes in British Romantic literature and co-edits European Romantic Review.

JEFFREY A. PORTNOY is Co-Chair of the NCHC Publications Board and General Editor of the NCHC Monograph Series. Awarded the NCHC Founders Award in 2020, he is an NCHC Fellow and recipient of the 2014 Ron Brandolini Award for Excellence at a Two-Year Institution. He is Professor Emeritus of English and Former Associate Dean of the Honors College at Perimeter College of Georgia State University.

ART L. SPISAK is Director Emeritus of the University of Iowa Honors Program. He has served in the NCHC leadership, is an NCHC Fellow, and has been involved with honors education as a faculty member, researcher, and administrator for twenty-five years.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

AARON STOLLER is Director of Academic Programs at Colorado College. He has spent more than a decade in honors education, including serving on NCHC's Diversity and Teaching & Learning Committees. He is an interdisciplinary philosopher whose research focuses on the sociopolitical and epistemic contexts of learning in higher education and the role of universities within democratic knowledge economies.

CARMEN WALKER is an undergraduate student in the East Carolina University Honors College majoring in psychology on the pre-occupational therapy track. Walker is engaged in research in the Eastern North Carolina community focusing on the honors college and psychology.

GERALD WECKESSER is Professor and Faculty Fellow in the East Carolina University Honors College as well as a faculty member in the School of Art and Design overseeing the Woodshop and Digital Fabrication studios. He received his MFA from the University of Massachusetts/Dartmouth focusing on practices in artisanry.

LEAH WHITE is Honors Program Director and Professor of Communication Studies at Minnesota State University, Mankato. She earned a PhD in communication from Arizona State University. Her primary areas of scholarly interest include performance studies, feminist theory, and college student growth and development.

BETSY GREENLEAF YARRISON, who teaches in the Klein Family School of Communications Design at the University of Baltimore, was the founding director of their Helen P. Denit Honors Program. She currently serves as president of the Maryland Collegiate Honors Council and co-chairs NCHC's Awards and Grants Committee and its Education of the Gifted Special Interest Section.