KEEPING IN STEP WITH THE GROWTH OF EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANS

The growth of pension and profit-sharing plans in the United States has been one of the dramatic developments in our recent economic history. These employee retirement programs are commanding the attention of an ever-growing number of companies, their management, their legal counsel.

The Omaha National Bank is serving as trustee of a wide variety of benefit plans, large and small. Attorneys and their clients are invited to draw on the administrative and investment background of our officers in finding sound answers to employee benefit plan problems.

“LAWYER? I haven’t got one!”

We hear this every day in the Trust Department. But it doesn’t discourage us. Because we have yet to meet the man — or woman — who doesn’t know a lawyer. They’re just surprised that we prefer to have their lawyer present while we discuss estate plans...and that we insist upon his drawing the necessary instruments.

Shepard's Citations covers the country from coast to coast and from border to border.

There is a separate Shepard edition for each of the fifty states, one for each unit of the National Reporter System, one for United States Supreme Court cases and one for lower federal court cases. There is also a special edition covering federal labor law citations. Together, these more than sixty publications indicate the history and interpretation of state appellate and federal court cases, Labor Relations Board decisions and federal departmental reports and the legislative history and judicial interpretation of state and federal statutes on a nationwide basis.

The importance of these publications to you can be measured in terms of the value to you of authoritative cases or statutes pertinent to the problems you must resolve.

Use them and you will agree that in amazingly compact yet readily usable form they contain a wealth of information meeting fully the citation requirements of the Bench and Bar throughout the entire country.
