Scholarly Communication: From Understanding to Engagement

INTRODUCTORY DISCUSSION UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA-LINCOLN, LINCOLN, NE JULY 12, 2017

To set the tone for the day, please introduce yourselves and start sharing!

1. Brainstorm with the people around you some common questions about scholarly communications that you are asked or that you wonder about.
2. With your colleagues, choose one or two you would like to share with the wider group.
3. Reflect on how you might prepare yourself to answer the questions in the future. What resources or data will you need; who can you collaborate with at your institution or at other institutions?
4. Brainstorm potential responses to faculty, students or administrators who may ask the question (time permitting).
