Basis Patterns for Selected Sites in Nebraska for Corn, Wheat, Sorghum and Soybeans

Project Director: Lynn H. Lutgen
Project Assistant: Diane Wasser

Issued in furtherance of Cooperative Extension work, Acts of May 8 and June 30, 1914, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Elbert C. Dickey, Dean and Director of Cooperative Extension, University of Nebraska, Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

It is the policy of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln not to discriminate on the basis of gender, age, disability, race, color, religion, marital status, veteran's status, national or ethnic origin or sexual orientation.

The following publication contains corn basis patterns for several towns in Nebraska. The basic price information was collected through electronic media. The listing includes towns that are representative of different geographic locations in Nebraska. The amount of data varies among locations. This publication will be updated each year by adding a year's data to each location which will allow the user to observe changes in the basis patterns over time.

Why is Basis Important?

The understanding of basis is extremely important to the producer who wishes to forward price corn production. Basis is important in the evaluation of Hedging, Cash Contracts, Basis Contracts, and Hedge to Arrive Contracts. An example is corn held in storage in November that the producer plans to sell in May. This is formally known as a selling storage hedge. In hedging, the producer is establishing in advance the price to be received when the grain is sold and the hedge is lifted. The price that is received when the commodity is sold on the futures market is not the actual price the producer will ultimately receive. The futures price is the Chicago price for grain, not the Nebraska price, therefore, there will be an adjustment made in the Chicago price. This adjustment is the basis. The basis can cause the producer to either gain an additional profit or receive a lower price for the product than anticipated when the hedge was placed. An understanding of the basis enables the producer to evaluate forward cash contract offers and hedge to arrive contracts, in addition to hedging opportunities.

What is Basis?

Basis is the difference between the Chicago futures price and the spot cash price at a specific local market at a particular time. For an individual producer to determine the basis that is relevant, he must determine what the futures price is and then obtain a spot cash price from the local market where he intends to market his crop. The Basis is determined by subtracting the future price from the local spot cash price. The result is the basis or the localized future price in the area. The formula used for this is: local cash price - futures price = local basis. The producer should be aware that the narrower or smaller the basis at the time the hedge is liquidated, the higher his return will be. A positive basis would add an additional unexpected profit over the price position established by the futures price.

Example:

If the basis for corn in Beatrice on September 20, 2001, was minus 32 cents and on December 13, 2001, it had narrowed to minus 17 cents.

The study of past basis movements and their patterns can be useful in understanding future market opportunities. For example, a producer who hedges corn in June on the December futures must be able to estimate what the December basis will be when they lift their hedge and sell the grain on the cash market. It is for these reasons that this information has been compiled and hopefully will be of use to the producer who forward prices corn. When evaluating the following basis information, keep in mind how the basis for each location was formulated. The cash prices used are the Thursday closing prices at the local elevator. Futures prices are the near-by contract month's closing price.

The Chicago Board of Trade Future prices are used for corn, soybeans, and sorghum. The Kansas City Board of Trade future price is used for wheat.

CORN

The near-by contract months for corn are December, March, May, July and September. To calculate the basis, each Thursday's local cash price has the near-by contract month's futures price subtracted from it.

The towns in this publication are:

Beatrice	Belgrade	Bloomfield
Brule	Columbus	Council Bluffs
Dix	Duncan	Elm Creek
Fremont	Greenwood	Grand Island
Holdrege	Kimball	Lexington
Manley	Murdock	Nora
Ogallala	Omaha	Osceola
Plymouth	Schuyler	Silver Creek
Superior	Tarnov	Wakefield
Waverly	Wayne

SOYBEANS

The near-by contract months for Soybeans are January, March, May, July, August, September and November. To calculate the basis, each Thursday's near-by contract month's futures price is subtracted from the local cash price.

The towns included in this publication are:

Beatrice	Belgrade	Columbus
Council Bluffs	Duncan	Elm Creek
Fremont	Grand Island	Greenwood
Holdrege	Lexington	Manley
Murdock	Omaha	Osceola
Plymouth	Schuyler	Silver Creek
Superior	Tarnov	Waverly
Wayne

SORGHUM

The formula used for sorghum is local cash sorghum price - corn futures price = local sorghum basis. The producer should be aware that the narrower or smaller the basis is at the time the hedge is liquidated, the higher the price received will be.

The near-by contract months for Sorghum are December, March, May, July and September. To calculate the basis, each Thursday's near-by contract month's futures price is subtracted from the local cash price.

The towns included in this publication are:

Beatrice	Grand Island	Greenwood
Holdrege	Manley	Murdock
Plymouth	Superior	Waverly

WHEAT

The near-by contract months are December, March, May, July and September. To calculate the basis, each Thursday's near-by contract month's futures price is subtracted from the local cash price.

Towns included in this publication are:

Beatrice	Belgrade	Brule
Council Bluffs	Columbus	Dix
Duncan	Grand Island	Greenwood
Holdrege	Kimball	Lexington
Manley	Murdock	Ogallala
Omaha	Osceola	Plymouth
Schuyler	Superior	Tarnov
Waverly
