THE SPRING 1993 OCCURRENCE REPORT

Three hundred one species, plus the possibility that the Traill's Flycatchers reported by Mrs. Ott in Cuming and Lancaster counties included both Alder and Willow Flycatchers, and that the Empidonax sp. included species not specifically reported, were reported from 41 counties. Mrs. Ott is a bird bander, and their official reports continue the Traill's classification, rather than recognizing the split into Alder and Willow Flycatchers.

The symbols used in the table are:

Ja, Fe, Mr, Ap, My, and Je for the months.

- P or p for a species which is present all year, although the same individuals may not be present all year, and the numbers present may vary greatly.

- S or s for a species which remained past Je 30.

W - or w for a species which was present before Ja 1.

The reporters are authorized to use P, S and W in their reports, but where dates are provided and they give the same message (Ja xx and Je xx = P) the dates are given in preference to the symbol. The lower case symbols (p, s, w) are used in counties with infrequent visits to call attention to that fact.

c is shown in the Polk column to indicate records in Clay Co.

Cedar is shown in the Dakota column for a record in Cedar Co., described under Cedar Co.

Dixon is shown in the Dakota column for a record in Dixon Co., described under Dixon Co.

d is shown in the Cuming column to indicate records in Dodge Co.

h is shown in the Perkins column to indicate records in Hooker Co.; in the Howard column to indicate records in Hall Co.

The numbers and "add" in the left columns have no significance other than to identify the lines in the tables.

Phelps, 62 species, Richard C. Rosche, reporter, Dorothy J. Rosche, two dates reported: Mr. 5 and Ap 11

Polk (and parts of adjacent counties), 132 species, plus the possibility that the Yellowlegs sp. was a Lesser, that the Shrike sp. was a Northern, and that the Meadowlark sp. was an Eastern, Norris Alfred, reporter, Lee Morris. Nine observations in Clay co. Mr 7 are shown in this column as "c".

Saunders, 111 species, Fr. Thomas Hoffman, reporter. He commented: numbers of individuals of some species are way down. E. g. all woodpeckers, notably Flickers and Downies, Eastern Kingbirds, Song Sparrows, Warbling Vireos were notably scarce. Dickcissels came very late, but seem to be abundant again after a few years of scarcity. The Great Horned Owl I recorded was observed on a nest for six successive weekends. By the time I found the nest, the nestling was already good-size and active.

Sarpy (includes Douglas), 192 species and the possibility that the Empidonax sp. was one not reported, R. G. Cortelyou, Larry Einemann, Ruth Green, Clyde Johnson, Babs and Loren Padelford, reporters, Dot Duda, Diane Guinn, Craig Hensley, Emma Johnson, Neal Ratzlaff, Alice Rushton, Kathleen Rose, Julie Schroeder, Jerry Toll, Steve Workman, One of the two swans seen on Cunningham Lake had an orange marker on the right wing.

Scotts Bluff, 163 species, Alice Kenitz and Richard C. Rosche, reporters, Sue Amiotte, Felix and Lucy Koenig, Brad McKinney, Dorothy J. Rosche, Nora Mae Vance.

Sheridan, 162 species, Richard C. Rosche, reporter, Sheila Orr, Dorothy J. Rosche, Bruce L. and Donna J. Walgren. The two Tree Swallows Mr 27 were the earliest Mr. Rosche had had in Nebraska.

Sioux, 114 species, Richard C. Rosche, reporter, Dorothy J. Rosche. ~~Six~~ dates reported: Fe 19, Ap 2, 22, and 23, and My 11 and 16.

Thomas, 134 species, Tanya Bray, reporter, Duane Bright. Mrs. Bray was at the National Forest headquarters Ja 23 - 25, Ap 2 - 5, and My, 7 on.

The following comments were taken from Mr. Rosche's comments on central and western Nebraska for American Birds:

Common Loons were generally scarce this year and in small numbers. Greater White-fronted Geese were unusually common and widespread. On the ABA meeting field trips March 9 - 12 to the Rainwater Basin area south of Grand Island, many Ross' Geese were seen in with the thousands of Snow Geese. Every large group of Snows that could be seen reasonably well with a scope contained Ross'. Cinnamon Teal were unusually more common, widespread, and earlier. Red-breasted Mergansers were unusually more common and widespread. Northern Bobwhites were much more common and noticeable in both the North and South Platte valleys, extending into Colorado. Sandhill Cranes were much more abundant and widespread. Black Terns were very scarce. Pinyon Jays were very scarce in the Pine Ridge. Red-breasted Nuthatches were more common than usual all spring.
